BONE DEMANDS SENATE PROBE OF A U.S. 'OGPU'

Assails "Spying" by New Dealers.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Senator Homer T. Bone [Dem., Wash.] today urged a senate investigation of the "nascent and budding OGPU" in the government departments, which he said might become "the instrument of tyranny in the hands of ambitious men."

The New Dealers have often been charged with terrorism and oppression, especially since the inception of the Black inquisition, but Senator Bone was the first New Dealer to make such charges. He accused the undercover operatives of the government departments of "a low form of spying and general espionage" on members of congress.

Meanwhile the listless, anxious-to-go-home senate passed without a record vote and with little opposition the Wheeler bill drastically increasing the inquisitorial powers of the federal trade commission and permitting the President to use that agency as an instrument of harassment.

Cites Newspaper Article.

Senator Bone called attention to an article in a Washington newspaper condemning the espionage system employed by the WPA, the PWA, Prof. Tugwell's resettlement administration, and other New Deal bureaus.

"I am advised of at least one such instance, which seemed an utterly indefensible case of this very thing," he declared. "I am concerned over the fact that such practices exist. If they are not checked by the salutary force of public opinion they might readily lend themselves to the most odious form of oppression and coercion and might easily become the basis for what might amount to political blackmail.

"What is to prevent such practices from being used to coerce members of congress into attitudes favorable to the ends sought by the people who control these undercover operatives? If the activities of these are not brought to light, what is to prevent them from becoming the instruments of tyranny in the hands of ambitious men?

May Seek Investigation.

"In the near future I shall have something more to say about this matter, and probably offer a resolution looking to an investigation by the senate, to determine the extent to which its own members may have been the object of attentions at the hands of this nascent and budding OGPU.

"I think that an official investigation would be a healthful thing, and it would give an opportunity to the super-sleuths to come before the committee, where the bright light of publicity could and would be turned on their work."

During the recent controversy between Senator Rush Holt [Dem., W. Va.] and Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, over the relief frauds and political corruption in West Virginia, the senator charged that his office desk had been jimmied and his papers ransacked. Several other senators who have been most actively opposing various activities of the New Deal have stated privately that they were certain their telephone wires had been tapped and their files rifled. They refrained from making the charges publicly, however, because of the difficulty of proving them.

Recall Ickes' 300 Agents.

Senator Bone did not specify the government departments whose undercover operatives have been spying and attempting coercion, but it is known that Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes had 300 so-called investigators in his department, headed by Louis L. Glavis. There are 98 in the WPA, under Mr. Hopkins, and 46 in the resettlement administration, under Prof. Tugwell.

Senator Wallace White [Rep., Me.] denounced the federal trade commission bill on the grounds that it would permit the President or either house of congress to use the trade commission as "an instrument of harassment of individuals and corporations." He pointed out that the commission was a quasi-judicial establishment and said it should be kept independent of the executive and legislative branches.

Senator Warren Austin [Rep., Vt.], while agreeing in principle with some features of the bill, objected to the effort by legislative fiat to prevent judicial review of the commission's findings.

MADRID RIOTERS BATTLE POLICE; BURN CHURCHES

Poisoned Candy Tale Inflames Mobs.

Dictatorship?

Investors storm banks in France to withdraw money before new socialist government takes power. Some form of dictatorship to save franc regarded as likely. Details on page 5.

BY HENRY BUCKLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, May 4.—A whispering campaign spreading rumors that seven children had died in Madrid hospitals from eating poisoned candy distributed by Fascists on May day led to fierce rioting in Cuatro Caminos, Madrid suburb, today. The interior ministry denied that any children had died from poisoning.

More than 30 persons, including a French woman who had an ear torn off by the hysterical mob, were injured. Three religious schools and convents and two churches were attacked by firebrands. Elsewhere in the most violent anti-clerical rioting in Spain since the left election victory in February rioters set fire to more than a dozen Roman Catholic churches, schools, and monasteries. Two nuns were wounded as they came into the line of fire as they led children from a burning convent school.

Mob Drags Old Woman.

To evade an iron censorship which seeks to suppress all news of disorders in Spain, THE TRIBUNE correspondent motored through the rebellious zone during the height of the rioting and was an eyewitness to scenes almost incredible in the twentieth century.

One of the first things seen was an old woman dressed in black, her face horribly bruised, being dragged along a village street by the mob. She was holding a biscuit tin in one hand and the mob was yelling that she had been giving poisoned biscuits to children.

Suddenly a handful of civil guards, clubbing right and left with rifles, plunged into the mob and rescued the old woman. The crowd seized the biscuits, scattered them in the street and stamped them into the mud.

Two American news-reel cameramen were roughly handled by the mob in Cuatro Caminos. One had his film taken away and camera damaged.

Caught in Own Fire.

Mob hysteria reached such a pitch that one young man, suspected of being a Fascist, was nearly beaten to death because he was found carrying a box of serum tubes. He was saved by a Socialist deputy who persuaded the mob to relinquish the victim to police until the serum could be sent to the municipal laboratory for analysis.

Despite efforts of 200 civil guards with rifles a mob fired a church attached to the School of Los Angeles, which tonight was still blazing furiously. Four youths who entered the school to fire it were cut off by the flames. When police finally battered down a side door they found three unconscious from smoke and the fourth so badly burned he was expected to die.

The Pilar convent and school and the neighboring churches were badly gutted and the Concepcion school, founded by a marquis and run by monks—a magnificent modern building in the pine woods on the outskirts of Madrid—were blazing merrily tonight.

Reds Combat Burnings.

In front of the town hall of San Martin a communist orator was haranguing a mob of 2,000, mostly women.

"You are fools to burn schools," the communist shouted. "You should seize them and expropriate them for your children."

"If we do not burn the buildings the Jesuits will come back," women shouted back at him.

No trains could leave Madrid tonight, when engineers declared a sympathy strike with station employes, who are demanding higher pay. There was also a strike of officers of the merchant marine.

Three churches and two rectories were destroyed by incendiaries in Cadiz. In two villages priests were driven from town and warned they would be killed if they returned. Delayed reports from Palencia said one Fascist was killed in disturbances Sunday.

Ten Autoists Jailed by New Trafic Judge

Ten men were given Bridewell sentences on drunken and reckless driving charges by Judge Gibson E. Gorman of the Municipal court yesterday, his first day as presiding judge in the Safety court, to which are referred all cases involving serious trafic offenses.

Judge Gorman, who succeeded Judge Eugene L. McGarry—himself a frequent dispenser of jail sentences—opened court with this announcement:

"This murder on the streets has to be stopped, and I am going to do what I can to prevent it, even though I may not be popular with certain elements. I am going to give severe punishment to defendants charged with reckless driving and with driving while intoxicated."

First Man Up, Ten Days.

Thomas Kopecky, 24 years old, 1802 North Wilmot avenue, charged with drunken driving, was the first defendant sentenced. He admitted having had four drinks of whisky and two of beer before he crashed his car into a parked automobile at 7547 Irving Park boulevard Saturday night, injuring Mrs. Lydia Nomaka of Norwood township. Judge Gorman sentenced him to ten days.

The other nine men, the charges against them, and their sentences, are:

TONY RAKIOVITZ, 24 years old, 11803 Emerald avenue, reckless driving, 20 days.

JOSEPH NEZROLECK, 25 years old, 2029 West 19th street, reckless driving and driving while intoxicated, 30 days.

RUDOLPH HAROLD, 29 years old, 4301 Wentworth avenue, reckless driving, 5 days.

HENRY SCHAFER, 31 years old, 3037 Logan boulevard, reckless driving, 10 days.

OTTO ROESSLER, 32 years old, 3529 Castello avenue, reckless driving, 10 days.

STANLEY MARSH, 4042 Cermak road, reckless driving, 5 days.

STEVE SZREZINSKI, 47 years old, 4420 South California avenue, reckless driving, 10 days.

GUY WHITLOCK, 44 years old, 5055 West 52d street, driving while intoxicated, 20 days.

HENRY AHRENS, 54 years old, 3211 Franklin boulevard, reckless driving, 10 days.

All except Ahrens, who asked for time to make provision for his business and was given a two days' respite, were sent to jail immediately.

17 Year Old American Girl to Fight Bulls in Spain

LIMA, Peru, May 4.—(AP)—Miss Consuelo Cintron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cintron, American citizens here, sailed for Spain today for contract performances in various bullfight rings. The 17 year old girl learned to fight bulls in the Portuguese style with elaborately adorned darts. She is a granddaughter of Mrs. A. Hyatt Verill, author of travel and historical books.

CHICAGO WOMAN RAINS $600 WINNING ON PARK MOB IN MONTE CARLO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTE CARLO, May 4.—Mrs. Vera Hall of Chicago created a near riot today when she suddenly appeared on the steps of the Monte Carlo casino and flung more than $600 worth of 100 franc and Louis [20 franc] chips into the street crying:

"Take it. Maybe it will help some one in need. Besides, I have plenty more."

Loungers on the "Cheese"—the circular park fronting on the casino—rushed into the street when Mrs. Hall threw the first handful. The doorman and attendants mixed with the loungers in scrambling for the chips while Mrs. Hall opened her bag and rained handfuls on their heads. Casino habitues say she had been lucky at roulette. She was described as young and good looking, and is living at San Remo.

[Mrs. Hall's Chicago address could not be ascertained last night.]

LINERS STOP AT SEA TO SEND GIRL STOWAWAY HOME

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

ABOARD THE AMERICAN EXPORT LINER EXETER AT SEA, May 4.—Fighting to throw herself overboard, a beautiful Italian girl stowaway was transferred in a tossing motor lifeboat to this vessel tonight from the New York bound Exochorda of the same line. Passengers and crews of both vessels watched the thrilling spectacle as the lifeboat sped through drizzling rain along a silver lane laid by the searchlights of the liners, hove to a quarter of a mile apart.

By the time the boat came alongside the Exeter, the girl was seasick and was hoisted aboard unresisting in a chair. On Monday she will be put ashore at Naples, where she boarded the Exochorda Wednesday, April 29.

The girl said she was Lucia Gambrino, 30 years old. Her parents are dead and she had been living with two brothers and two sisters at Genoa. She was a seamstress but had long been out of work, and saw no prospect of ever earning a living. She had heard fabulous stories about the United States, she said, and "I desired to go there."

She hid in an empty cabin on the Exochorda, living on fruit and crackers. An officer discovered her Sunday. Capt. S. F. Ransone of the Exeter gave instructions to keep the girl in the ship's hospital.

Lindheimer Resigns Post Under Horner

Benjamin F. Lindheimer's resignation as chairman of the Illinois commerce commission was accepted by Gov. Horner last night.

It was reported that Lindheimer would be succeeded in this post—regarded as the choicest of the governor's patronage plums—either by James M. Slattery, Horner's Cook county manager in the primary campaign, or by Irvin Rooks, attorney for the commission.

Resignation Mailed Feb. 11.

Mr. Lindheimer mailed his resignation on Feb. 11, requesting that it become effective not later than May 1 and stating that it had become necessary for him to devote all his time to his real estate business. He said last night that he will extend his business to New York, opening an office there and dividing his time between New York and Chicago.

In his letter of Feb. 11 Mr. Lindheimer reminded the governor that he had asked to be relieved of his duties on two prior occasions—in November, 1934, and September, 1935.

When he was appointed in the spring of 1933 he informed Horner that he did not wish to remain in office long. But each time he tried to resign the governor prevailed upon him to stay.

Utility Program Carried Out.

Accounting for his stewardship, Lindheimer pointed out to the governor in his resignation letter that "every objective in the utility program announced in your inaugural speech is an accomplished fact." Utility rate reductions totaling millions annually have been ordered by the commission during Lindheimer's tenure.

In accepting the resignation Gov. Horner paid tribute to Lindheimer's service and confirmed the fact that private business had made necessary his retirement.

Cardinal to Give Banquet for Pope on 79th Birthday

VATICAN CITY, May 4.—(AP)—Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli will give a banquet in the Vatican May 31 in celebration of Pope Pius' 79th birthday anniversary. Guests at the dinner will be diplomats accredited to the Holy See and important church dignitaries. The last banquet given in the Vatican was on April 15, 1934, to celebrate the successful conclusion of the holy year.

Selassie Sails for Palestine on a Warship

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland, May 4.—(AP)—Ethiopia's fleeing Emperor Haile Selassie and his family left Africa today for refuge in Palestine.

The little ruler—now an emperor in name only—steamed from this port toward Haifa aboard the British cruiser Enterprise en route to Jerusalem.

A few hours after the fugitive emperor had departed Ras Nasibu, Haile Selassie's commander on the southern front, and Wehib Pasha, his Turkish general staf officer, arrived in Djibouti. Later the two fugitives fled to British Somaliland. Thus the last organized resistance of the Ethiopians to the Italian conquest appears to have collapsed.

Emperor's Hopes Dashed.

Haile Selassie, tired and apparently heartsick after his futile seven months' battle against the invading Italians, was represented as holding little hope of ever returning to rule over his empire.

Informed sources pointed out, however, that despite his dramatic flight from Addis Ababa, the emperor has not formally abdicated and in name at least is still emperor of Ethiopia and "king of kings."

A heavy detail of Senegalese warriors stood guard while the emperor and his family spent last night in the governor's palace here after their arrival by train from Addis Ababa.

Blames Revolt for Defeat.

The negus was said to blame a revolt among his own tribesmen for the collapse of his government, rather than the armed might of the Italians.

The emperor, who chose Palestine as a place of refuge, is not a stranger in the Holy Land.

As "conquering lion of Judah," Haile Selassie, a Christian, visited Palestine in 1924 on a pilgrimage. The Empress Mennen was there in 1933, where she saw the consecration of Trinity church and an Ethiopian convent on the banks of the Jordan.

Eden Explains King's Flight.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 4.—Capt. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, announced in parliament tonight that Emperor Haile Selassie sailed from Djibouti, French Somaliland, for Palestine on the British cruiser Enterprise. He said more than 2,000 refugees, representing 23 different nationalities, are being taken care of by the British legation in Addis Ababa.

Referring to the Ethiopian emperor's flight to Palestine on a British warship, Capt. Eden said:

"The British felt it incumbent upon them to grant his request in so far as it lay in their power."

Haile Selassie, the foreign secretary said, had renounced the direction of Ethiopian affairs.

"The emperor naturally will be expected, while in Palestine, not to participate in any way in the furtherance of hostilities," he added.

'HOLD THE FORT' IN ADDIS ABABA DESPITE ORDER

Hull Tells Minister to Evacuate.

BULLETIN.

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland, May 5 (Tuesday).—(AP)—Ethiopia's only railroad was reported cut early today at Mojjo, 30 miles from Addis Ababa. The cutting of the railroad was considered here as presumably impeding the progress of French colonial troops sent to the aid of refugees in the French legation at the Ethiopian capital. The French minister appealed for quick aid and said that food was scarce at the legation which was surrounded by bands of pillagers.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 4.—A grim band of 53 Americans and natives tonight continued to defend the American legation at Addis Ababa against attacks by marauding Ethiopians despite orders from Secretary of State Hull to abandon the diplomatic mission.

Secretary Hull instructed Cornelius Van H. Engert, American minister at Addis Ababa, to accept an offer of British assistance to evacuate the compound and take shelter in the British legation. Engert notified the state department that he felt the legation should not be evacuated except as a last resort.

The Americans repulsed two onslaughts during the day. The armed Ethiopian rioters not only attacked the American legation, but stormed other foreign legations in the Ethiopian capital for the third successive day.

Unable to Spare Troops.

The American minister appealed for reënforcements from the British legation after staving off attacks by the rioters. Robert W. Bingham, the American ambassador in London, informed the state department that owing to the critical conditions in Addis Ababa the British legation was unable to spare a detachment of Sikhs [British-Indian troops], but would send a convoy to evacuate the American legation. The offer was accepted by the state department, but Engert declined to leave.

A force of 250 Sikhs is patroling and guarding the British legation.

Engert had notified Secretary Hull that his force could hold out until tomorrow, but perhaps no longer. The secretary replied that the safety of the occupants of the legation was the paramount factor and that none of them should hesitate to leave.

The American minister had sent two messengers out of the legation to carry the appeal for help to Sir Sidney Barton, the British minister, whose quarters are four miles away in Addis Ababa. The messengers, however, were driven back into the legation by the rioters.

President Roosevelt was kept informed of the situation, but no comment was forthcoming from the White House.

Messages Indicate Danger.

The seriousness of the plight of the beleagured Americans was evident from one of Engert's messages to the state department. It said:

"British legation apparently unable get in touch with us.

"Feel confident we can at least hold out until tomorrow, as situation has not changed for worse this afternoon owing to rain, even slightly improved.

"Government building of old Ghibbi [the native name for the old imperial palace] appeared to be on fire.

"My staf behaving splendidly despite great strain."

Calls for Sikh Soldiers.

"With the assistance of a few Sikhs and one Lewis gun we could hold this legation if the Italians arrive within a few days," read Engert's earlier appeal to the state department.

Engert in another message described the heroism of his little band in driving back the bandits.

The first attack came at 9 o'clock in the morning when the plunderers from behind trees concentrated rifle fire on the legation's two gates, "peppering with bullets the back yard where Mrs. Engert and a young American named John Spencer, financial adviser to the Ethiopian government, happened to be standing," according to the minister's dispatch.

Engert said that the attack was made on a "depleted garrison." Vice Consul William M. Cramp had gone to a hospital two miles away, the consul said, and because of the hazardous trip had taken with him Tanner, the chief radio man, a chauffeur, two native legation guards and five rifles. Two newspaper men and Hal Duberrier, soldier of fortune and former Chicago and Rockford, Ill., aviator, had gone to look for the Italians.

"It is extremely likely that the bandits had been watching departures since last night and had concluded that the place had been practically evacuated," continued Engert.

Engert said the native servants and cooks rushed to defend the gates with only a few revolvers, spears and swords until the rest of the legation's man power arrived with pistols and shotguns.

Ethiopians Driven Off.

"After a brisk exchange of shots, in the course of which at least one bandit was either killed or wounded, they were driven off," the minister related.

He added that two native women in the servants' quarters were severely wounded in the fighting. Another attack was made by the Ethiopians in the afternoon. This also was repulsed by gunfire.

Engert praised his comrades, William Lee Pitts and Cecil F. Cavanah, naval radio men; Vice Consul Robert L. Hunter, Spencer and a Russian clerk named Hartman.

"The whole incident proves once again that a few armed white men can easily hold their own provided their opponents are not in overwhelming numbers," said Engert.

An American woman, Mrs. A. R. Stadin, medical missionary of Loma Linda, Cal., was killed by a stray bullet as she slept in her bed early yesterday.

Mutineers Attack French Legation.

PARIS, May 4.—(AP)—Armed trucks from the French and British legations in riot torn Addis Ababa went out on the streets tonight in search of dead and wounded, the French minister advised his government by wireless.

The minister, Paul Bodard, also reported that an Italian airplane fell into Addis Ababa but gave no details.

Earlier, the minister said, Ethiopian soldiers on guard duty at the French legation mutinied and attacked the building. Later messages from him disclosed that trucks had been sent out from the legation so it was believed here the threat had been withstood.

Guard 2,000 Refugees.

Bodard said there are 2,000 foreign refugees in the French legation, which underwent a night long seige.

A Greek movie proprietor was killed by looters. Hope was expressed by the minister that Italian troops would enter the city tomorrow.

All Addis Ababa, the minister advised, was occupied by mutinous soldiers armed with machine guns. He expressed fear they planned a mass assault on foreign legations, having already looted native quarters.

British Missionary Shot.

ADDIS ABABA, May 4.—(AP)—Alfred Buxton, a British missionary, was slightly wounded in the leg, and two Ethiopian women with him in a truck were killed today by bandits pouring through the streets of the capital.

Much of the city was looted. Fires destroyed the heart of the city. White flags flew from many of the untouched houses while their occupants hoped the Italian army soon would arrive and restore order.

Although the Fascist forces still have not made their appearance, reports from the outskirts of the city said an advance guard had reached the Akaki river, ten miles from the capital, last night.

Desperadoes Enter Capital.

A band of desperadoes, most of them Galla warriors, entered the city from the surrounding hills, roaming the streets and endangering the lives of citizens and foreigners.

A rescue party from the British legation found five persons dead in front of the Turkish legation, where defenders fled after an attack from rioters armed with rifles and machine guns. The British ambulance collected and attended more than 300 Ethiopians wounded yesterday.

A taxicab loaded with stolen goods was driven into the British compound this morning and offered for sale to the very people from whom the goods had been stolen. The entire load was confiscated.

A young Belgian reached the compound in a state of exhaustion after escaping with a British rescue party from his house. He had stood off a gang of looters armed with machine guns.

Beside him, until the rescue party arrived, had fought two companions. They fired into the besieging mob until their ammunition ran out, then raced through a rain of bullets and jumped into the rescue party's truck.

Berwyn J. P. Is Seized on Order of Prosecutor

John Bauer, justice of the peace in Berwyn, was taken into custody yesterday by Forest Park police at the request of Assistant State's Attorney William J. Lancaster and held without charge. Lancaster said the state's attorney's office had a number of complaints against Bauer from litigants in his court, and that Bauer had ignored letters asking for an explanation for several months. Several litigants, Lancaster said, notified him they were unable to regain bonds posted in Bauer's court.

American Ex-Teacher Drops His Diplomatic Pen for Sword

Washington, D. C., May 4.—(AP)—A quiet, bespectacled ex-school teacher laid aside diplomatic pen today to take up the sword in defense of his east African legation.

He was Cornelius Van H. Engert, American minister to Ethiopia, of Dutch parentage, native of Vienna, Austria, and a naturalized American citizen.

He led the defense of the legation at Addis Ababa against a shooting band of natives turned marauders as Italian troops neared the mountain capital.

Wife at Envoy's Side.

At his side in the heat and smoke of the siege was his wife, who remained to encourage the native servants, with their families huddled in the American compound. The Engert children—an 11 year old boy and 7 year old daughter—yesterday were taken, with others, to the comparative safety of the British legation. The children were brought to Addis Ababa with a governess several weeks ago to visit their father.

Manning rifles with Engert and others in the compound was one of his vice consuls and Robert Leland Hunter, 31, of Milbank, S. D. The other vice consul, W. M. Cramp, was in a hospital.

Mrs. Engert is the former Sara Morrison Cunningham of San Francisco, Cal., and a niece of the late Mrs. Whitelaw Reid of New York. She met her husband in San Francisco, from which city he was appointed to the American diplomatic service in 1912.

Engert, a lean man of slight stature, is 49 years old and one of the few persons in the American diplomatic service of foreign parentage.

Studied in Switzerland.

He attended the University of California, where he later was a teacher in history, and also Harvard university. There also were periods of schooling in Switzerland.

He was appointed to the American diplomatic service as a student interpreter at the embassy in Turkey on March 12, 1912, and served as interpreter to the American consulate general at Constantinople until 1914, when he was assigned as vice consul in that city. He later served details as vice consul in Bagdad, Syria, and in Palestine.

It was during his early years of service in this territory that he acquired the intimate knowledge which qualified him as one of the state department's outstanding experts on near eastern affairs.

He served later as a secretary of legation at The Hague, was returned to Constantinople in 1919 and the following year was assigned to Teheran, Iran [Persia]. Subsequent posts were at Havana, San Salvador, Santiago, Caracas, Peiping, and Cairo.

Envoy Recently Promoted.

It was while serving as secretary in the American legation at Cairo that Engert was appointed last spring to his present post. He first went to Addis Ababa as charge d'affaires of the legation and recently was promoted to the full rank of minister.

Cramp entered the American foreign service in June, 1931 as a clerk in the American consulate at Cairo. In October of that year he was assigned to Istanbul as a vice consul and there passed examinations qualifying him as a secretary in the diplomatic service. He served in Belize, British Honduras, in 1932, London in 1933 and was assigned to Addis Ababa in July, 1934, where he became third secretary of the legation.

Hunter Served in Canada.

Hunter entered the foreign service in 1928 after serving for a year in the United States immigration service. His first assignment was as a clerk in the American consulate at Winnipeg, Canada. A year later he was made vice consul there.

He served successively at Windsor, Canada, in 1931 and at Bagdad in 1934, where he was made a vice consul. He was transferred from that post to Addis Ababa.

WOMAN LOSES $500 ON ANCIENT SWINDLING TRICK

Distributing $12,000 among the needy seemed like a good idea to Mrs. Mary De Stifano, 2440 North Harlem avenue, Elmwood Park, when two men suggested it last week. She agreed to help them with the distribution and promised to deposit $500 of her own money as evidence of her good faith.

On Friday she met the men by appointment in Lincoln park near Center street and gave them $500. One of the men, whom she knew only as "Louis," told her they would call at her home yesterday to give her credentials and part of the money to be used for the poor.

Mrs. De Stifano waited all day for the promised bounty, but the men failed to appear. Then she told the story to the Hudson avenue police.

Orders Arrest of Father and 'Nurse' of Drawer Baby

Frank Giaruso Jr., the 6 month old baby who was left in a bureau drawer at 72 West Huron street Saturday night while his mother danced in taverns, was returned to St. Vincent's orphanage by Judge Leon Edelman yesterday in the Domestic Relations court. Judge Edelman continued to May 20 a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor against the mother, Mrs. Dorothy Giaruso, 19 years old, and issued warants for Edwin Young, 355 West Madison street, with whom Mrs. Giaruso said she had left the baby, and for the child's father, Frank Giaruso, charged with nonsupport. After the hearing Miss Bernadine Healy of the orphanage said she had a position for Mrs. Giaruso where the mother might keep her baby.

Fire Does $1,500 Damage in Michigan Avenue Shop

Fire in the woman's apparel shop of Sally K. Greenebaum, Inc., in the Michigan Square building, 530-50 North Michigan avenue, late last night caused loss estimated at $1,500.

FORMER COUNTY TAX AGENT HELD ON THEFT COUNT

Harry C. Pfaff, 51 years old, 4537 Drexel boulevard, formerly employed in the county treasurer's office as an agent in charge of tax delinquent property, was booked last night at the Central police station on a charge of embezzlement.

Assistant State's Attorney Emmet Moynihan said Pfaff withheld $1,050 from the treasurer's office after collecting $1,500 advance rent from the Apex Motor Fuel company, 4500 Clarendon avenue, on Nov. 16, 1934. The prosecutor was unable to explain why the charge was not brought earlier.

Following his arrest Saturday Pfaff insisted that the $1,050 was a personal loan he had received from the fuel company. He was released in $3,000 bond for his appearance today in the Felony court.

Child Hit by Bicycle Dies with Meningitis Symptoms

Joan Kohn, 4 years old, 3411½ Milwaukee avenue, died last night in the Contagious Disease hospital five days after she was struck by a bicycle as she played on the sidewalk in front of her home. The bicycle rider, Edward Matayza, 15 years old, 4018 Oakdale avenue, was ordered to attend the inquest today. Physicians said the child's skull was fractured and that she developed symptoms of meningitis on Sunday. An examination was ordered to determine whether her death was due to the disease or to the injuries.

Egyptian Nationalists Win 163 Seats in Chamber

CAIRO, Egypt, May 4.—(AP)—The Wafd [Nationalist] party gained control of 163 seats in the chamber of deputies elections, results showed tonight. The remainder of the chamber was divided as follows: Liberals, 17; Popular party, 8; Dissentient Wafd, 6; Unionists, 5; Nationalists, 4; Independents, 14.

ETHIOPIAN SIEGE RECALLS BOXER UPRISING IN CHINA

Foreign Legations Stormed in Peking in 1901.

The position of the American and other legations in Addis Ababa, besieged by rioting natives, parallels closely that of the foreign legations in Peking [now Peiping], China, during the Boxer uprising in 1901.

Aliens swarmed into Peking's legation quarter. Like the Americans, British and other foreigners in Ethiopia this week, they were compelled to defend themselves. In their case, however, the attackers were not a defeated people whose government had collapsed, as in Ethiopia, but natives who resented foreign exploitation of China and the efforts of Christian missionaries. The attackers were aided by the troops of China's empress dowager.

The Boxer uprising took its name from the "I Ho T'uan," or "I Ho Ch'uan" society — which may be translated "righteous and united fists." Its members were fanatically anti-foreign. Although "united fists" to the Chinese meant standing hand in hand against the nation's enemies, it immediately suggested fisticuffs to occidentals and the society was early dubbed "The Boxers."

Siege Lasted Eight Weeks.

The siege at Peking lasted about eight weeks. It began June 20, 1900, and ended Aug. 14 when 18,000 allied troops of the United States, Great Britain, France, Russia, and Japan reached the city. Defense operations during the siege were in the hands of 450 legation guards previously stationed there by the various nations.

On June 6 the Boxers and the empress' troops cut off communications between Peking and the Pacific coast and threatened the foreign legations. Four days later an international relief force of 2,000 men started toward the city, but had to retreat. On June 17 the forts at Taku, seaport of Tientsin, were shelled and taken by allied ships.

The Boxers were enraged at this and Baron von Ketteler, German minister, was killed on a Peking street June 20, the day the siege started.

Had to Conquer Chinese.

En route to Peking the force of 18,000 allied troops had to conquer Chinese forces at Tientsin July 14, a month before Peking was reached. The two months' siege was a period of hunger, privation, dread and uncertainty for the occidentals huddled in the legation quarter. They were not sure the outside world was aware of their plight.

In 1930 the intelligence division of the Sixth corps area headquarters in Chicago made available a review of the relief operations. The report said:

"The allied troops marched and fought as a combined army as far as Tung Chow, some fourteen miles from Peking. The combined operations then developed into what was almost an international race. Early on Aug. 14 the 14th United States infantry, commanded by Col. A. S. Daggett, left its bivouac five miles from Peking and acted as the spearhead of the American advance."

Under heavy fire from Boxers and Chinese troops the Americans reached the crenellated rampart of Peking's wall, scaled it and hoisted the colors of the 14th infantry as the first foreign flag at 11 a. m. Meanwhile American infantry and artillery fire cleared the south face of the Tartar City wall, and the British entered the area unopposed.

Troops reached the legations and ended the siege at 3 p. m.

WRITER, DEAD IN ETHIOPIA, WINS PULITZER PRIZE

New York, May 4.—[Special.]—Among the prizes announced today by the Pulitzer prize committee of Columbia university was a $500 posthumous award to Will Barber of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE foreign staf for his reports of the early phases of the war in Ethiopia. Mr. Barber died in Addis Ababa on Oct. 6, 1935. He had been the first American newspaper man to reach Ethiopia when hostilities threatened.

Other prizes awarded included a double one for distinguished editorial writing to Felix Morley, editor of the Washington Post, and George B. Parker, editor in chief of the Scripps Howard newspapers.

Prof. Andrew C. McLaughlin of the University of Chicago won an award for his Constitutional History of the United States.

Harold L. Davis won an award for his novel, "Honey in the Horn"; Barton Perry for his biography, "The Thought and Character of William James"; Robert P. Tristram Coffin for his book of verse, "Strange Holiness."

Robert E. Sherwood's anti-war play, "Idiot's Delight," won the drama prize. New York critics had voted for Maxwell Anderson's "Winterset," but the Sherwood play was chosen.

A gold medal for distinguished service by a newspaper was awarded to the Cedar Rapids, Ia., Gazette for its crusade against "Corruption and Misgovernment in the State of Iowa."

WOUNDED DOCTOR ONCE INSTRUCTOR AT MICHIGAN U.

Formed British Red Cross Units in Ethiopia.

Dr. Andre John Melly, British Red Cross leader, who was reported shot through the chest last Sunday while dragging wounded persons from the streets of Addis Ababa, was formerly an instructor in surgery at the University of Michigan. A bullet pierced Dr. Melly's lung, but he was given a blood transfusion and is expected to survive.

Mrs. Robert Hockman, who recently returned to Wheaton from Ethiopia, where her husband, Dr. Hockman, organized a Red Cross unit and later was killed when a bomb he was examining exploded, said Dr. Melly went to Ethiopia in 1934 and organized British Red Cross units in the northern part of the country.

Delayed with Work.

Dr. Hockman and Dr. Melly, Mrs. Hockman said, tried for months to get an audience with Emperor Haille Selassie, who at that time did not think there would be any need for Red Cross aid. Dr. Melly finally went back to England while Dr. Hockman organized his own unit which went to the front. Dr. Melly returned to Ethiopia with more funds and supplies he had obtained in England.

Mrs. Hockman said the type of native uprising going on now in Addis Ababa had been feared from the start, even before the Italians made any punitive gestures. She said the natives were of fierce nature and made no distinctions between the nationalities of white persons.

Take Refuge with British.

Among the persons reported removed from the American to the British legation in Addis Ababa Sunday were Ellen French, 37, Avoca, N. Y.; Bertha A. Dommermuth and Ruth M. Shippey, Scranton, Pa. The three were teachers for two years in a school they organized and were graduates of Elim Pentecostal Bible school at Hornell, N. Y. The adopted child they took with them was a 9 year old Armenian girl.

The children of American Minister Cornelius Van H. Engert, who went to the British legation, were a boy and a girl. They were accompanied by their governess, and a legation clerk, Fidele, who is a British Somali, with his wife and children, John and Rose. Mrs. Engert remained with her husband at the legation.

John Hathaway Spencer, one of those who remained to defend the legation, is 28 years old, and son of E. B. T. Spencer, professor of Greek at Grinnell college in Iowa. Emperor Haille Selassie selected Spencer as an adviser in international law last January. Previously Spencer had been studying in Paris on a scholarship.

BRITISH PUBLIC 'HUMILIATED' BY ITALY'S VICTORY

League Backers Demand Stern Cabinet Action.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, May 4.—Both Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today said the British government would consider changes in the league of nations covenant as a result of the unsuccessful application of sanctions against Italy. The cabinet, they added, would "have to take stock of the league's position in the light of the apparent failure of collective action in this dispute."

"The question of reformation of the covenant," they declared, "will have very careful consideration."

Their statement was made in reply to a deputation from the league of nations union, headed by Viscount Cecil, Earl Lytton and Gilbert Murray. The ministers did not indicate what they meant by "reformation" of the league.

"British Public Humiliated"

The deputation said that the British public was "deeply humiliated by the failure of the league to save Ethiopia from invasion and the horrors of gas warfare."

The relaxation of sanctions now involves an admission of the failure of the league that "could not be contemplated without great injury to the moral authority of Great Britain and imminent danger of a European war," they argued.

These stanch advocates of league policy are not the only ones in Britain who are displeased by the spectacle of the British empire offering mere asylum to the ruler of Ethiopia after failing to save his country from an invader.

Recalls Former British Spirit.

The conservative newspaper, the Yorkshire Post, after remarking today that Britain, France, and fifty other nations were deterred from "doing what was right" by Italy's threat of war, added that "it was by showing a very different spirit that Britain's statesmen have made her great in the past."

The Manchester Guardian bitterly observed that "public law in Europe has broken down" and "once again might has triumphed over right."

Many of these pro-league Britons feel that Premier Benito Mussolini's victory is a blow not only for the league, in which they had placed their main hope of peace, but also for the British empire, which took such leadership in the sanctions experiment. One reason why they feel bitter is they realize sanctions never were really or whole-heartedly applied.

Poison Gas Goes Through Suez.

Tons of poison gas were carried to Ethiopia through the Suez canal, duly paying fees to the canal company, in which the British government is a shareholder. British companies, like those of other countries, never ceased to sell oil to Italy as fuel for the airplanes that scattered poison gas and dropped bombs on Red Cross hospitals. Nearly every nation continued to help an aggressor whom most nations had formally condemned.

For these reasons many Britons decline to accept the argument that their government did all it could and that the league machinery was at fault.

As a result of the failure of sanctions, it is pointed out, Britain has a new Mediterranean problem on her hands.

Fear New Italian Expansion.

Some recall Mussolini's speech about "mare nostrum," made soon after his march on Rome 14 years ago and believe his Ethiopian venture is only the beginning of a vast scheme of imperial expansion. With the annexation of Ethiopia, Britain's Cape-to-Cairo route has a long frontier facing Italian territory and Egypt and Anglo-Egyptian Sudan are flanked on either side by Italian colonies.

It is now conceded that Malta is menaced by the Italian air forces and that the maintenance of communications through the Mediterranean henceforth will depend upon the consent of Italy. The suggestion is now made that Britain fall back upon Cyprus at the eastern end of that sea for the defense of Egypt and the route to India.

As to England's dominions if the league should collapse, the dominions would be released from all European obligations and they would be unlikely to assume any others. Thus British and dominion policy would part company, for Britain must accept European responsibilities, whether she desires or not.

BRITISH WRITER WEDS PARIS WOMAN DURING RIOT IN ADDIS ABABA

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

ADDIS ABABA, May 4.—To the sound of rifle fire instead of wedding bells George L. Steer, correspondent of the New York Times and London Times, married Miss Margareta de Harreros, correspondent for Le Journal of Paris, at the British legation this morning. Steer is a British citizen.

The two writers were awaiting the delayed Italian entry into Addis Ababa. As they were virtually prisoners behind the walls of the legation compound they decided to fill in their time by marrying.

Their honeymoon will be spent driving around the British legation park, including the refugee camp where hundreds of foreigners have found safety from the mobs in the city.

BAN FLOGGING IN NEW GERMAN CRIMINAL CODE

BERLIN, May 4.—(AP)—Flogging of prisoners is to be abolished, according to the forecast of a new German criminal code now in course of preparation.

"The state which incorporates ideals of order and discipline needs no recourse to flogging," said Dr. Friedrich Schmidt, counsellor to the ministry of justice, in an article published in the journal of the German Law academy.

The writer revealed further that it has been proposed to discontinue shaving the heads of convicts and addressing them as numbers as heretofore. On the other hand, the first three months of penitentiary sentences will be regularly more severe, including inflictions of solitary confinement, no visitors, no letters, and no allowances for labor. Incorrigibles are threatened with a bread and water diet, bare boards for beds, and lighting restricted to a minimum.

ITALIANS REPORT ARMY AT GATES OF ADDIS ABABA

Rome Claims Capital Will Be Occupied Today.

ROME, Italy, May 4.—(AP)—A reliable source reported tonight an advance guard of Askari [native] Italian troops under the command of Gen. Alessandro Pirzio-Biroli entered the suburbs of Addis Ababa late this afternoon.

The same source said the main motorized column of Field Marshal Pietro Badoglio's northern army arrived at the ridges about 16 miles from the Ethiopian capital and joined the 15,000 native soldiers.

It was believed in the Italian capital Addis Ababa will be formally occupied tomorrow.

150 Planes to Guard Troops.

The plan of occupation, this reliable source said, will be to send the selected troops of Marshal Badoglio to the city under the protection of 150 airplanes.

The news that the Askari vanguard had already reached the outskirts of Addis Ababa was not expected to be published here until tomorrow.

This follows the government plan to hold back publication of the occupation of Ethiopian territory until the Italian positions have been consolidated and the danger of counter attacks passed.

In miliary circles it was felt, however, the Askari had pushed ahead with the hope of alleviating the distressing conditions among foreigners in the riot stricken city.

Planes Fly Over City.

It was understood that airplanes from bases behind the Italian line had flown over the city again today and had reported the Askari troops well placed on the outskirts of the capital so they could take over the city at a given command. The Fascist planes also checked the plight of foreigners in the besieged legations.

The report of the entry of the first of the northern Black Shirt warriors came as the government in Rome was reported taking what it believes to be "adequate measures" for the protection and release of foreigners in besieged legations in the Ethiopian capital.

The nature of these measures was not disclosed. France, it was stated, has asked Italy to do all possible to aid the foreigners.

Study Selassie's Status.

It also was learned that the Italian government is studying the personal status of Emperor Haile Selassie, but has reached no decision as to whether representations will be made to Great Britain for affording him asylum. [The emperor is traveling to Palestine aboard a British cruiser.]

Premier Mussolini intimated to the nation that the long awaited hour for a victory celebration was at hand.

He announced to a wildly cheering chamber of deputies he had ordered a national mass meeting similar to that which signalized the opening of East African hostilities Oct. 2.

Mussolini said he would speak at the national "adunata," or rally, but did not specify the time when the mobilization call would be sounded. It may be held tomorrow.

Conquest of Ethiopia Points to League's Complete Failure

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Mussolini's conquest of Ethiopia cast a lurid light today upon the collapse of the league of nations as an agency to preserve peace by force and of the Kellogg pact as an instrument to preserve peace by moral suasion.

The fate of these two plans to put an end to war for all time is expected to affect profoundly the policies of the United States. It will have a bearing upon our neutrality policy and will put a crimp in the movement still sedulously fostered at home and abroad to get the United States into the league and the world court.

President's Efforts Defeated.

President Roosevelt was beaten in the senate in his effort to put America into the world court, but he did succeed in getting the United States into another department of the league, the international labor office. This was accomplished by means largely of a letter written by Secretary of Labor Perkins stating that the international labor office was not connected with the league.

After two years of American membership the appropriations committee of the house recently urged the withdrawal of the United States on the ground that participation is detrimental to the best interests of the country.

While some partisans of the league still clung to the hope that something could be saved from the wreck, others ruefully admitted that apparently the idealistic theory had failed to work out according to specifications in a realistic world.

Irreconcilables Vindicated.

Senator Hiram Johnson [Rep., Cal.] and other irreconcilables view with satisfaction their successful fight to keep America out of the league, which from the start they had pronounced an impractical scheme to prevent war, but a very practical scheme to get the United States to underwrite the imperialistic ventures of the European powers.

"Apparently the league has been shaken to its foundations by the failure of its impractical peace preservation machinery to function in the African war," said Representative George Holden Tinkham [Rep., Mass.], a pioneer opponent of the league covenant. "It is now, we learn, going to be merely a statistical bureau, possibly a debating society.

"The whole scheme to preserve peace by force collapsed when put to the test, just as the opponents of the covenant predicted it would. The elaborate machinery simply would not work amid the clashing selfish interests of the altruistic and idealistic powers."

Millions in Propaganda.

The pro-leaguers in this country have never given up hope of getting the United States into the league. The Carnegie Endowment of International Peace, headed by Nicholas Murray Butler, and numerous other propaganda organizations have expended millions of dollars to get us into the league and the world court. Only recently Senator James P. Pope [Dem., Idaho] introduced a resolution in the senate providing for American entrance into the league and was preparing to push it with at least the tacit blessing of the Roosevelt administration.

President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt were ardent pro-leaguers from the start. Mr. Roosevelt campaigned for Vice President in 1920 as a champion of the Wilson covenant. He continued to be an active pro-leaguer until the early part of 1932 when he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President, and in need of Hearst support he yielded to W. R. Hearst's demands for a statement of his position and declared himself opposed to entrance into the league.

When the war between Italy and Ethiopia was brewing, however, it soon became apparent that the President was working hand in glove with the British government to provide American support for any action the league might take to punish Italy as an aggressor nation.

Sought Unlimited Discretion.

Paving the way for such action the administration sought neutrality legislation conferring unlimited discretion on the President in laying embargoes. With such power he could have coöperated fully with the league in the imposition of sanctions on Italy. Congress refused to grant such discretion and provided for mandatory embargoes on the export of arms, ammunition and implements of war to belligerents.

Mr. Roosevelt proclaimed the prescribed embargoes in the African power, but in an effort to coöperate still further with the league he exceeded his power and proclaimed a withdrawal of the protection of the American government from trade in noncontraband with the belligerents.

He resorted to coercion to stop oil shipments to Italy. He retreated, however, when Mussolini declared such action an unfriendly act. The President then swerved to a policy of discouraging exports to the belligerents exceeding peace time volume.

In the recent extension of the neutrality legislation the President again sought to obtain the discretion to enable him to coöperate with the league, but congress again refused it.

CATHOLIC PUPILS TO BE TRAINED IN SAFETY METHODS

225,000 to Dramatize Trafic Perils.

The Catholic schools of the Chicago archdiocese will launch a safety first campaign among their 225,000 students next Tuesday by inaugurating courses in safety methods and first aid procedure, Father Daniel J. Cunningham, superintendent of the parochial schools, announced yesterday.

In the 250 parochial schools of the Chicago area, a daily safety court will dramatize an automobile accident from a newspaper. Pupils will study the autoist's behavior and decide on appropriate penalties. The first safety court will be held in St. Joseph's school in Wilmette next Monday, and Chicago pupils will start theirs later in the week.

Special First Aid Courses.

First aid lessons will be offered to the pupils under the supervision of Dr. Harold P. Sullivan, chief surgeon for the Chicago fire department, and Dr. L. D. Moorhead, dean of the medical school at Loyola university. Pamphlets, motion pictures, and demonstrations of first aid methods will convey the information. The initial first aid lesson will be given at 11 a. m. next Tuesday at the St. Thomas Aquinas school, 5017 Washington boulevard. After the first lessons have been launched by Dr. Sullivan and Dr. Moorhead, teachers will continue with the work.

The parochial schools plan special safety exhibits, according to Father Cunningham, and they will place on their bulletin boards the "clock of death" by which THE TRIBUNE records the daily mounting toll of the massacre on Chicago's streets.

Safety Council Conference Today.

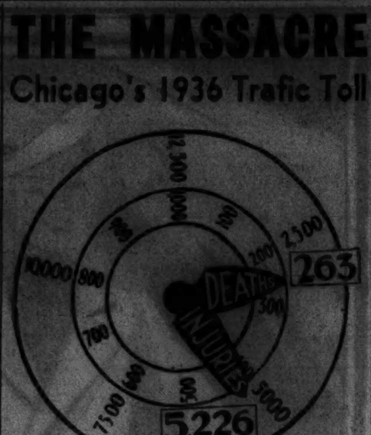
The Midwest Safety council will open its 14th annual conference in the Stevens hotel today, to continue through Thursday. The newest in safety equipment and accident prevention methods are to be demonstrated for more than 3,000 delegates.

The conference is being sponsored jointly by the Chicago Safety council, the Keep Chicago Safe committee, and the Illinois Industrial commission. Truck fleet safety, fire prevention, home safety, safety in manufacturing plants, public safety lessons, and drivers' license laws will be subjects treated through special exhibits and lectures.

Sidney J. Williams, director of public safety for the National Safety council, told the American Association of Motor Vehicle administrators yesterday that engineering, educational, and enforcement agencies must coördinate their work if the trafic toll is to be reduced.

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1936 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

DIXIE FLYER HITS AUTO AND KILLS TAVERN KEEPER

Joseph Hirtz, 55 years old, a tavern owner of 34 East 111th street, was fatally injured early today when the automobile he was driving was struck by the southbound Dixie Flyer of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad at the 107th street crossing of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad. The train dragged the car for more than two blocks. Hirtz died soon after he was taken to the Roseland community hospital. The crossing is protected only by flashing electric signals.

Frank Mrazek, 68 years old, 2430 58th avenue, Cicero, was killed yesterday by a fire truck of engine company 3 of Cicero at 56th avenue and 25th street in the suburb. He was dead when taken to the Berwyn hospital. The fire truck, driven by Rudolph Zahrobsky, 2514 57th avenue, was responding to an alarm at 5537 Cermak road. Other Cook county trafic deaths yesterday:

Mrs. Emma Peterson, 65 years old, whose arm was broken on April 20 when she was jolted out of her seat in a 59th street car at Marshfield avenue, died in her home at 5663 South Artesian avenue. The accident occurred when a truck backed into the street car.

Joseph McNamara, 48 years old, 7926 LaFayette avenue, a chauffeur, found dead in South State street, thirty feet south of the Elgin, Joliet, and Eastern railroad viaduct—the victim, police believe, of a hit-and-run automobile.

Frank Holland, 30 years old, 4158 South Wells street, a few hours after being struck at Western avenue and 65th street by the automobile of Alfred Vubrin, 6745 South Campbell avenue.

William Scott, 48 years old, 4836 Michigan avenue, colored. Struck by a hit and run driver April 28 at 53d and State streets.

The coroner's office reported 331 persons killed in trafic accidents in Cook county from Jan. 1 to 4 p. m. yesterday. In the same period, 263 persons were killed and 5,226 injured in the city.

HEART ATTACK FATAL.

George Nelson, 74 years old, 7520 Addison street, died yesterday, apparently from a heart attack.

ALCOHOL UNSEEN CAUSE OF MANY CHICAGO DEATHS

Importance Disregarded, Says Dr. V. G. Urse.

St. Louis, Mo., May 4.—(AP)—Alcohol was given as an unseen and unreported cause of many deaths among chronic drinkers in a study reported to the American Psychiatric association today by V. G. Urse, M. D., assistant psychiatrist of the Cook County Psychopathic hospital, Chicago.

Of twenty-one deaths which he found due to alcohol, he said the coroner attributed only five to that cause, missing 78 per cent. They were missed, Dr. Urse said, because presumably fatal alcohol may fail to leave clear traces. He suggested need for reëxamination of the true rôle of chronic alcoholism.

"Those of us," he reported, "associated with institutions in which the admittance rate is heavy find a rather large percentage of patients admitted as suffering from chronic alcoholism or one of its end pictures.

Alcoholism Not Reported.

"In many instances individuals so diagnosed die, and from the clinical aspect the alcoholism seems to have played an important part in the death. In studying deaths of a number of alcoholics we note that the alcoholism is not included as a primary or secondary factory in the cause of death.

"In 1935 twenty-one male patients of Cook County Psychopathic hospital had histories of excessive alcoholism and the clinical picture was such as to indicate chronic alcoholism as a contributing factor or the actual factor in diagnosis of the condition. In checking the cause of death as certified by the coroner's physician we find only five of these patients whose death certificates state as one of the causes of death chronic alcoholism.

"In cases where death comes after the individual has stopped drinking for a variable length of time, the toxicologists and pathologists tell us that alcohol disappears rather rapidly from the general systemic circulation, and that amounts above normal are not demonstrable in the systemic tion."

After chronic alcoholism, Dr. Urse said, the most common findings are serous meningitis, fatty degeneration of the liver, puffy condition of lungs, brain, stomach an duodenum. The liver condition is the most consistent finding.

"Repeal of the 18th amendment in its first two years," Dr. Urse said, "does not seem to show an increase in the number of alcoholic admissions to Cook County Psychopathic hospital. If anything there is a decrease."

RESENTS TESTIMONY DURING INQUEST INTO AUTO DEATH OF SON

Dr. Harold O. Hansen, 1031 North Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park, a dentist, objected to testimony yesterday at the inquest into the death of his son Bruce, 17 years old, who was killed early Sunday in a triple automobile crash at Schneider and Harlem avenues in Oak Park.

The testimony was given by Mrs. Julia Adams, mother of the driver of one of the machines, who said she saw some one take a bottle out of one car and run away with it. Deputy Coroner Louis Nadherny told Dr. Hansen he had no right to object.

The inquest was continued until May 12, pending the outcome of the injuries of James Harris, 21 years old, 11 North 3d avenue, Maywood, driver of the car in which young Hansen was riding. One of the other cars was driven by Hansen's brother Richard, 19 years old, and the third car by Eugene Adams, 24 years old, 1229 South Home avenue, Berwyn.

REBUKE PARENTS OF RATTLE-TRAP DRIVER IN COURT

Parents, more than their sons, who were charged with trafic violations were rebuked by Judge John Gutknecht of the Trafic court last night in the first night session he has held for more than two months.

In one case Mrs. Lottie Urbon, 743 West 60th street, stood beside her son, Edward, 19 years old, the defendant. Near them stood another mother, Mrs. Louise Rublee, and her husband, S. J. Rublee, of 5461 Kenwood avenue, whose daughter, Madeline, 11 years old, was struck by Edward's automobile at 8 p. m. last Saturday at 55th street and Kenwood avenue. The child, severely bruised, must visit Billings hospital tomorrow for X-rays.

A policeman said that after the accident he tested Urbon's car, for which the boy paid $110, and found the brakes were so defective that it traveled 69½ feet after the brakes were applied when going at only 20 miles an hour.

"The responsibility rests on the parents in these cases," Judge Gutknecht told Mrs. Urbon, after hearing testimony. "These defective cars are most dangerous. What are you going to do?"

"If I have the brakes fixed, can't I let him drive again?" said Mrs. Urbon.

"O, yes, you can," said Judge Gutknecht. 'I have no right to stop you. But I can fine him $100 and costs for driving with defective brakes and I'm going to do it. If you come in with the boy May 11 and show me you have taken the car away from him—gotten rid of it—I will entertain a motion to reduce the fine to $15."

VOIDS ENGINEER'S DIVORCE AND HIS LATER MARRIAGE

Judge Roman E. Posanski of Calumet City, sitting in Circuit court yesterday, signed a decree vacating the divorce granted to Fergus Campbell, 50 years old, combustion engineer with the Franklin County Coal company, 35 South La Salle street, on Nov. 5, 1932, from his first wife, Anna, 47 years old. The order invalidated the marriage of Campbell on Dec. 1, 1932, to Mrs. Mamie Campbell, 55 years old, 2540 North Spaulding avenue, first cousin of Mrs. Anna Campbell. Judge Posanski found that the first Mrs. Campbell was insane at the time her husband divorced her, though she has since recovered.

HARTZELL, DRAKE SWINDLER, SENT TO U. S. ASYLUM

Oscar M. Hartzell, ringleader of the famous Sir Francis Drake mail swindle, has been transferred from Leavenworth penitentiary, where he is serving a ten year sentence for mail fraud, to the government's hospital for defective delinquents at Springfield, Mo., it was announced yesterday by the attorney general's office in Washington.

The ten year sentence Hartzell is now serving was imposed by the federal court at Des Moines, Ia., two years ago. He was recently convicted here for the second time on mail fraud charges, but his sentence was deferred by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan until July 17 pending mental tests. Dr. Harry Hoffman, psychiatrist of the Cook county behavior clinic, in a report to Judge Sullivan two months ago, held Hartzell insane.

YOU KNOW ELECTROLUX IS DIFFERENT THE MINUTE YOU NOTICE IT'S SILENCE!

And here's something important to remember: the reason for this silence—a basically different operating method—is the reason for many other exclusive advantages, too!

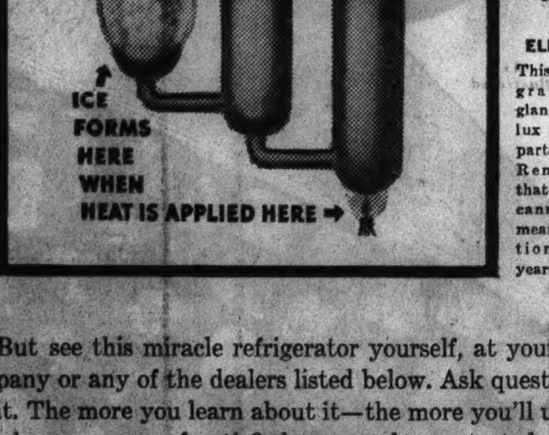
IT'S HARD for anyone to imagine a refrigerator that works in complete silence. Even after you have seen Electrolux and listened to it, this silence still seems a miracle.

Actually it is even more important than it seems . . . for the basically different operating method behind this silence is the reason for the other exclusive advantages that make Electrolux superior to other good refrigerators.

This operating method is simplicity itself. A tiny gas flame circulates a simple refrigerant. By being alternately heated and cooled, this refrigerant freezes ice cubes and keeps the food compartment at a constant low temperature. There is no need for moving parts—no need for force—or friction—or noise.

You can put this simplicity down in terms of dollars and cents saved. Saved on depreciation. Saved on food bills. Saved on running cost.

And these are real savings—if you will take other owners' word for it. Many write to tell us they have saved enough to actually pay for their Electrolux over a reasonable period.



HERE'S HOW SIMPLE ELECTROLUX IS!
This simplified diagram shows at a glance why Electrolux has no moving parts and needs none. Remember—parts that do not move, cannot wear. This means more satisfaction—and longer years of service!

But see this miracle refrigerator yourself, at your gas company or any of the dealers listed below. Ask questions about it. The more you learn about it—the more you'll understand why an army of satisfied owners have started a national trend toward Electrolux. It offers you more. HAGOOD GRANTED HIS RETIREMENT AND VINDICATION

Government Acts Quickly on General's Request.

Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood, who last Saturday took command of the 6th corps area at the headquarters here, requested President Roosevelt yesterday to relieve him of his duties and to allow him to retire from active service. A few hours later the war department in Washington issued a special order relieving Gen. Hagood of his assignment and directing him to proceed to his home at Charleston, S. C., to await final retirement orders.

Gen. Hagood said last night, however, that he planned to remain in Chicago for several months to act as budgetary consultant for Sears, Roebuck & Co. He began this two weeks ago on his arrival here. There have been rumors that Gen. Hagood would take a permanent position with Sears, Roebuck because of his friendship with Gen. R. E. Wood, head of the mail order concern, but the general explained that his budgetary task is of a temporary nature and probably will be finished before the end of the summer.

Undecided on Permanent Home.

The war department order directing Gen. Hagood to go to his boyhood home, Charleston, to await final retirement orders is merely a formality. He said he actually has no permanent home, his service all over the world having made it impossible for him to establish one. He said he had no plans as yet on this point and added that, according to army regulations, has 12 months to choose his place of permanent residence.

Gen. Hagood, who is the third ranking general officer in the army, has been in the service for 44 years. According to army regulations, an officer is entitled to retirement on his request after 40 years' service. Gen. Hagood will be 64 years old next year and at that time the regulations would compel his retirement. He will receive $6,000 a year, the full retirement pay for his rank.

Gen. Herron Takes Command.

Brig. Gen. Charles D. Herron, commander of the 6th field artillery brigade and second ranking officer to Gen. Hagood in the 6th corps area, automatically becomes acting commander of the area until the war department assigns a new commander.

Gen. Hagood's assignment as commander of the 6th corps area also placed him in command of the 2d field army, which embraces the 5th and 6th corps areas. Maj. Gen. William E. Cole, commander of the 5th corps area at Columbus, O., now becomes head of the 2d field army and will be in charge of the important army maneuvers to be held in August unless the war department assigns an officer senior to Gen. Herron and to Gen. Cole to command the 6th corps area prior to that time.

Regards Himself Vindicated.

It had been indicated for several weeks that Gen. Hagood would retire shortly after taking command of the 6th corps. In a prepared statement issued yesterday from the headquarters in the new postoffice building the general said he regarded his restoration to command a corps area as a "vindication."

Gen. Hagood was removed two months ago from command of the 8th corps area at San Antonio, Tex., because of his sharp criticism of the New Deal's easy spending policies during a congressional hearing last December.

"My application for retirement has been pending since March 17," the general's statement read. "I asked for it the day after my arrival in Charleston [from San Antonio] but reluctantly consented to its being temporarily held up, first at the solicitation of Senator Byrnes [James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, a friend of the general] and subsequently at the very gracious request of the President himself.

"I have been restored to command and this has been taken by my friends as a vindication. But under the circumstances I do not feel that it will be of any advantage to the army for me to remain on the active list for another year. Furthermore, there are certain phases of the case in question which make me feel that I cannot do so without a sacrifice of my personal dignity and professional prestige.

"I am not being lured away from the army by any offer of lucrative employment in civil life. While on leave of absence I have been doing some temporary work with Sears Roebuck & Co. as a consultant in matters of a budgetary nature. As soon as this work is finished I shall devote myself to writing. I have in preparation a book in which I shall show how the United States can get a very much better national defense at very much less cost to the taxpayer."

VICTOR IN COURT

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher dismissed yesterday the quo warranto suit whereby Otto F. Aken, former county superintendent of schools, sought to oust Noble J. Puffer, the present superintendent, on the ground that Puffer was unqualified and unfit. Aken was removed from the office forcibly last Aug. 7 after holding it for two days against Puffer's forces.

Aken asserted that Puffer had only thirty-three and one-half months of classroom teaching experience and contended that four years of such experience are required. Judge Fisher held, however, that the state law does not specify that the experience be entirely classroom work.

Judge Fisher also held that Aken had failed to show that Puffer is not a man of proper character. The judge pointed out that Aken had once issued a certificate of Puffer's good character.

Howard Elmore's Tax Trial Redocketed for May 18

Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan yesterday set May 18 for the trial of Howard W. Elmore, former president of the Chicago sanitary district, who is charged with evading total income tax payments of $51,659 for the years of 1929 and 1930. The trial was scheduled to begin yesterday before Judge Sullivan, but the continuance was asked because of the illness of Assistant United States Attorney E. Riley Campbell, who is in charge of government income tax prosecutions. Elmore was represented in court by former Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom.

SEE DICTATOR RULE IN FRANCE TO SAVE FRANC

Socialists Ready to Take Power First Time.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 4.—With thousands of investors storming banks in a stampede to get their money out of the country before the Socialist government comes into power, France tonight appeared to be facing a period of dictatorship in some form as the only means of saving the franc.

Although the veteran Socialist leader Leon Blum announced that his party, the biggest single political group in France since yesterday's elections, is ready to take power for the first time in the history of the third republic, Premier Albert Sarraut, it was learned tonight, has no intention of stepping down before his term legally expires with the convocation of the new chamber of deputies June 1.

Premier Sarraut called the cabinet to meet at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow, after the bourse and banks had closed, to present his colleagues with a series of drastic measures to save the franc.

Socialists Make Haste.

The long term situation following the elections was cleared up a little by Blum's statement.

"We wish it announced without losing an hour," Blum declared in a special edition of his paper Populaire, "that we are ready to take the rôle which belongs to us, that is to form and direct the government of Popular Front [leftist] parties."

Socialists, on the strength of their 145 deputies, are ready to constitute a cabinet exclusively in the ranks of their own party if the communists and Radical-Socialists do not want to coöperate with them. The latter two parties would then have to support the Socialist cabinet or publicly assume responsibility for sabotaging the Popular Front victory.

Communists Want In.

Next to Blum's statement the biggest sensation of the day was the news that the communists who, before the elections, flatly announced they would not enter any Popular Front cabinet, today were saying "perhaps."

The Reds justify their change of attitude on the grounds that before the elections the best they hoped for was to have between 30 and 40 seats in the chamber, whereas now they have 72 and have become overnight one of the biggest parties in the chamber. Actually it is clear they are waiting for instructions from Moscow. —some circles say that instructions to enter the Socialist government have already been received.

Blum Unusual Type.

Reliable Socialist sources stated Blum himself will accept the premiership if President Lebrun asks him. He will make an unusual type of French premier. Blum is a water drinker—he hates wine and dreads political banquets at his home district, Narbonne, where he has to do heroic guzzling to keep in favor with his wine grower constituents. He is an esthete, a literary man, and dreads violence in any form.

He is a lawyer by profession and has never done a lick of manual labor in his life. He loves books and fine pictures and lives in a tastefully furnished seventeenth century apartment on historic Ile St. Louis, but contrary to what his enemies say he does not live luxuriously and is not really rich. He is tall, bony, cadaverous, and stoop shouldered, and his drooping mustaches give him a permanent expression of melancholy.

Has Talented Aid.

Blum's lieutenant, Vincent Auriol, has a brilliant mind and is a rough and tumble fighter. He will bear the brunt of carrying out the Socialist program. He will be finance minister.

The Socialists would like to nationalize all the country's heavy industry, but will begin gently by asking the chamber to change the status of the Bank of France, curtailing the powers of the board of directors appointed by the stockholders and bringing the bank under more or less direct control of the government.

FEDERAL JURY STARTS QUIZ ON OIL MARKETING

Madison, Wis., May 4.—[Special.]—Utmost secrecy marked the opening here in federal court today of a grand jury investigation into alleged unfair trade practices in the oil industry in Wisconsin, and possibly several other middle western states. Doors into the federal chamber were closed and guarded. Newspapermen were informed that publication of the names of witnesses subpensed to testify will not be permitted.

"What would happen" one reporter asked, "if persons known to be independent dealers were seen entering the federal chamber and their names were publishd?"

"I think," said W. B. Watson Snyder, anti-trust expert, heading a special staf assigned by Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, "that would mean about 30 days in jail."

Contempt proceedings, the lawyer added, would be likely if reporters published the names of persons entering the grand jury room.

Despite the atmosphere of secrecy, it was believed certain the investigation is the result of a complaint filed last June by the National Oil Marketers association, in which independent dealers charged the larger companies with unfair contracts and price schedules that operated so as to squeeze them out of business.

BORAH GETS 20 DELEGATES, VOTE CANVASS SHOWS

Downstate Lead Upheld by Official Figures.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Proclamation of the official figures on the April 14 primaries yesterday showed that Senator William E. Borah of Idaho carried ten downstate districts, with 20 delegates to the Republican national convention. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, carried five districts downstate. The Rock Island district, which had been in doubt, went to Knox by nine votes.

Borah carried 59 of the 101 counties outside Cook. The preferential vote on president by districts was as follows:

FOR BORAH.

Dist.	Borah.	Knox.
11	33,725	30,653
12	27,439	20,321
13	15,680	13,549
16	21,005	13,500
17	15,378	11,664
18	24,131	14,319
19	24,340	15,401
21	22,144	15,145
22	16,708	16,079
24	16,199	11,977

FOR KNOX.

Dist.	Borah.	Knox.
14	14,172	14,181
15	12,831	14,922
20	9,686	9,831
23	14,098	16,206
25	15,863	20,228

Knox carried the ten Cook county districts with 19 delegates, and the eight delegates at large to be picked by the state convention May 22 at Peoria are "advised" by the statewide vote for Knox. The tally, so far as the preferential primaries have weight, is: Borah, 20 delegates; Knox, 37.

The full vote as given in the official figures stood:

	Borah.	Knox.
Cook county	127,512	242,700
Downstate	291,708	248,905
	419,220	491,605

The vote cast for President Roosevelt in the Democratic preferential was: Cook county, 842,155; downstate, 574,256; total, 1,416,411.

In seven congressional districts downstate in the corn belt, the vote cast for Knox and Borah combined was larger than that polled for Roosevelt.

Official figures on the leading candidates in the governorship primaries in both parties yielded the following:

REPUBLICAN.

	Brooks.	Small.
Chicago	225,356	56,574
Country towns	65,614	15,057
Cook county	290,970	71,631
Downstate	305,475	197,262
Total	596,445	268,893
Brooks' plurality	327,552

DEMOCRATIC.

	Horner.	Bundesen.
Chicago	319,927	481,966
Towns	50,176	44,150
Cook county	370,103	526,116
Downstate	450,209	133,105
Total	820,312	659,221
Horner's plurality	161,091

Final official figures are still to be issued on other state offices.

Republicans are looking for a close race over the post of state chairman when the new state committee meets Thursday at Springfield. Chairman John H. Searing of Carbondale has as leading rival Perry B. McCullough of Lawrenceville. Other candidates are Roy L. Barnes of Bushnell and William R. Allen of Peoria.

Plans are to be made by the committee for the G. O. P. state convention at Peoria May 22. It is proposed that two keynote speeches be made, one by Wayland Brooks on state issues as nominee for governor; the other by Otis F. Glenn, nominee for senator, on national issues. Mr. Glenn announced yesterday that he will nominate Mr. Knox at the national convention in Cleveland next month.

Reports from downstate districts yesterday were that George F. Harding, one of Brooks' chief supporters in Cook county, is showing strength among downstate delegates to the national convention for the place of national committeeman. Frank L. Smith of Dwight is seeking reëlection to this place.

The personnal of the eight delegates at large to be picked at Peoria may have an important bearing on this. Harding's friends have been predicting he will be favored by a majority of the delegates from downstate and in Cook, when they elect the Illinois member of the national committee at Cleveland.

Brust Wins Out Over Webb for Coroner Nomination

An upset over the republican nomination for Cook county coroner was shown yesterday when County Clerk Michael J. Flynn issued the official proclamation of the vote in the April 14 primaries. Dr. Edmund G. Brust, a supporter of Wayland Brooks for governor, was shown to have won over Otto M. Webb, of the Caldwell camp, who had been leader in the unofficial police figures. The proclamation gave Brust 94,483, Webb 92,857.

One other change from the police returns was recorded. The Republican count for the twelve Municipal judgeship nominations showed that Emmett F. Byrne, who was in thirteenth place in the police returns, was nominated in eleventh place over William J. Mannion, who dropped to fourteenth.

Ditchburne's Vote 181,439.

The final vote for the republican nomination for state's attorney was Harry S. Ditchburne, 181,439; William F. Waugh, 61,024; Freeman L. Fairbank, 46,337; and Charles J. Mueller, 33,264.

For county treasurer, Republican, Arthur C. Lueder received 178,204 and James A. Kearns 165,325. For county recorder, Republican, William Busse got 237,163 votes, as compared with 68,627 for George F. Haas, his nearest opponent. For member of the board of tax appeals, Republican George F. Nixon received 203,946 votes, with 104,804 for George F. Barrett, his nearest opponent.

Courtney Gets 726,901.

High votes were cast for unopposed candidates on the Democratic ticket. The three nominated for sanitary district trustees and their votes were Dennis A. Horan, 603,640; Thomas F. Byrne, 575,596, and Paul V. Colianni, 533,488. For state's attorney Thomas J. Courtney received 726,901 votes; for county treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer, 634,451; for county recorder Edward J. Kaindl, 631,694, and for clerk of the Circuit court John E. Conroy, 639,284.

The Cook county returns on state offices were sent to Springfield, where they will be incorporated with the downstate tallies, which as yet have not been announced on all offices. Otis F. Glenn, Republican nominee for senator, got 231,956 votes in Cook county, against 75,864 for William E. Hull of Peoria, his closest rival. Official figures for downstate on this race have not been issued.

FIND PISTOL IN CAR; HOLD TWO.

Curtis and Seway Richmond, 29 and 34 years old, colored cousins, were arrested yesterday when a Maxwell police squad found a pistol in a compartment of Seway's automobile. They were held for a detective bureau showup tomorrow night.

SHARP CONTESTS PROMISE HEAVY VOTE IN INDIANA

Weather Forecast Also Is Favorable.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 4.—[Special.]—Forecasts for warmer weather and for fair to cloudy skies throughout the state indicated tonight a good sized vote in the Indiana primary election tomorrow. Bitter factional feuds in both major parties heightened interest.

Most Democratic nominees, from obscure local officials on up, are trying to pin themselves to the academic skirts of the Roosevelt New Dealers. But there the harmony ends. The perennial factionalism among Republicans has emerged belatedly, but vividly.

State tickets will be chosen at party conventions in June, for which delegates will be elected tomorrow. In addition, control of state committees depends on precinct committeemen elected. County tickets also will be determined.

The primary election has no direct bearing on presidential preferences since these delegates will be chosen at the state conventions. The delegates probably will be uninstructed.

Fight for Governor Nomination.

The fight for the Democratic nomination for governor has centered since Christmas around M. Clifford Townsend, Marion farm bloc leader and present lieutenant governor, who is supported by the organization of Gov. Paul V. McNutt and Frank McHale, Logansport attorney, power behind the throne; Pleas Greenlee, McNutt's former patronage secretary and at least technically the ally of Sherman Minton, junior United States senator, and E. Kirk McKinney, Indianapolis banker and former Indiana HOLC chief, supported by Frederick Van Nuys, senior United States senator.

It is entirely possible a dark horse will be trotted out if Townsend does not win on the first few ballots at the state convention. McNutt is supposed to be supporting Townsend only at McHale's insistence.

Six Out for G. O. P. Place.

Six men avowedly seek the Republican nomination for governor. They are Clare Bangs, militant editor-mayor of Huntington, in constant warfare with electric utilities for the last five years; Samuel Beecher, mayor of Terre Haute; George Hill, accountant, Michigan City; Glen Hillis, son-in-law and associate of the pioneer automobile manufacturer, Elwood Haynes, of Kokomo; Elza Rogers, Lebanon, former chairman of the Republican state committee, and Raymond Springer, Connersville, nominee in 1932.

Tetanus Kills Boy, 7, Hit by Stone While at Play

Donald Butzbach, 7 year old, 4841 North Claremont avenue, died yesterday in the Children's Memorial hospital from tetanus which developed from a cut on his forehead when he was struck by a stone.

OAK PARK WATER DEFICIT MOUNTS ANOTHER $1,100

An additional shortage of $1,100 in the books of the Oak Park water department was disclosed last night in an auditor's report to the board of trustees of the village. The report covered a test audit for the month of January, which was ordered after examination of the February accounts showed a shortage of $5,000.

Wiley Imhoff, who was ousted as manager of the department on March 10, disappeared soon afterward from his home at 409 Maple avenue, Oak Park, and he has been sought unsuccessfully by the police.

As a result of the test audits the village board voted to ask for bids for auditing the books of the department from Jan. 1, 1930, to the present time, in an effort to determine the entire extent of the shortage. From this study, members of the board said, they hoped also to get data which will help in reorganizing the department's system of handling funds.

SUICIDE IS IDENTIFIED.

The man who shot and killed himself in a room of the Chicago hotel at 458 North Halsted street on Sunday night was identified yesterday as George Graff, 50 years old, 1143 North Mozart street.

You Don't Need a BEAUTIFUL FACE

Beautiful features are not necessary. Real beauty comes from the inside, a healthy body, a lovely complexion and lots of pep. That is what men admire.

Body poisons that are not eliminated properly are the cause of most unattractive, sallow, pimply complexions. If your blood is poisoned by wastes from constipated bowels, your skin often breaks out or looks dull and muddy.

Adlerika quickly and pleasantly removes these wastes from both bowels. Adlerika brings out foul matter that may have poisoned you for months, ruining your complexion and upsetting your system.

Miss E. S., Converse, Tex., says: "I have used Adlerika for just two weeks and I am amazed at how it has cleared up my complexion."

Mrs. W. T. M., Louisville, Ky., "My eyes were dull and my complexion poor. After trying Adlerika almost every one commented on my complexion. It has lost its sallowness and my eyes have a new sparkle."

Let Adlerika help you to clear up your complexion and make it smooth, clear and admirably lovely. Try Adlerika for just one week and see what an amazing difference it makes in how you look and feel. Sold by all druggists and drug departments.

MARYLAND GIVES ROOSEVELT HER 16 VOTES, 6 TO 1

California Gets Ready to Ballot Today.

Baltimore, Md., May 4.—(AP)—Maryland Democrats assured President Roosevelt the state's sixteen votes at the national convention by favoring him over Col. Henry Breckenridge at a ratio of nearly six to one in today's presidential preference primary. The vote is binding on the delegates.

Baltimore went more than six to one for Mr. Roosevelt while the counties, on the basis of almost complete returns, were nearly five to one for him. Breckenridge had made no campaign.

The unofficial count from 1,036 out of a total of 1,433 polling places in the entire state was:

Roosevelt	91,743
Breckenridge	16,644
Uninstructed delegation	1,473

The unofficial tabulation of Baltimore's 685 polling places gave Roosevelt 54,560; Breckenridge, 8,555; uninstructed, 675.

Returns from 619 out of 748 county voting places gave the President 37,183; Breckenridge, 2,089, uninstructed delegation, 798.

No G. O. P. Contest.

There was no state-wide Republican contest. Both parties balloted on candidates from the six congressional districts. All the incumbents are Democrats. Four of them had opposition within the party.

In the Sixth, or western Maryland district, seven Republicans vied for the right to run for the seat held by Representative David J. Lewis. The incumbent had only one Democratic opponent, S. Clay Plummer, former Montgomery county sherif.

The only other Republican contests were in the Second district, where five sought the nomination, and in the Fourth, where three candidates vied.

Representatives T. Alan Goldsborough, First district, and Ambrose J. Kennedy, Fourth, were renominated by the Democrats without opposition.

CALIFORNIA WINDS UP

Los Angeles, Cal., May 4.—[Special.]—California's noisy, dizzy campaign for control of the state's forty-four Republican convention delegates roared through tonight's final campaign hours with managers for the Hearst-Merriam ticket claiming the state by 50,000 to 75,000 for their candidate, Gov. Alfred Landon of Kansas.

The pro-Landon campaign, which its opponents were particular to point out was never authorized or sponsored by the Kansas governor, reached an oratorical peak with a group of the G. O. P. representing Gov. Merriam's wing of the party doing most of the speech making from Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Francisco, San Diego, Fresno, and Oakland.

Managers of the "uninstructed" delegation, who have as their nominal candidate Earl Warren, district attorney of Oakland, and as their principal backers ex-President Herbert Hoover, ex-national committeemen, one ex-governor, and most of the state's present Republican congressmen, charged that the pro-Landoners had bought up the available radio time so that the Warren ticket could not deliver its closing message.

See Los Angeles Key.

Both sides agreed that the Republican fight would be either won or lost in Los Angeles with its 471,163 registered Republican voters, more than 40 per cent of all in the state. The Landon Los Angeles managers, from headquarters in the Hearst offices, predicted a two-to-one sweep of the county tomorrow. This was scoffed at by Edward Shattuck, head of the California Republican assembly, newest and most militant Republican faction in the state, and a member of the combination seeking "unfettered representation" at the Cleveland convention.

Among the 44 on the Warren slate are about a dozen who declared they will vote to nominate Landon at Cleveland, some who announced they would follow leadership of the recently-discontinued Borah campaign in this state, while others will cast complimentary ballots for Hoover. There also is some Dickinson and Vandenberg sentiment.

On the Democratic side there are three tickets, but that headed by Senator McAdoo and backing President Roosevelt is expected to overwhelm those pledged to Upton Sinclair and Congressman J. S. McGroarty. Sinclair's is a "production for use" EPIC ticket and McGroarty's is a Townsend old-age pension plan ticket.

Borah-Landon Battle Today.

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 4.—(AP)—South Dakota's unusually quiet primary campaign ended tonight with interest centered on the contest between supporters of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho and Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the eight delegates to be named tomorrow to the Republican national convention.

The final hours of electioneering were enlivened by a statement from Leslie Jensen, unopposed for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, urging selection by his party of a "progressive yet sound" presidential choice. His statement was taken by followers of the Idahoan as a boost for their candidate.

The Borah slate of delegates will appear directly under his name at the top of the Republican ballot. Senator Norbeck heads the list. The Landon group will be listed as expressing no presidential preference and the Kansas governor's name will not be printed on the ballots.

TWIN SISTERS AID WIFE IN GETTING DIVORCE

NOMINATE FOE OF MONOPOLY, G.O.P. URGED BY BORAH

Doesn't Necessarily Mean Me, Says Senator.

East Liverpool, O., May 4.—(AP)—Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho] tonight called on the June 9 Republican national convention at Cleveland "to go on record against monoply and nominate a man who has the courage to do the job."

"That does not necessarily mean me," said the Idaho senator as he opened a six day speaking tour for the Ohio presidential delegates at the May 12 primary.

"If the party of Lincoln and Garfield resolves to do the right thing in adopting a platform and nominating a candidate against this great evil, there will not be a single wound or sting in my political soul.

"They say I am ready to bolt if I am not nominated. I wonder what they are getting ready to do if I am nominated.

"Former Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio declared he would 'take a walk' if I am nominated. We shall miss him but there are enough left without him. If Walter Brown, Ed Schorr, and other gentlemen control the Cleveland convention and write the platform, we will lose millions of voters who will not go back to that leadership."

TAVERN EMPLOYE KILLED.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., May 4.—(AP)—Henry Sime, 63, employed in a tavern at Drywood, 20 miles northwest of here, was shot to death last night after a quarrel with a fellow employé. John Niesen, 62, was brought to the county jail here where Sherif Conrad G. Thronson said he admitted the shooting.

FORMER 'WIZARD OF LA SALLE ST.' SUED BY 2D WIFE

Kurt R. Beak, once known as the "boy wizard of La Salle street," has been sued for divorce in the Circuit court by his second wife, Mrs. La Vesta Bennett Beak of Bloomington, it was learned yesterday.

The Beaks were married on Sept. 25, 1926, after Beak was divorced by his first wife, now Mrs. Jennie Beak Block of Kenosha. The second Mrs. Beak charges that her husband deserted her on Aug. 21, 1934.

According to her attorney, Ruel Grunewald, Beak has arranged an out of court settlement of $4,000 and $155 a month. Grunewald said Beak is now selling oil stock as a traveling salesman. It is expected the divorce will be uncontested, Grunewald said.

Beak and Charles A. Wathier, former president of the Reliance State bank, were indicted in 1924 on charges of conspiracy to defraud in connection with the collapse of Beak & Co., an investment concern. Charges against them were later dropped.

SIGHT IS GIVEN TO BOY, 7, BLIND SINCE BIRTH

Newark, N. J., May 4.—[Special.]—Seven year old Sammie Mydash, blind since birth, went out into the world from St. Michael hospital today his sight restored and his mind awhirl at the wonders he found before him.

Perhaps the greatest surprise Sammie experienced was to find that horses and grass and buildings and street cars have different colors. He had an idea that everything in the world was red.

This afternoon Sammie's 24 year old sister, Frances, called for him at the hospital where a surgeon removed the cataracts that had made the boy sightless from his birth. Accompanied by a nurse, they left for Manhattan to see a motion picture.

Then they returned to Sussex, N. J., where Sammie would see his mother, Mrs. John Mydash, a widow.

EXECUTIVE RULE BRANDED PERIL BY VANDENBERG

Roosevelt Usurpation of Power Denounced.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Safeguards of independent congressional responsibility have been demolished for the "treacherous waters" of government by executive decree, according to charges made by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] in the current issue of Redbook magazine.

Vandenberg pointed out that President Roosevelt, in the last three years, has issued 1,469 executive orders with the force of law from which unestimated thousands of other fiats have sprung.

"The war department," asserted the senator, "is today executiing five major water control projects which will cost a minimum total of $218,874,000. Not one of these projects was ever 'authorized by law.' That is the language of the house committee on appropriations.

Right of Decision Lost.

"To these 'unauthorized' projects the President allocated $14,700,000 out of relief funds. The balance of more than two hundred million dollars must come from subsequent regular appropriations which congress is generously allowed to approve, without any free right of primary decision as to the wisdom of spending anything at all.

"These projects were not 'authorized by law.' But they were authorized by 'executive orders' which were authorized by law."

Among the projects Vandenberg cited as transcending the rights of congress were the trans-Florida canal, Grand Coulee dam, Casper-Alcova irrigation, All-American canal, Shoshone-Heart-Mountain, Gila and Central valley projects. Vandenberg led a successful fight in the senate recently to halt appropriations for the Florida canal, which had been started by relief funds allocated by the President.

Recalls NRA Decrees.

Vandenberg also recalled the NRA, from which no fewer than 17,866 orders blossomed at the hands of subordinates.

"The new technique can spray the nation with an infinity of subordinate and supplemented decrees on the strength of one single mandate from the chief," said the senator.

Turning to the money tinkering of the New Deal, Vandenberg said he doubted "whether any of the well-known dictators across the ocean are more formidably implemented" than the President with his powers over the monetary system.

"The President, at his discretion, may vary the standard weight of the gold dollar between 12.9 and 15.48 grains of gold nine-tenths fine," declared the Michigan senator. "That is the 'rubber dollar' of which you have heard. It could also be defined as the 'accordion dollar.'

Assails Silver Power.

"Additionally, the President may or may not at his personal will provide for the unlimited coinage of silver at any ratio with gold that he may, in his discretion, prefer. Once upon a time we considered this 'free silver' proposition of sufficient importance to make it the text of a great national election in which it was proposed to let the people rule. Now it is just an inconsequential by-product of a new order which lets the executive rule.

"The President may also reduce the weight of the standard silver dollar, if, as and when he chooses. He may also issue three billions of United States notes—sometimes called greenbacks—sometimes called 'printing press money'—if, as and when he chooses.

"Most economists believe that this latter adventure would push us out into the midstream currents of uncontroled inflation with the same resultant fatality here that has trailed similar adventures elsewhere. Congress still intermittently shadow boxes with this issue. But it long since transferred to the White House the sole right of primary decision."

Labor Board Denounced.

The senator declared that "the complacent generosity of congress in this business of delivering the people to the autocratic mercy of concentrated executive power is shockingly exemplified" in the handling of monetary matters.

The national labor relations board and the resettlement administration also came in for a lashing by the senator.

The labor board is a part of an imported European system, Vandenberg asserted, whereby the President or his appointees invent laws to govern the citizens.

"Labor should be on guard," the senator warned, "lest its increasing reliance on federal autocracy one day rob it of those precious freedoms which are the well-spring of its organized existence."

RAINS IN TWO DUST STATES LET FARMERS START WITH PLANTING

Dodge City, Kas., May 4.—(AP)—Cheered by spring rains, heavy enough in spots to flood dust fields, farmers in sections of Kansas and Oklahoma got a start today on their drought-delayed spring planting.

Field work, held back by dry weather and intermittent dust blows, began after overnight rains quenched dry fields. The rains centered in eastern sections of the dust bowl, missing southeastern Colorado and the Texas Panhandle.

One Greeley county farmer said his fields "Look like the Mississippi river had moved in."

SALESMAN HANGS SELF.

Fred W. Garden, 49 years old, a salesman, hanged himself yesterday in a room at 923 Irving Park boulevard which he rented a week ago. His wife, Alice, who lives at 1812 Byron street, said her husband had been ill for a year.

SENATORS HEAR BUSINESS CHIEFS LASH NEW TAXES

Expert Sees Program as Two Years' Task.

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Spokesmen for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, with the same witnesses who appeared before the house ways and means committee, today renewed their assault upon the New Deal's corporate tax reform bill before the senate finance committee. It was the consensus of these representatives of American business and industry that the so-called 803 million dollar tax bill is unsound, unjust, and discriminatory; will retard recovery, and imperil government financing.

FRED H. CLAUSEN.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

However, if members of the senate committee were impressed by these attacks, they did not indicate it by their questioning, which was desultory and seldom sympathetic.

Hostile to Tax Expert.

Senators Tom Connally [Dem., Tex.], Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.], and James Couzens [Rep., Mich.] were particularly hostile to Ellsworth C. Alvord, tax consultant and former treasury expert, who said it would take two years to write a workable bill based on the principle of the proposed measure. Its proponents hope to raise an additional 620 million dollars from a graduated tax on the undistributed earnings of corporations, while eliminating all other corporation taxes.

The committee on federal finance of the chamber of commerce, through Mr. Alvord, recommended that "the pending bill be scrapped"; that "new taxes should not be imposed until after a sound fiscal program, for both expenditures and revenues, has been prepared."

Business' Stand in Brief.

After reviewing the asserted purposes of the bill as claimed by its proponents, Mr. Alvord summarized the position of the chamber as follows:

"1. The 1937 budget, excluding the item for relief, will not and cannot be balanced, even assuming that all the additional taxes recommended by the administration are imposed.

"2. The staggering statements of tax avoidance under our present system are unfounded.

"3. The inequalities which the proposal is designed to remove do not exist in fact; and inequalities and discriminations will result far greater and more serious than those alleged to exist.

"4. Our income tax structure will be overburdened by the complexities, ambiguities, and inadequacies superimposed upon it by the pending bill.

"5. The same income is subjected, unnecessarily, to double and even multiple taxation.

"6. The proposal is utterly impractical, unworkable, and unsound."

The principle of taxing undistributed earnings, Mr. Alvord declared, was studied for five years by a British commission and then abandoned as unworkable.

Osgood Describes Ills.

Roy C. Osgood, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago and another member of the chamber's federal finance committee, said the bill would:

"1. Make more difficult the acquiring of capital to finance the establishment of new business enterprises, whether small or large.

"2. Increase the difficulties of the corporation which has impaired capital or credit and seeks to improve its financial position.

"3. Adversely affect the interests of bondholders and other long term creditors of corporations, besides making this type of credit more difficult to obtain.

"4. Restrict the amount of merchandise and other short term credit extension between business firms themselves and between business firms and their customers.

Would Handicap Credit.

"5. Seriously affect the ability of a great many corporations to repay existing bank loans and handicap them in obtaining bank credit in the future.

"6. Tend to increase the number of bankruptcies.

"7. Tend to diminish, if not to dry up, one of the most important sources of capital for investment in business enterprises, namely, corporate savings.

"8. Further divert capital into tax exempt securities."

FALL FATAL TO BUTCHER.

Injuries incurred in a fall at 901 West 35th street Saturday caused the death in St. Paul's hospital yesterday of Oscar Heintryk, 59 years old, 7201 South Racine avenue, a butcher.

Leaps 13 Floors to Death from Aurora Hotel Room

Mrs. Harriet Donnell, 28 years old, 333 Anthony street, Glen Ellyn, leaped from the thirteenth floor of the Leland hotel in Aurora yesterday a few hours after she registered under an assumed name. In a note she left her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rankin, 419 Anthony street, Glen Ellyn, Mrs. Donnell indicated she feared a breakdown because of ill health. Her husband, Victor, is a milk wagon driver.

WORLD'S GREATEST ROAD TEST IN FULL SWING!

RESEARCH TEST CAR

ROAD TEST RECORD OF TEST CAR
399-086

THOUSANDS OF MIDWEST MOTORISTS
Learning the TRUTH About Gasoline Mileage

● Standard Oil's gasoline mileage test is in full swing. Thousands of midwest motorists are driving thousands of miles daily in the greatest road test ever attempted . . . to answer this one important question:

How many miles per gallon of gasoline will the average driver get under average driving conditions?

We know from careful laboratory tests, that Standard's gasolines are capable of fully as long, if not longer, mileage per gallon than any other gasolines on the market.

But, gasoline mileage depends on many factors—on the car's condition, on the driver's methods, on weather, roads and speed—and Standard is unwilling to make mileage claims until those claims can be backed by indisputable facts.

So Standard has invited 300,000 car owners in the middle west to cooperate in collecting those mileage facts this summer. Standard provides all recording and tabulating material. Test car drivers have only a few simple rules to follow to become eligible for generous awards on completion of the test.

The response already has been splendid. Every day you'll see scores more of these "Research Test Cars" driving in city traffic and on country highways, exactly as you drive. Join them. Get full details from any Standard Oil Station or Dealer.

You can enter your car now

Every Standard Oil Station and Dealer is provided with a limited number of Research Test Car entry kits. You can enter your car in this fascinating road test, no matter what make, model or year it may be. There is no obligation whatever on your part—no extra driving—nothing to do beyond making an accurate report of your driving habits. The service man will explain everything.

STANDARD OIL RESEARCH TEST CAR 300000

$5,000 in cash awards for Test Car drivers

Any motorist in the following States may become a Research Test Car Driver: Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Wyoming, and Nebraska (where the test is being conducted in conjunction with Standard Oil Company of Nebraska). Any such motorist who fully complies with the simple requirements becomes eligible for one of these generous cash and merchandise awards:

Grand prize	$1,000 in cash
2nd prize	500 in cash
3rd prize	250 in cash
5 prizes of	100 in cash
10 prizes of	50 in cash
20 prizes of	25 in cash
175 prizes of	10 in cash

Also 500 fine merchandise prizes

Complete details of this generous offer are given in the road test record book which you receive when you enter your car as a "Research Test Car." Do it now—before entries are closed.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

May 4, 1936.

Wean Test Calves.

TEN sad eyed blue-gray calves are moping about the Tribune Yorkville experimental farm nowadays. It's weaning time for the six little steers and four hefers produced in the test where coal black Aberden-Angus hefers were crossed with a snow white bull to produce blue-gray beef animals.

There was a tremulous note in the bellows of these odd calves the other day when they were left alone after having been separated from their mothers for the first time. Kind treatment and the finest of feed do not satisfy them. They walk the fence line and stretch their necks to get a last look as their black mothers mosey off into the woodland pasture and over the top of the ridge where the calves cannot see them. Late in the afternoon the calves start their mornful bellows long before the cows come lowing up the lane. The calves have been allowed to run with their mothers and nurse at will day or night. The latter part of last week they were started on their new nursing schedule preliminary to the final weaning. They will be gradually taken off cow's milk. During the first four days they have been allowed to nurse only once a day. For the next ten days they will be turned in with the cows and allowed to nurse only every other day.

At the end of the ten day period the calves will be taken off cow's milk entirely. In addition to grazing in a separate deep blue grass pasture they will be fed concentrates. After they have been weaned they will be given a mixture of ground oats and corn in equal parts. They will be started off gradually on this mixture, which will be increased until each calf is getting about four quarts daily. They also will be given about one-third of a pound of linseed oil meal per calf each day. A sprinkling of bran will be added to the feed.

The calves will be kept on this ration during the summer. They will be kept away from the cows at least a month or more, or until they will not care to nurse again.

Lamb Season Ends.

The spring lambing season ended at the Yorkville farm last week. Thirty-nine ewes produced 48 lambs, or an average of about one and one-fourth lamb per ewe. One of the 39 ewes died after lambing. From this small flock there were produced one set of triplets, 13 twins, and 19 singles.

Oat Fields Green.

Spring sown oats are beginning to turn green on the Yorkville farm. Young oat plants were beginning to show through the ground in all fields last week. By Friday the oats were an inch or more above the ground in the latest field. A fairly uniform stand is beginning to show in all of the fields.

Wheat sown at the Yorkville farm this spring already is up.

Blue Grass Thrives.

Live stock on the Yorkville farm is thriving on the blue grass pastures, which have made a remarkable growth during the last week. The grass already has taken on a rich dark green color. In almost every pasture the cattle are wading in grass above their ankles. On some of the richer pastures the blue grass plants are almost a foot tall.

HARRY HOPKINS DEFENDS WPA BOONDOGGLING

Charges That Dole Is More Wasteful.

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—The dole was called "wasteful" and "an outrageous way of treating the unemployed" by Harry L. Hopkins, relief chief, today in a speech intended as a reply to Senator Steiwer, Senator Vandenberg, and others who recently have advocated a return to direct relief.

Mr. Hopkins demanded that there be "no segregation of the jobless" through dole and called for action by law to assure "a more equitable distribution of the national income," in his talk before state directors of WPA women's and professional projects.

He characterized the issue as one between "a basket of groceries and work," and remarked that he would like this issue debated "from one end of the country to another."

Mrs. Roosevelt Agrees.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who followed him on the speakers' platform, endorsed Mr. Hopkins' views and pleaded for general understanding of the problem of the jobless, an understanding she declared was necessary "if we are to come peaceably out of our present situation." She said that rich people who are afraid the jobless will throw bombs into their automobiles "must have a guilty conscience."

"You see in the papers occasionally somebody or other making speeches saying they don't like work relief," the WPA chief said. "I am firmly of the opinion from the experience I have had in five years of relief that handing out a basket of groceries day by day to people whose need is due entirely to economic factors is the most wasteful way of spending funds, the most outrageous way of treating the unemployed I know of."

Compares U. S. with British.

"Mr. Hopkins then made a defense of work relief in which he bitterly assailed its opponents and drew a sharp differentiation between England and the United States with regard to their basic relief problems.

"If you lived in England," he said, "you might argue against a great work program, but not here in America where there is so much work to be done. In New York, for instance, WPA has completed 243 playgrounds, constructing more in one year than New York had altogether before.

"I don't think work relief per se answers our economic problems, but I hope all of you doing relief work will put your minds on the economic causes and decide poverty is unnecessary in a land of great wealth like this."

Townsend Faces House Quiz Today on His Rise to Riches

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, leader of the plan to pay the aged $200 a month will be subjected to a severe grilling about his rise to riches on the nickels and dimes of his followers when he appears tomorrow morning before a house investigating committee.

The committee held an executive session late today and turned down a proposal to defer questioning of Dr. Townsend until a later date. He was subpenaed three weeks ago to appear tomorrow and rumors of his impaired health and possible confinement to a sanitarium had been frequent since then.

But the physician was reported to be busy today with a staf of accountants, preparing to answer the questions concerning the receipts of the Townsend organization, the Old Age Revolving Pensions corporation. He is said to be ready for the examination, which is expected to take several days. Dr. Townsend refused to see interviewers.

Abandon Accounting Plan.

It was learned today that the investigating committee had abandoned efforts to obtain an accounting of the Townsend corporation's finances. An accountant told members of the committee, which is headed by Representative C. Jasper Bell [Dem., Mo.], that most of the receipts of the corporation had been jotted on separate slips of paper. He estimated that at least $40,000 would be required to pay for a force of accountants who could reduce the finances of the organization to something approaching order.

Since the Townsend investigation started more than a month ago, committee members have conducted inquiries in California and Michigan which have produced revelations which have eased the minds of many congressmen. Before the investigation started many representatives were worried about the strength of the OARP and contemplated a favorable vote on putting the plan into effect despite private convictions of its lack of soundness.

Faith Believed Shaken.

But the exposure of Robert E. Clements, co-founder of the movement, as a man who took close to $100,000 profits out of his part in the program before his resignation, is believed to have shaken the faith of the thousands of followers. Dr. Townsend, according to Clements, has received equal or larger profits.

The physician will be asked by the committee tomorrow to describe his financial condition at the time he conceived the idea of restoring prosperity to the nation by paying all persons over 60 years of age $200 a month out of a "transactions tax." Twenty-four billion dollars was calculated as the sum necessary to finance the program and testimony before the committee has revealed that the raising of such a sum by a transactions tax would raise the cost of living by approximately 500 per cent.

Dr. Townsend, according to evidence collected in California by the committee, was practically without a penny and was supported by his wife, a nurse, before advancing his plan. Today he is comparatively wealthy.

ASSERTS CLAIMS AS THE WIDOW TO MISER'S $140,000

The claims of Mrs. May Thomas, 4211 North Pulaski road, to the $140,000 estate of James Thomas Kelly, flophouse miser who died here a year ago, was presented yesterday to Attorney Irwin N. Walker, 10 South La Salle street, who was appointed special commissioner by Probate Judge John F. O'Connell to hear evidence on the claims of alleged heirs.

Mrs. Thomas testified that she married Kelly, who was then known as John Thomas, in Spring Valley, Ill., on Nov. 22, 1908, and that she lived with him in Kewanee until he deserted her in Jan., 1923. She said that she bore Kelly, or Thomas, five children, the oldest of whom is now 26 and the youngest 14.

Kelly was born of Lithuanian parents at Gaelgoldis, Russia, on March 4, 1883, and his real name was Tomashaitis, according to Mrs. Thomas. Clifford Rogers, of Kewanee, testified that he knew Thomas in Kewanee and he recognized the body of Kelly at the morgue as Mrs. Thomas' missing husband.

Picks Up Snake at Faith Meeting; Dies of Venom

Bartow, Fla., May 4.—(AP)—Alfred Weaver, 35 year old itinerant, bitten by a rattlesnake during a "faith" demonstration at a revival here last night, died today, refusing medical treatment. During a meeting conducted by George Hensley, who frequently has handled reptiles in the course of his demonstrations, Weaver picked the snake from a box.

WALLACE HOLDS THERE IS LEGAL WAY OUT OF ILLS

Calls Tarif Route to Farm Slavery.

Lincoln, Neb., May 4.—(AP)—Secretary Henry A. Wallace today said he was convinced the "economic dilemma can be met in an American way and under the constitution, providing the truth is told to the people."

He told a crowd of University of Nebraska students and professors estimated by Dean W. W. Burr of the agricultural college at almost 700: "This very thing will be a challenge to every one in the next ten years or so."

"There is no easy way out," he added. "It may come to the stage where the world will be under the domination of national states, as in some foreign countries already, but this isn't the American doctrin, and I hope it never does become the American doctrin."

The address, delivered in late afternoon followed an earlier speech to a massmeeting of farmers.

To the farmers Mr. Wallace said the "outlook for agriculture is bright, but its continuance depends upon a program for agricultural improvement:

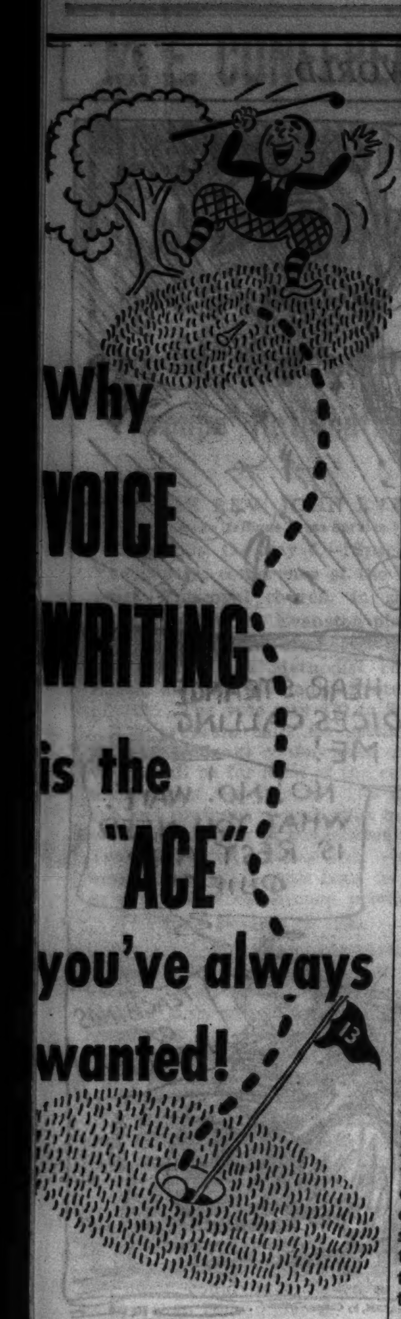
"Maintaining the present healthy supply situation, reopening further the channels of world trade, conserving the fertility of the farm plant, and developing the latent home market."

The home market, he asserted, "can only come from increasing the buying power of the large groups of people who now have little or nothing to exchange for goods."

TWO MEN WITH SAME NAME, AGE DIE SAME DAY

South Bend, Ind., May 4.—[Special.]—When Stephen Varga, 53, of 2102 South Catalpa street, died this morning the Zahoran funeral home found a strange coincidence. Another Stephen Varga, also 53, of 1923 South Catalpa street, had died ten hours earlier.

Besides coincidences in names, ages, and street of residence the men, who were no relation, each left a son, Stephen Jr., and a daughter, Elizabeth, in addition to other survivors.



Why VOICE WRITING is the "ACE" you've always wanted!

When you Voice-Write with an Ediphone, no secretary is needed. You simply talk. You are alone. And letters, ideas, sales plans, telephone call confirmations, etc., flow into action.

You do your work, easily, quickly —when you want to do it. And your secretary accomplishes more too . . . with less effort. That's why some of our golf-playing friends refer to the Ediphone as their "Ace." It chops off those extra, unnecessary strokes . . . brings scores down to par. And it increases business capacity 20% to 50% —which can be proven!

Can we "tee off" at your desk tomorrow?

Holds My FALSE TEETH Tighter and Longer

I've tried several kinds of powders to hold my false teeth. When I tried FASTEETH I found the one powder that does not thin out or wash away, but "stays put" all day. It gives a most pleasant feeling, a real sense of security and holds and holds and holds. Breath is always pleasant. If any one with loose-fitting false teeth wants all-day comfort and a real stay there fit, insist upon FASTEETH at Walgreen's or any good drug store.

THE BRITISH LOSE THE ETHIOPIAN WAR.

Ethiopia is conquered. The British empire is whipped. The fall of the former may appear in times to come as a minor incident in the development of a continent. The failure of the latter may appear as a major event in the dissolution of the most widely spread empire, long the greatest of world powers.

For important reasons given a moral aurora, Great Britain undertook to keep Mussolini from extending his African possessions. He was reaching for the headwaters of the Nile and he planned what he hoped would become a powerful and populous Italian colony along the trade route to India. Great Britain, which forty years ago invited Italy to go in and take it, became peremptory in saying that it could not and should not be done.

The British government staked prestige and power on this decision. It made a demonstration in force against Italy by sending its fleet into the Mediterranean. It brought the league of nations into action and imposed embargoes to force Mussolini to terms. It discharged a foreign minister, Sir Samuel Hoare, who tried to make a compromise and appease Mussolini with a part of the whole.

Thus Great Britain closed the road to retreat, hoping probably that if both commands and sanctions failed Ethiopian climate and topography might win. All failed, and the mistress of the seas could not stop a military enterprise requiring as it did the transport of men and supplies overseas. The affair was right in the lap of sea power and the great sea power failed, unable to accomplish its purpose by demonstrations of force and unable to go to extremes.

It may be that the British, making the best of a bad situation, will console themselves with a bit of Ethiopia in the Lake Tsana region if they can get it. A property gain will hardly compensate for a loss of prestige in world affairs. Great Britain's position is not that of a boss nation. The Italian accepted the dare and took the best his European opponent tossed at him. He comes out winner.

The British dominions, which the world war found closely cemented in the empire with great respect for the governing class and a proper colonial regard for London, are now on their own, held only as and when and how they will. In the colonial wars preceding the American revolution the colonial soldiers learned that they had little to learn from the British army. They ceased being impressed. They were not afraid to try conclusions. They did and won.

The troops from the dominions had somewhat the same experience in Europe in the world war. They came to regard themselves as better than the troops from Great Britain and to prefer their own commanders to British generals of great name. Close association produced a tendency to separation and the British did not oppose the separatist desires, a wise decision, but not one preserving a closely knit empire.

Then after the war Ireland finally fought its way to freedom. The struggle of centuries was won by the Irish patriots. If the Free State does not satisfy the extreme Irish republicans it is at least the Free State and goes on its own and the British make few assumptions of authority. The developments as a whole may have been inevitable, but they were nevertheless destructive of empire. The prestige and importance of the once dominant country in the imperial government waned. Now, defeated by Italy in a war of national wills, the British reputation as a world arbitrator declines. It may be found later that these were the days in which a historic power closed the great pages of its career.

THEY CAN CATCH THEM IF THEY WANT TO.

Department of justice agents were on the trail of Alvin Karpis for about two years before they ran him to earth the other day in New Orleans. Without disparaging the courage of the agents in closing in on a desperado who had boasted that he would not be taken alive, the capture of Karpis was due more to endless patience than to any other one quality.

The federal agents have no monopoly on that virtue. It is the stock in trade of every good police force. Chicago had an excellent demonstration of it only recently in the arrest of the young killers of Dr. Peacock. The Karpis arrest, the Peacock murder arrests, and scores of other captures testify to the general rule that the authorities can catch any professional killer if they want him sufficiently to stick to his trail.

Months have passed since professional gunmen killed Walter Liggett, the crusading editor who charged the existence of an alliance of such criminals with state and local officials in Minneapolis. To date the sole contribution of the Minneapolis police to the Liggett investigation has been to furnish defense testimony for the gunman accused by Liggett's widow. The Minneapolis authorities could catch the Liggett murderers—if they wanted to.

FLIGHT FROM REVOLUTION.

The flight of gold from countries in Europe where revolutionary ideas cause fear and an appalling sense of insecurity is indicative of what would happen if the road were open. There would be a flight of people if America were still an asylum for the oppressed as well as a land of opportunity for the ambitious.

People threatened by the success of destructive and revolutionary elements seeking to create dictatorships can protect some of their property by sending it out of the country. Gold shipments to the United States increase whenever panic seizes the propertied class. Persons in affluent circumstances can follow their money if they choose to. They can leave their native country if they do not wish to remain and struggle and suffer, win or lose. They can expatriate themselves and there are many pleasant climes where greater personal security can be enjoyed.

The people of small means can't do this. They become the lowly oppressed unless, indeed, they join up with the radicals and seek to become the oppressors. A sober householder of industrious habits, temperate thoughts, and moderate opinions must stake all on the turn of the cards. If the revolutionaries win he and his family are swept away. He and his family have been regarded as the mainstay of orderly government. The revolution not only levels down the top, unless the dictatorship begins at the top to oppress the masses, but it destroys the independent citizen whose industry might otherwise bring him comfort but is seldom relied on to bring him wealth.

The destruction of this class of people is the setback of civilization. If their modest ambitions are not obtainable, society as we have thought it ought to be organized cannot endure. In older days people so threatened packed up such belongings as they could carry and came to the United States as to a place of new opportunity in which there was freedom. Various seemingly imperative reasons caused America to put limitations upon immigration, thus closing a door upon refugees in dark times.

We are still making a struggle in a conflict yet to be decided to preserve for the people in the United States the liberties and privileges now in process of rapid extinction in most of Europe. The French again are threatened more seriously than they have been since the Paris Commune in 1871 when Dr. Marx recognized that his proletariat had arisen with arms to overthrow government. That danger was averted when Germany released the captured French professional army to take Paris from the hands of the revolutionaries.

Spain apparently is even further on the road to communistic dictatorship than France. Europe's future is dark. Our own is by no means clear.

COMFORT AND EFFICIENCY.

Perhaps no industry has made so much from beginnings of such small promise as air conditioning. Its origin came from efforts to control atmospheric conditions in candy, cigar, photo supply and textile factories because of the necessity for protecting the product. From this research came developments which soon spread the practical application to theaters, restaurants and other places of public assembly, where inviting temperatures would increase patronage. Then came railway experiments to prove that air conditioning of passenger cars would solve the problem of ventilation which has been a bugbear to the master car builder ever since the first steam locomotive was built.

Following closely on railway adoption, the owners of office buildings commenced to realize that air conditioned space would attract tenants. Now residential construction is giving thought to this new aid to comfort. Air conditioned apartments, schools, factories are just around the corner. Indeed, a few such buildings have been constructed to show that there is no limit to the future of the industry.

The march of progress will not stop with the modernization of old buildings. The transition is not comparable with the substitution of electricity for gas or the installation of electric fans. Air conditioning is revolutionary. The building of the future will be constructed around a summer and winter cooling and heating system that will in addition both cleanse the air and control humidity. The problem becomes involved with the question of window space and, through this, lighting and architecture. The development promises a renascence of structural design, building materials, and insulation as a natural byproduct of this new boon to mankind.

Private initiative is ready to go ahead with the program as soon as that spark of confidence, long delayed by politics, manifests itself. There is no need for make work programs—raking leaves, digging worthless canals. Useful employment is begging for an opportunity to get started.

Editorial of the Day

HERITAGE OF FREEDOM.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

Back of the resolutions adopted by the American Newspaper Publishers' association lies a full year of observation and study of tendencies inimical to certain guarantees of the federal constitution. In particular, as is natural, the publishers resist assaults on the freedom of the press.

Four resolutions are adopted by the association, carrying the sentiment of publishers that the right of criticism, pledged by the country's fundamental law, is a right vital to popular government and must be fought for every time and wherever it is assailed by hostile force.

One resolution relates to the Black investigation in the United States senate with its indefensible seizure of telegrams; a second compliments the Louisiana newspapers which resisted an unjust tax law clear to the Supreme court and beat it; a third pays like tribute to the Philadelphia Inquirer for its defense of the right to criticize a public official, which right the courts affirmed. Another resolution relates to the Liggett case at Minneapolis, condemning the attempts of "politico-criminal alliances" anywhere to "abridge the freedom of the press."

The prevailing tone of the whole discussion by the publishers gives new emphasis to a fact sometimes forgotten: that freedom of the press was not guaranteed by the constitution for the protection of newspapers as such, but for the safeguarding of the rights of the people to enjoy the fruits of liberty under democratic government.

It is a right constantly under fire—never in recent years more obviously than now—and a right which freedom loving Americans should cherish and defend as fundamental to their well being.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.
Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

IT SEEMS KING HAILE already has one of the finest mansions in London over in the fashionable West End district. The king has owned it many years and he will probably live there now that Mussolini has thrown him out of his job. Ethiopia has always been described as a miserably poor country, but King Haile seems to have put away enough money to rank him when he gets to London as one of the city's very wealthy men. The barefooted, simple minded natives of Ethiopia fought, bled, and died for Mr. Selassie, and no doubt as he sits in his London mansion and sips his champagne and orders his very expensive, latest model limousine to be brought to the door he will think very kindly of his loyal subjects and drop a tear in his wine. Kings are like that. Likewise are dictators. So are birds.

OH, THIS ENGLISH LANGUAGE! Quelle horreur! The anouncement of an auction sale of pictures in Chicago says: "Each painting described in this catalogue has been expertised by competent art experts." It's been expertised and now it's going to be auctioneerized. Which pains me as an ardent lover of the English language so much that when that sale takes place I shall not be presentized.

"HE WAS SUCH a gentle, kindly man and had such nice table manners," one of the landladies with whom Mr. Karpis boarded for a time said of him. Which makes me want to eat pie with my knife and drink coffee out of a saucer and slap the first poor little match girl that asks me to buy her wares. I don't ever want to be mistaken for a Public Enemy No. 1.

THE PROVIDENT PRINCE.

A man should establish himself in life
Before he ventures to marry a wife:
A prince should grow up and become a king
Before he considers so grave a thing.
He should possess a neat little throne
And a well-fitted crown, all his very own,
And a few nice palaces and castles
With plenty of hired help and vassals,
And running water and lifts and things
That lightens the lives of the wives of kings.

All these he should sedulously provide
Before he takes to himself a bride;
Also, a room in the palace should be Equipped as an up to date nursery,
With bottles and bassinets and so on,
As the days of domestic life shall go on,
In case, as it happens sometimes, they say,
The king should discover himself one day
(For such things are human and quite inherent),
The parent, proud, of an heir apparent.

Thus with an ample appropriation
To maintain them all in their proper station,
I think he might reasonably go ahead
And woo, as a king should do, and wed.

EOLUS.

NOW THAT YOU THINK IT OVER aren't you surprised and no little ashamed of yourself that you didn't put your money on Bold Venture in the Kentucky Derby? Why, it was so obvious. There was the name Bold Venture standing out in big blackfaced caps. And it was equally obvious that your making a bet on a horse, any horse, to win the Kentucky Derby was a bold venture. Why, the whole thing was as plain as the nose on your face. And yet you didn't do it? Tsk! tsk! tsk! why, that was sheer stupidity! But yet you didn't put your money on Bold Venture! Neither did I.

"STOCK Cheered in New York."—Headline. But Chicago's amiable orchestera leader mustn't take that too seriously. It was a New York audience and they cheered because they thought he was Wall Street stock.

WE'VE ALWAYS REGARDED the printing press as one of the greatest achievements of man. It has been held as the greatest spreader of knowledge, of the big brother of Liberty, and the greatest boon generally to humanity since Adam and Eve got the bum's rush from the Garden of Eden. But now that we're threatened with inflation—and all you've got to do to have inflation is to turn the printing presses loose—well, it starts one wondering whether the invention of the printing press was such a great help after all.

STATIC.

I met her walking home from work last week,
Her reddened hands pressed flat against her breast;
The little knock-kneed woman who hires out
At thirteen cents an hour (fifteen at best).
I asked her: "How are you?" "Not spry," she said
"I was to see the Doctor yesterday . . .
He gave me a prescription for my chest . . .
But sixty cents is such a lot to pay!"
"Yes, medicines are high." I smiled, and then
I placed in her thin hands a dollar bill.
Confused, she thanked me, and then went her way,
Coughing and panting, up the steep gray hill.

Today again I met her in the street.
"Did the prescription help?" I asked, and she Blushed as she said: "I hope you will not mind,
But with the dollar that you gave to me
I had the radio fixed. It would not work—
For six months now we kept it in the attic.
The children loved to play it when it sang,
But could no longer use it for the static."

ROSA ZAGNONI MARINONI.

IS BRIDGE GAMBLING? That is still the question in the New York law courts. I don't know, but I'll bet you one thing; if bridge wasn't gambling there would be darned few people who would play it.

BREAST MILK BEST FOR BABIES.

WHENEVER we wander far afield from Nature's way of doing things, we are likely to encounter difficulties. Mammals, including the human species, provide milk for their young and there is no other food—no matter how skilfully compounded—that is as efficient. Nevertheless, there is an apparently increasing movement to minimize the importance of breast feeding and to emphasize the perfection of artificial food mixtures.

But, you say, we should take into account the demands of modern life—social, domestic, and business—upon the time and attention of the young mother. To do so we would be compelled to admit that she is willing to surrender her babe's birthright to her own convenience. No real mother will place her comfort ahead of the welfare of the newborn infant. Even though a child seems to thrive on artificial food there may be lacking a large measure of intangible elements [immunity to disease] that cannot come out of a laboratory. The baby's open sesame to life is the milk of a healthy mother. As Oliver Wendell Holmes said, "A pair of substantial mammary glands has the advantage over the two hemispheres of the most learned professor's brain in the art of compounding nutritious fluids for infants."

Every woman approaching motherhood should be instructed in the importance of breast feeding and the precautions demanded for the production of good milk. Improper dress, constricting brassieres, and all types of clothing which exert undue pressure upon the nerves and blood vessels of the breasts are contraindicated.

Now and then a mother will not be able to secrete sufficient milk for her infant. This is accounted for in many cases by bad environment, unhappiness, nervousness, poor housing, lack of fresh air, sunshine, and outdoor life; or possibly overemphasis upon social life.

If the mother is well, the new babe should be put to the breast 12 hours after birth and allowed to nurse one breast for five minutes every four hours. Milk flow will usually begin on the third or fourth day after delivery. Even before normal milk has been established, a dilute solution of milk sugar may be given to prevent an appreciable loss of weight. As soon as the milk arrives in full force the baby is put to breast every two and a half hours and allowed to nurse for 20 minutes.

Regularity is essential. If sleeping, the baby must be wakened and kept alert while at the breast. Night nursing after 10 o'clock is to be avoided, although in some instances a 2 a. m. feeding will be necessary. This break in the mother's rest—if permitted at all—should not continue after the sixth week, as the baby will sleep the night through, provided enough food has been supplied during the daytime.

One of the cardinal signs of insufficient food is crying and fretfulness. After the infant is two weeks old the amount of breast milk taken at each feeding should average at least two and a half ounces. Young mothers should not be disturbed if the baby spits or vomits occasionally because of an overabundance of milk. If the symptom persists, however, it is sometimes found to be due to too much fat in the mother's diet. This factor is easily corrected.

Complete weaning should occur about the ninth month. As the breast milk begins to fail supplementary bottle feeding will be needed, although the flow of mother's milk may be stimulated by proper diet and the use of large quantities of fluids.

As most of us know, deaths from intestinal upsets are more common in infants under 1 year of age. The possibility of such an event is greatly decreased by breast feeding. There are fewer chances for error. All in all, there is but one real justification for the inauguration of bottle feeding at the outset, and that is the presence of some disease on the part of the mother which would influence the quality of the infant's food.

I want to believe that mother love still exists in the world and that it is powerful enough to adopt every measure that will help to preserve life.

NO CONNECTION.

A. W. W. writes: As a child I had a running ear, the result of scarlet fever and diphtheria. The discharge cleared up after treatment. The doctor said the condition was caused by a growth in the ear, and friends have told me that this means cancer. Do you think I have cancer?

REPLY.

There is absolutely no connection between inflammation of the middle ear and cancer. You had a pus infection [not a growth] which ruptured the ear drum and drained to the outside.

VOTE BUYING, NEW STYLE.

Olney, Ill., April 29.—There is a law on the statute books of most states, including Illinois, which would appear to make it a misdemeanor to sell one's vote. In Illinois it carries a severe penalty and one convicted may be disenfranchised.

In days gone by we have seen instances where members of the electorate, for the paltry sum of 50 cents or a dollar, could be persuaded to violate the law and go to the polls to exercise their right of franchise in favor of the party or person paying them. All this cost the political party or person making the purchase considerable money.

Nowadays the technique is different. The taxpayers' money is used for this purpose. The theory is that all those on relief, or who receive AAA checks or work relief, are supposed to be so grateful that they will vote to retain the hand that is drawing the checks, so that they can receive more relief or more checks. Lest any of them might feel ungrateful and be prompted to bite the hand that is feeding them, leaders go about a day or so before the election and caution these recipients that it would be well to vote right on election day. And so votes are cast not with the viewpoint of good government or bad government, but with the viewpoint of continuing the flow of checks from the federal treasury.

No, we no longer sell our votes—that is, for 50 cents or a dollar.

TAXPAYER.

A VARIETY OF DEALS.

Oak Park, Ill., April 30.—The Square Deal turned out to be a misdeal.

The New Deal turned out to be a raw deal.

Now there is talk of an Ideal, with the accent, of course, on the I.

When are we going to be allowed to play a couple of rounds with the cards that have been dealt us, and a fixed value on the tokens?

It doesn't seem to be very sportsmanlike for the dealer to be constantly changing the rules during play, either. Besides that, the take of the house is getting to be way out of reason. The ante is too doggone high. Let's quit shuffling, and call for a showdown.

SCHOOL REVENUES AND EXPENSES.

Chicago, May 1.—The board of education has announced it will have an outside paid attorney at all hearings for personal property and real estate tax reductions, for the protection of the board. This is an excellent idea, but I would like to suggest further that the board employ another outside attorney to sit at its budget hearings to see that the money is correctly appropriated, no pay roll padded, no unncessary buildings built, and no unnecessarily high salaries paid. With both attorneys functioning properly, there will be more than ample funds.

A. DIXON.

PARABLE.

Chicago, April 30.—Folks, you cannot forget the awful days of January and February. Temperatures were frequently much below zero. Snow and ice covered the ground. There were deep drifts blocking highways and railroads. Automobiles by the thousands were frozen and buried in the snow. Farmers were isolated, and many suffered from cold and hunger. Transportation of all kinds was almost paralyzed. Business was necessarily at a low ebb. All persons whose duties required them to be outdoors suffered utmost tortures. The underprivileged class knew nothing but misery. Many persons were in despair. Some had almost abandoned all hope. Those were miserable days, which none of us want to ever see repeated.

Then along came the fourth day of March. Things began to improve. The thermometer's daily readings were in higher levels. The skies began to clear. The snow began to melt. Such drifts as had been blocking the highways had been removed. Trains again ran on schedule. Automobiles were dug out and again were running the length and breadth of the land. Policemen, postmen, truckmen, and other outdoor workers could again perform their duties without intense suffering. Now after two months we find everybody in more comfort. Even a blind man can see the difference. "We planned it that way." "We are on our way."

NONSOCIALISTIC DEMOCRAT.

NEWS.

Chicago, April 30.—Has the World's Greatest Newspaper lost the nose for news, which faculty distinguishes the great metropolitan newspaper from the small town journal?

The writer asks this question after reading the wild prophecies of imminent disaster to this nation, promulgated by one Dr. William A. Wirt of Gary, Ind. I would not be surprised to read such an article in the Toonerville Clarion, but am shocked that the article appears in a metropolitan newspaper and is classified as news.

This is not a brief for or against the brain trusters in Washington, nor have I any opposition to the free expression by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE of its policies, political or otherwise. The writer's objection is solely to the point that you classify this story as news when according to your own statement two years and nineteen days have elapsed since the Hoosier schoolmaster promulgated his opinion.

JOSEPH L. TOOHEY.

THE SCHOOL LEAVING AGE.

Chicago, April 29.—Mr. Roosevelt says that he wants all children to go to school until they are 18 years of age. He does not say who will support them until that age, where their parents are unable financially to do so; and I have not seen any explanation offered as to how they will be supported in such circumstances. Furthermore, it seems to me that boys or girls between 17 and 18 years of age would be ashamed to allow their parents, if poor, to support them.

INVENTORY OF ESTATE.

Oak Park, Ill., April 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Where can I obtain a copy of inventory of an estate, death having occurred in November, 1934, but not closed yet? As I am a member of the family concerned, [2] can I obtain this copy without the others knowing about it? 3. Is there a time limit as to when you can obtain same? 4. What is the charge? 5. Where shall I obtain it?

W. J. S.

1. From the clerk of the court, assuming that an inventory has been filed.
2. If you order the copy through the clerk's office, then your order stub will be technically open to inspection, but as a practical matter it does not seem likely that it would be noticed.
3. No.

STEPS TO CITIZENSHIP.

Chicago, May 1.—Friend of the People.]—Could my father, who has been in this country for thirty years and raised a family of three boys in this country, apply for citizenship papers, although he cannot read or write nor even sign his name?

M. M.

An applicant for final citizenship papers must be able to speak English, sign his name and have a knowledge of our form of government and its institutions.

There are classes in English and citizenship training being conducted free of charge in the public schools throughout the city. Information as to the location of these may be obtained at the adult education department of the Chicago board of education.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MANILA.—The Philippines' recurring Japanophobia flared up anew recently when President Quezon, with half of his cabinet, the speaker of the national assembly and ranking assemblymen, suddenly rushed to Davao, the Japanese colony in Mindanao, ostensibly to find a way of stopping Japanese land grabbing.

To date 14,000 Japanese, backed by practically unlimited capital from home, have acquired legally or illegally 60,000 hectares of the most choice areas in Davao around the gulf, constituting half the province's cultivated area.

They have invested some 200,000,000 yen [about $58,000,000], control most of the business of the province, employ 50,000 Filipinos, own their schools and churches, and trade directly with Japan and the outside world in Japanese-owned ships. They are declared to be unassimilable, constitute a veritable part of the Japanese empire, and control the biggest bay in the southern Philippines, just 500 miles from Palau Island, the southernmost Japanese mandate.

The Japanese concentration in such a strategic position, together with the rampant violation of the land laws, has long been considered a serious Philippine problem. It is even more so regarded today because of two new developments in the islands. In planning their national defense the Filipinos are coming to realize that, with their possession of Davao gulf, the Japanese have already penetrated the Philippine defense lifeline.

Before the inauguration of the commonwealth the Philippine government regarded the problem as inherently that of congress, which legislated on Philippine land and mineral wealth. Coupled with this was the fact that the American governor general, after all, was responsible for Philippine policies. Today, however, the commonwealth possesses this legislative power and the Filipino president shapes the policies. Thus the Philippines finds itself heir to the onerous Japanese problem.

President Quezon has not so far revealed his own solution. Nevertheless, the secretary of agriculture and commerce has repeatedly recommended enforcement of the law which disqualifies aliens from acquiring by purchase or lease portions of the public domain. This would mean cancelation of the questionable leases.

It is reported that President Quezon's tentative plan is to expand the penal colony in Davao and with every reasonable inducement attract native settlers to the province with a view to forging a steel belt around the Japanese settlements. Even this plan may be a boomerang, as the Japanese may not only successfully face the competition but may also benefit from it by buying out native colonists.

M. E. CONFEREES ADOPT EVANSTON PLAN OF MERGER

Proposal Requires Other Groups' Ratification.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Columbus, O., May 4.—[Special.]—The general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, in session here, accepted the Evanston plan for the reunion of the Methodist Episcopal church, the Methodist church, South, and the Methodist Protestant church. The vote was 470 to 83.

The program calls for setting up six jurisdictional conferences, one of which will be for most of the colored members of the church. The northern and southern church split in 1844 over the problem of the colored race. The Methodist Protestant church broke from the parent body in 1821 over laymen's conference privileges.

Plan Devised in 1935.

The plan, which was completed in Evanston, Ill., last summer, will now be sent to all annual conferences of the northern church, at least three-fourths of which must officially approve it. The southern church does not meet until 1938, and while the Methodist Protestant general conference meets during the present year, the reunion could not be effected until three-fourths of the southern annual conferences assent to the plan.

Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf of Chicago, following the vote, said the ecclesiastical machinery in the southern church might be speeded so that the union could be achieved a year earlier than contemplated.

The southern bishops, Bishop Waldorf explained, now consider sending the plan directly to their annual conferences for action prior to the 1938 general conference. If three-fourths of those conferences approve, it would require a two-thirds vote of the 1938 general conference to complete the formal steps of the enterprise.

Called "Historic Day."

"This is a historic day for all Protestantism as well as for our own church," said Bishop Waldorf. "Our action will stimulate other church union movements which will reunite other families of churches and thus gradually reach into larger and more exclusive merges."

While the six to one vote indicated opposition to the merger, yet the spirited debate on the separate jurisdiction for colored Methodists pointed to a much closer contest. Opposition was led by colored members of the conference and by members of the liberal and radical groups.

Dr. L. O. Hartman, editor of Zion's Herald, Boston, Mass., spokesman for social and economic liberals, and Dr. Ernest F. Tittle, Evanston, whose radical preaching brought about the resignation from the church of Burt J. Denman, public utilities executive, led the attack.

Argue Over Program.

"It is now proposed," said Dr. Hartman, "to put an official stamp on the segregation of our colored brethren. It not only represents no progress but a definite backward step in the field of race relations."

Dr. Tittle declared the plan involved denial of principles of human brotherhood. These arguments were answered by Dr. Lynn Harold Hough of Drew university, former president of Northwestern university, who said Dr. Tittle and Dr. Hartman, like Don Quixote, were tilting at windmills.

Miss Winifred Chappelle, a secretary of the radical federation for social service of the Methodist church, stated that this federation informally opposed the merger on grounds of racial discrimination.

Denies Discrimination.

This discrimination was denied by Dean Albert C. Knudson of Boston university, who declared ideas of inter-racial amalgamations are non-Christian and mainly arise in countries where pagan internationalism is fostered.

The Rev. Dr. E. Guy Cutshall, chancellor of Nebraska Wesleyan university, declared the merger is necessary as a preliminary step toward united church defense against encroachment of government on schools, colleges, and other philanthropic enterprises.

OCEAN SHIP DOCKS HERE AFTER 27 DAY TRIP FROM NORWAY

Capt. Even Larsen, master of the steamer Vigor, owned by the Fjell Lines, docked his ship in the Chicago river alongside the North Pier Terminal warehouse yesterday morning after a twenty-seven day run from Bergen, Norway. He said he lost four days due to ice conditions near Port Colborne in Lake Erie, and his ship was the first to come through the ice.

The Vigor brought a cargo of 1,420 tons of herring, sardines, cod liver oil and wood pulp, and carried three passengers, Mrs. Amanda Arneson, her daughter, Mrs. Walbjorg Hyatt, and Mrs. Hyatt's 3 year old son, Wallace Arvid.

CAPTAIN TELLS TRIBUNE SHIP'S FIGHT WITH ICE

New York News First in of Paper Fleet.

CAPT. FERGUSON.

The New York News cleared the Welland canal and forged out into Lake Erie on April 30 after making only seven miles through the ice on the three preceding days.

Other Ships Due Today.

The three other boats in the newsprint fleet, the S. S. Thorold, the S. S. Shelter Bay, and the motorship Chicago Tribune, will arrive today. The Thorold is twelve hours behind the New York News, the Shelter Bay ten hours behind the Thorold, and the Chicago Tribune four hours behind the Thorold.

Capt. Ferguson explained that the abnormal cold this winter had caused thick ice to form in Lake Erie. The ice was driven to the far eastern end of the lake and with the coming of spring the cakes piled on each other, presenting a solid frozen expanse of more than 400 square miles.

"On April 26 a big coaler forced its way into the Welland canal," Capt. Ferguson said, "and we figured that if it could get in, we could get out. Then our obstacle race began. On Monday [April 27] we made only a mile. The next day we managed six miles. The fog was so thick that you couldn't see.

Boat Finally Breaks Through.

"The big pieces of ice loomed up in front of us. We couldn't go through, we had to go around. Wednesday we made little progress but on Thursday we broke through. That day we had to stand by for two hours when the S. S. Sarnian, bound from Toronto for Fort William, broke down about 20 miles from Port Colborne, Ont. By 5:30 p. m. Thursday we were clear of the ice."

The vessel had clear water through the Detroit river, Lake St. Clair, the St. Clair river, and Lake Huron. It then passed into Lake Michigan through the Straits of Mackinac.

Today the New York News will take on a cargo of soy beans at South Chicago for delivery at Montreal.

CITY'S HUBBUB INJURES HEALTH, DOCTOR FINDS

Acoustical Engineers Hear of War on Noise.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Until research and invention develop a device for measuring a person's temper, no adequate determination is possible of the disastrous results of noise on city inhabitants, according to Dr. W. P. Morrill of the research department of the American Hospital association, in an address before the Acoustical Society of America yesterday. The society, made up of sound engineers, is holding its fifteenth annual convention in the Hotel La Salle.

Dr. Morrill said one investigator learned that the rumble of a truck raised blood pressure and increased muscle tension of its hearers. Noise on a normally busy street, it was found, impairs hearing one-third, while loop street noises cut down hearing ability from one-half to two-thirds. Although this is only a temporary impairment, a residue of injury is likely to remain.

Serious Hazard in Many Cases.

The fatigue and wear and tear resulting from noise were found not only to make it hard to live with the noise victim, but constitute a health menace. Noise is disclosed, Dr. Morrill said, as a positive hazard in acute disease and in wasting diseases, and hospitals are faced with the problem of noise from without and within.

Air conditioning in hospitals is a help, as it means that windows are closed, and general construction is tighter, the doctor informed the society.

Dr. Harvey Fletcher, director of acoustical research in the Bell Telephone laboratories and chairman of Mayor La Guardia's technical advisory committee on noise abatement, also spoke at the society's luncheon.

Tells of New York's Penalties.

He recounted the recent six months' educational program sponsored by the mayor in New York and the ordinance drawn up by the committee and passed last week naming twelve specific unnecessary noises. Fines of from $1 to $10 for violations are provided, with a 10 days' imprisonment for the fourth offense.

Sounding of horns except as a danger signal, the excessively loud playing of radios after 11 p. m., construction work on buildings except between 7 a. m. and 6 p. m., and the use of a drum, loud speaker, or other device to attract attention to merchandise displays are outlawed. It is illegal to keep a bird or animal that makes repeated loud noises.

SILENT DINNER TO BE GIVEN FOR KING'S DOCTOR

New York, May 4.—(AP)—The League for Less Noise announced tonight it will hold New York's first "applauseless dinner" tomorrow for Lord Horder of Ashford, physician in ordinary to King Edward of England.

Instead of applause there will be a raising of hands by the massed diners.

There will be no music, singing, or amplification of speeches.

When and if the noise in the dining hall passes 45 decibels, a red signal light will flash.

Guests are to have a minimum of silverware and waiters have been warned not to clatter crockery.

Lord Horder is head of London's League for Less Noise.

WPA WILL QUIZ 3,000 HERE ON BUYING HABITS

312 Queries to Be Put to Patient Ones.

Three thousand Chicagoans are being called upon to answer 312 questions put to them by Works Progress administration workers in an "urban study of consumer purchases."

The Chicago project is only one phase of the nation-wide "sampling survey" which has been started in scattered communities in a New Deal effort to learn the buying habits of citizens.

Several Bureaus Involved.

In charge of the project here is Miss Sybel Loughead, with headquarters at 343 South Dearborn street. She said the survey is under the auspices of the bureau of labor statistics of the department of labor, in coöperation with the national resources committee of WPA and the department of agriculture.

Two hundred WPA workers, two-thirds of them men, are being paid $85 and $94 a month—of 130 hours—to apply the questionnaire to families having incomes of more than $500 a year.

A Sample of the Detail.

Typical of the detailed nature of the survey are the 25 questions asked on food expense, which is one of the 15 sections included in the questionnaire. The food queries cover the amount spent per week and per month for groceries, meat, fish, dairy products, ice cream, candy, soft drinks, and beer, and the citizen is asked how much food he buys from hucksters. He is also asked how much he spends for school and work lunches and for food on vacations.

The surveyors will also inquire into family expenditures for living quarters, household operation, medical care, recreation, reading, tobacco, education, automobiles, gifts, and taxes. Because of the questionnaire's length, the interviewers have been instructed to get the information in installments, when necessary.

Boy Swallows a Pin; Fed Cotton and Mashed Spuds

Indianapolis, Ind., May 4.—[Special.]—Cotton and mashed potatoes is the diet of William Ellis, 11, as physicians sought tonight to prevent serious injury from an inch-long pin he swallowed at play. Physicians said the cotton and potatoes may prevent it from penetrating the stomach or intestines.

NEW RELIEF PLAN IS ADVANCED FOR CITY AND COUNTY

Suggest Welfare Bureau Carry On After July 1.

A plan was advanced yesterday to have the Cook county board of public welfare administer relief funds raised by the city of Chicago and the 31 country townships in the county after July 1, when the powers of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission are due to expire. It was forwarded to the city council and the county board with the approval of the special relief committees for the city and the county.

The plan was outlined to a joint meeting of the committees by Douglas Sutherland, executive secretary of the Civic Federation and Bureau of Public Efficiency.

Present Situation Outlined.

Under present legislation the city of Chicago and the townships outside the city throughout the state will take over the relief burden July 1, levying a tax of 30 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation to raise funds to supplement relief revenue from the sales tax. Pending in the legislature is the Billman bill, sponsored by Gov. Horner, which would transfer the duties of raising and administering the funds to the counties.

Sutherland urged that in Chicago and Cook county the county welfare bureau be given the duty of administering relief, but that the job of fund raising be left with the city and townships. The bureau would spend in the city and in each township only the amount produced by these governmental units for relief purposes, plus proportionate sums from sales tax revenue.

65% of State Relief Here.

Leo M. Lyons, executive director of the relief commission which last week had its powers extended to July 1, appeared at the meeting to explain that about 65 per cent of the state's monthly relief requirement is needed for indigent families in Cook county.

The state legislature will resume its special session on the relief problem tonight.

Members of the old age pension staf of the county welfare bureau yesterday received their first salaries from the state totaling $6,000 for the last half of March. Joseph L. Moss, director of the bureau, announced he had invited James H. Andrews, state pension head, to come to Chicago for a conference on the relationships between the county and state pension units.

ALBERT BUNTE, CANDY MAKER, DIES OUT WEST

Founder, with Brothers, of Business Here.

Albert Bunte, one of the founders of Bunte Brothers Candy company, one of the oldest and largest confectionery concerns in the country, died yesterday at his home in Berkeley, Cal., according to despatches.

Mr. Bunte was born 81 years ago in Westphalia, Germany. He came to America with his three brothers, Ferdinand, Gustave, and Charles. Charles remained in Philadelphia where the Buntes first entered the candy business. The others came to Chicago and in 1876, with Charles A. Spoehr, founded the candy concern which later became Bunte Brothers.

Mr. Bunte retired in 1929, the same year his son, Albert Jr., opened the western branch of the company, of which he is now president and manager. Theodore W. Bunte of the Edgewater Beach apartments, son of Ferdinand, is now president of the original company.

Surviving Mr. Bunte are his son, and two sisters, Mrs. C. B. Chase and Mrs. E. L. Reimer of Chicago. Arrangements are being made to return his body here for burial.

POLICEMAN SAYS COMRADE HELPED IN FLOGGING PLOT

Bartow, Fla., May 4.—[Special.]—Police Sergeant H. W. Barney, testifying against seven of his former brother policemen on the Tampa force, said today that he saw one of the officers holding Eugene F. Poulnot, a victim in the Tampa flogging cases, as the latter tried to escape while being dragged into an automobile in front of the police station.

The seven suspended policemen are on trial for kidnaping Poulnot, a labor leader, shortly before he and two companions were seized by a mob and taken out to a woods where they were beaten, tarred, and feathered.

Sergt. Barney, on duty as jailer on the night the men were seized, testified that he saw Poulnot dragged into an automobile at the time of the abduction just outside the Tampa police station. He named former Policeman John P. Bridges, one of the seven defendants, as the man who held Poulnot as he struggled to escape.

TEXANS PARADE, INVITE CHICAGO TO CENTENNIAL

Mayor Kelly and other Chicagoans were invited to attend the Texas Centennial exposition, opening at Dallas on June 6, by Gov. James V. Allred of Texas and a delegation of Texas business men and officials in the mayor's office yesterday. The Texas group arrived on Sunday after a tour of eastern cities. The invitation was echoed by Jimmie, Gov. Allred's 6 year old son, attired as a cowboy.

The Texans, led by the Long Horn band of the University of Texas, paraded from the Palmer house to the Board of Trade. Capt. Leonard Pack, chief of the 200 rangers and trafic policemen of the centennial, rode in the procession on his horse, Texas. Gladys Marian Pharr, 8 years old, called the "drum minor" of the Long Horn band, marched at the head of the musicians.

2½ Million Estate Left by Seattle Bachelor

Seattle, Wash., May 4.—(AP)—An estate valued at $2,500,000 was left by the late Willard E. Hauser, Seattle contractor and capitalist, who died of heart disease in Minneapolis March 15 after being taken from a train. Hauser, a bachelor, left no will.

E. J. Brown, Borden Milk Plant Superintendent, Dies

Dixon, Ill., May 4.—[Special.]—E. J. Brown, 48, superintendent of the Borden Milk company, died here yesterday. He has been with the company 30 years, coming here from the Frankfort plant nine years ago.

JAS. WIGGINTON LEAVES $175,000 TO HIS FAMILY

The will of James Wigginton, retired contractor, an early resident of Evanston, was admitted to probate yesterday. Two grandsons, Wesley Wigginton, 1010 Main street, and James H. Wigginton, 2108 Pioneer road, both of Evanston, were each left real estate trusts of $50,000. The principal of Wesley's trust will pass to him when he is 25 years old, and that of James when he is 40. The balance of the $175,000 estate is left to an only son, James D. Wigginton, 1115 Oak avenue, Evanston. The elder Wigginton, who was 88 years old, died on April 25 in his home at 1118 Oak avenue, Evanston.

The income from a trust fund to be established from the $75,000 estate of Robert Hurni, an official of the Alfred Israel company, millinery concern at 126 North Union avenue, is to go to his widow, Gertrude, 6535 North Maplewood avenue, according to the terms of his will, which was admitted to probate. Mr. Hurni died Feb. 2 at the age of 53.

Other wills admitted to probate included the following:

ARTHUR MAYER, estate, $25,000; to son, widow, nephew, and niece. Louis C. Jacobson, executor.

MARGARET TRAUTNER, estate, $5,500; to brother and niece. Peter Trautner, brother, executor.

BERTHA BELLAK, estate, $15,000; to two sons and daughter. Bernard A. and William O. Bellak, sons, executors.

FRANK D. HIAG, estate, $10,000; to widow, Louise S. Hiag, executrix.

JAN CHLEBIK, estate, $8,000; to two brothers and five sisters. Stephen Chlebik, brother, executor.

JOHN BERNATOWICZ, estate, $10,000; to four sons and two daughters. Francis Bernatowicz, daughter, administratrix.

DISCUSS SINGLE LANGUAGE FOR SHORT WAVE USE

A preliminary conference on a plan to adopt some universal language for international short wave radio broadcasting was held yesterday in the Hotel Sherman. The meeting was called by E. H. Scott, radio engineer and inventor. College and university professors and consular representatives of several countries who attended the meeting were asked their opinions on what language would be most practical for such use. Among them were W. R. Kingery, professor of languages at Northwestern university; Prof. Antonio Rubio of the romance language department of De Paul university; Francois Alabrunc, vice consul of France; V. D. Seaman, secretary of the foreign commerce committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce; John D. Dritses, Greek consul, and Erik Wedel-Heinen, vice consul of Denmark.

WOMAN LEAPS TO DEATH UNDER SUBURBAN TRAIN

While several waiting passengers looked on yesterday Mrs. Sadie Becker, 47 years old, 1215 Independence boulevard, leaped from the platform of the Garfield Park station of the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin railroad into the path of a westbound suburban train and was killed.

Witnesses corroborated the statement of Motorman D. L. Bertrand that Mrs. Becker waited until the train was about 20 feet from her before leaping.

Because she carried no purse or other means of identification, police had difficulty in learning her name. Finally she was identified by her son, Mel Becker.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Norm Ruvell, young Chicago singer, may be the next radio personage to join that ever-expanding company of entertainers who have achieved fame and fortune through association with Paul Whiteman. Paul discovered this young man, who had sung with Art Kassel and Orville Knapp during his recent professional talent quest here. He summoned him to New York for a personal audition, and was so pleased with his performance that he immediately signed him to a long term contract.

A group of former protégés of the "Dean of Modern Music" recently formed the Paul Whiteman alumni organization. Among the charter members are Morton Downey, Bing Crosby, Jane Froman, Mildred Bailey, George Gershwin, Ferde Grofe, Jack Fulton Jr., Ramona, and Johnny Mercer. Perhaps Ruvell may get to join them some day.

The Master Beauticians of Illinois have discovered that gentlemen [of radio] do not prefer blondes. They polled Chicago orchestra leaders and other radio personalities, and found that with the exception of Henry Werber and Harold Stokes of W-G-N, who are married to blondes, there was a pronounced preference for brunettes. Kay Kyser, Freddy Martin, Joe Sanders, Bernie Cummins, Frankie Masters, all lean heavily toward the dark type of beauty. Jack Hylton tactfully expressed his appreciation of all types. Pat O'Malley, Hylton's Irish singer, reported that he doesn't trust blondes, and fears red heads. [His wife is a brunette.]

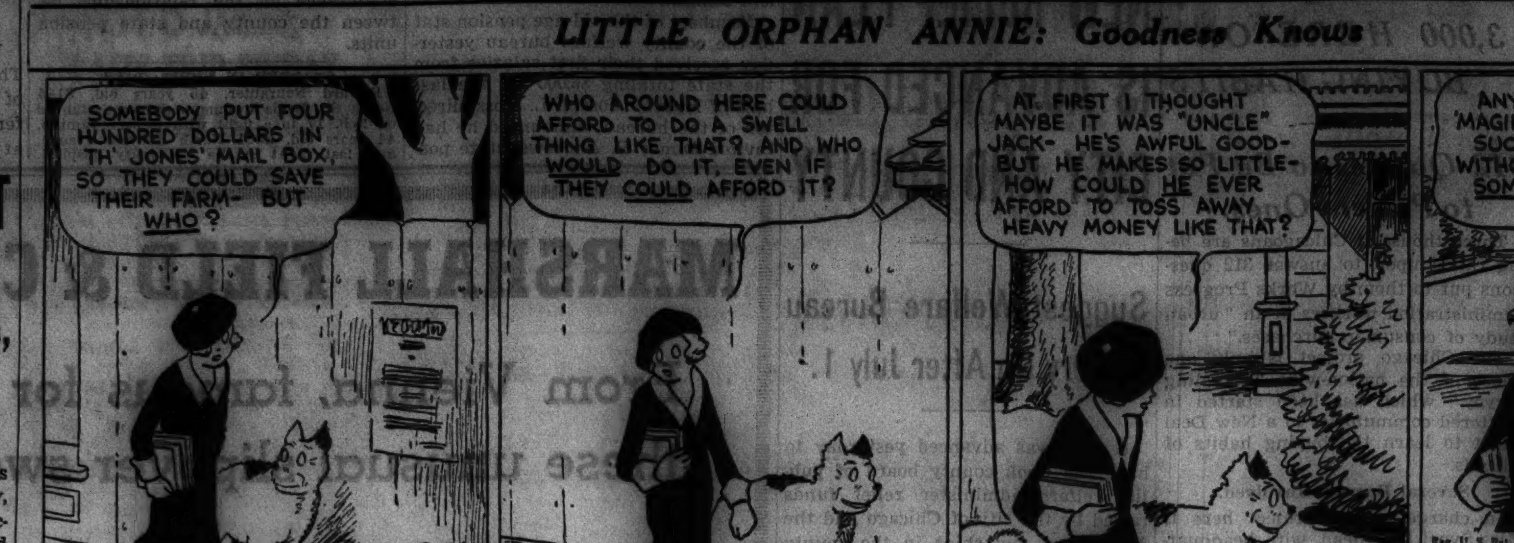
Bruce Kamman, who is radio's Professor Kaltenmeyer, boldly declared in favor of blondes. Pat Barrett, who is Uncle Ezra, is a loyal supporter of the red head, but she must be full of pep. Jim Jordan, who is Fibber McGee, adores only Irish brunettes. But one must remember that he was recently declared the world's champion prevaricator by the Burlington Liars club.

It's a seven pound boy in the household of Sunda Love, the hostess of W-G-N's Friendly Neighbor's House Party. The baby, her first, was born at Edgewater hospital yesterday, and is to be named Ronald. Miss Love is the wife of Lawrence V. Rosenthal, Chicago attorney.

Bess Flynn [Mother Moynihan] was still beaming around W-G-N studios yesterday. She had her money on Bold Venture. . . . Russ Hodges, WIND sportscaster, seriously ill with a throat ailment for a week, is now reported out of danger. . . . Roy Shield, NBC central division musical director, has departed by motor for California, where he will do the musical accompaniment for Hal Roach comedy. He will be gone a month.

Young radio aspirants who are given auditions by NBC will also be given a movie test if they appear to have talent that might prove attractive in Hollywood. J. Ernest Cutting, director of auditions, will take charge of the line which forms at the right. . . . Gov. Alfred M. Landon, Republican presidential candidate, will submit to his first radio interview in the living room of the governor's mansion in Topeka at 8:30 p. m. Thursday over WBBM-CBS. H. V. Kaltenborn will ask the questions.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Goodness Knows



SOMEBODY PUT FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS IN TH' JONES' MAIL BOX, SO THEY COULD SAVE THEIR FARM- BUT WHO?
5-5-36
WHO AROUND HERE COULD AFFORD TO DO A SWELL THING LIKE THAT? AND WHO WOULD DO IT, EVEN IF THEY COULD AFFORD IT?
AT FIRST I THOUGHT MAYBE IT WAS "UNCLE" JACK- HE'S AWFUL GOOD- BUT HE MAKES SO LITTLE- HOW COULD HE EVER AFFORD TO TOSS AWAY HEAVY MONEY LIKE THAT?
ANYWAY-- CAN YUH 'MAGINE ANYBODY DOIN' SUCH A KIND DEED WITHOUT BRAGGIN' TO SOME ONE ABOUT IT?

FATHER AT 94 GIVES DEATH HORSE LAUGH; EXPECTS TO BE 110

New Bern, N. C., May 4.—(AP)—George Isaac Hughes, the man who became a father at 94, predicted today he would live to be at least 110 years old.

"My grandmother, Katie Tillman, lived to be 110 and I expect to live longer than that and I'll bet you I'm just as physically fit then as I am now," the old man said.

He ridiculed reports that a recent respiratory infection had so impaired his health that he might not live to see his next child born. He and his 28-year old wife are expecting its birth in June.

"My health is good," the old confederate veteran announced. "I'm improving all the time."

DECLARE STOCK DEAL OF DETROIT BANKERS 'SHAM'

Defense Insists Method Common Practice.

Detroit, Mich., May 4.—[Special.]—Accounting of the former Peoples Wayne County bank was condemned as a "sham" and defended as in keeping with the traditions of 50 years, as trials of three Detroit men growing out of the 1933 bank holiday were resumed today.

Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone of Wausau, Wis., cut corners and obtained a jury of fourteen this forenoon by directing the examination. They include thirteen women and one man. Only twelve will participate in the verdict.

John R. Bodde, former president, Donald N. Sweeny and Edwin J. Eckert, former vice presidents are the first defendants, charged with having made false entries in reports to the federal reserve and conspiracy.

Prosecutor Tells "Sham."

Special Prosecutor Guy K. Bard charged that their trusteeship of 1,143 shares of holding company stock worth $144,950 originally, for which they gave a note, was a "sham" to avoid accounting for the stock as "securities held" in the bank report.

Defense Counsel Frank D. Eamon said it had been the practice of the bank for fifty years to purchase closely held stock on customers' orders and that the transaction was a holdover from days long before the stock was listed on market exchanges.

The customer had reneged on his order and the trusteeship was created to await a favorable resale, he said.

"There was no concealment," Eamon said. "Contrary to the charge here of attempting to defraud, these defendants, by giving the note placed their financial resources behind it and strengthened the security which the bank already had in the stock. "There was no possible opportunity for them to make a personal profit."

Holiday Destroys Value.

The bank holiday destroyed the value that existed in the holding company stock.

It is not charged by the government that any defendant profited personally by the transactions, but rather that in proper reports concealed the true condition of the bank.

The court took pains to instruct the jury that the indictment is no proof of guilt.

Judge Stone took over the trials on special assignment after disqualification of Judge Ernest A. O'Brien of Detroit, on an affidavit of prejudice by the prosecution, in a legal fight which lasted more than a year.

He expects to remain here three weeks and tentatively has scheduled three trials.

PIQUETT IS JAILED; AWAITS TRIP FRIDAY TO FEDERAL PRISON

Attorney Louis P. Piquett lost two attempts in federal courts yesterday to win a 30 day stay of his sentence of two years in the penitentiary for conspiracy to harbor the slain Dillinger gangster, Homer Van Meter.

With his attorney, Hubbard C. Mullins, Piquett first appeared before Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan, in whose courtroom a jury last June found him guilty of the harboring charge. After hearing the motion for a stay Judge Sullivan ruled he had no jurisdiction as Piquett had appealed his conviction to the Circuit Court of Appeals, and from there to the United States Supreme court, where he finally lost last week.

Without comment, Judge Sullivan refused to extend Piquett's freedom. As the lawyer left the courtroom, he was taken into custody and locked in the county jail, where he will stay until he is started for Leavenworth prison on Friday.

PICK 4 PEACOCK JURORS; QUALIFY FOR DEATH VOTE

The first panel of four jurors was accepted yesterday by state and defense in the trial of Emil Reck, 19 years old, and Michael Livingston, 17 years old, for the murder of Dr. Silber C. Peacock, before Judge Joseph Burke in Criminal court. The jurors were qualified for the death penalty.

The panel was the result of a day of monotonous examination of veniremen, during which Attorneys Joseph Edelman, and Lloyd Faxon, representing Reck, and Paul Thurlow, representing Livingston, exhausted nine of their forty peremptory challenges.

Finally, late in the afternoon, Judge Burke announced he would keep the court in session until a panel was chosen. Within a few minutes, four men were accepted.

They are Henry Wich Jr., 1241 North Springfield avenue; George T. Knowles, 8405 South Throop street; Henry G. Lipke, 10928 Indiana avenue, and Rudolph Kocka, 2942 73d court, Elmwood Park.

Assistant State's Attorneys Marshall V. Kearney, Blair Varnes, and John S. Boyle defeated efforts to gain a separate trial for Reck.

Judge Burke granted habeas corpus writs to bring from Joliet penitentiary as defense witnesses Durland Nash and Robert Goethe, who pleaded guilty of killing Dr. Peacock.

'Aerial Bootlegger' Guilty in Fake Tax Stamp Case

Peter D. Pinkussohn, 40 years old, 1518 Thorndale avenue, who was known during the prohibition era as the "airplane bootlegger," was found guilty yesterday by Federal Judge William H. Holly on charges of possession of counterfeit revenue strip stamps and plates for their manufacture. Judge Holly continued the case until tomorrow when he will pass sentence. The maximum penalty is five years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

U. S. DETERMINED TO TRY KARPIS IN HAMM KIDNAPING

Case Is Called 'Air Tight'; $400,000 Bail Sought.

St. Paul, Minn., May 4.—[Special.]—The government is not interested in Alvin Karpis' alleged confession and decision to plead guilty to the kidnapings of Edward G. Bremer and William Hamm Jr., because it has an "air tight" case against him, George F. Sullivan, United States district attorney, said today.

Sullivan said he would ask $400,000 bail for Karpis, one of the largest amounts ever demanded in a federal court.

Quizzing Continued.

"We have to try the other defendants in the Hamm case anyway," Sullivan said, "so we don't care whether Karpis pleads guilty or elects to stand trial. Just one more defendant means nothing to us since we are convinced he will be found guilty."

Federal agents continued to question the deposed public enemy No. 1 about the two kidnapings and other crimes with which he has been linked. The desperado has been held shackled and guarded by federal agents in the department of justice's office since he was brought here Saturday by airplane from New Orleans, where he was seized without a shot being fired.

Ready for Arraignment.

Sullivan said he is prepared to arraign the outlaw as soon as the federal agents complete their questioning. When the grilling ends, Karpis will be turned over to the United States marshal's office to be transferred to the Ramsey county jail. Sullivan said that so many charges, including murder, face Karpis that he will ask $100,000 bail on each of the four indictments against him.

Clinton W. Stein, head of the department of justice office here, refused to comment on reports that Karpis has confessed and indicated willingness to plead guilty to one of the kidnaping charges.

Stein said the decision as to whether to turn Karpis over to Missouri officials for the killing of Sherif C. R. Kelly at West Plains is up to the United States attorney general or the federal bureau of investigation in Washington. Karpis is under indictment for the slaying in Missouri, where capital punishment is legal.

CAPTURE OF KARPIS PICTURED AS GIANT FEDERAL RAID BY AIR

The capture of Alvin Karpis at New Orleans last Friday was disclosed by airline sources yesterday as a record air raid by the United States justice department.

They said that the net which trapped the gunman was drawn by plane from New York. J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation, chartered his "flying patrol wagon" at New York airport on Thursday.

Speed was essential. At New Orleans the big plane was kept under cover at the airport.

Not until the gangster was sped to the New Orleans flying field for his trip to St. Paul was there any hint of an air chase.

The "flying patrol wagon" cost almost $3,000. The airline distance from New York to New Orleans to St. Paul to Chicago to New York—the route Hoover and his aids traveled—is 3,600 miles.

RELIEF CLIENT HANGS SELF.

Albert Ahner, 79 years old, 1436 South Wabash avenue, committed suicide yesterday by hanging himself with a robe in the bedroom of his home. He had been on relief.

DEATH PENALTY TO BE ASKED IN FISH POND CASE

Suspect Asserts He Was Beaten by Police.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 4.—[Special.]—District Attorney Buron Fitts tonight said he will insist on the death penalty for Robert S. James, barber, accused of having drowned his fifth wife after thrusting her foot into a den of rattlesnakes, supposedly to collect her insurance.

Fitts said he would appear before the grand jury Wednesday and ask that a murder indictment against James be returned without delay. It was planned to speed the barber to a quick trial.

Meanwhile, James challenged a "confession" attributed to him by the prosecutor. He said he had been beaten by police and would plead innocent to any charge in connection with the death of his wife, Mrs. Mary Busch James, 28.

Bears Marks, He Says.

"I was beaten up and forced to make those confessions," James told newspaper men. "I am all black and blue yet. I haven't signed any confession. I'm going to court and plead not guilty and clear myself."

James accused his friend, Charles Hope, an ex-sailor, who said the barber held some "hypnotic spell" over him, as the slayer of Mrs. James. Hope is held as a material witness. The men agreed, Fitts said, that the woman had been drowned in the bath tub of her home. Each accused the other of the crime.

Deputy Prosecutor Eugene Williams said Saturday that Hope told him James held his wife's leg in a box of snakes while she was strapped on a table. Hope said the barber later told him the woman had been drowned. Her husband and a companion found her body in a fish pond in their garden.

Fitts said Colorado authorities had been asked to reopen an investigation of the drowning of James' third wife, Winona Wallace, whose body was found in the bath tub of a resort cottage several years ago.

House Votes Bill Raising J. Edgar Hoover's Salary

Washington, D. C., May 4.—(AP)—A bill boosting the salary of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau of investigation, from $9,000 to $10,000 a year was passed by the house today and sent to the senate.

SAVE YOUR HAIR this scientific way

"There's no excuse for a man to get bald today—when a few minutes a day of simple care can keep hair growing all his life!" states Charles Nessler, inventor of permanent waving.

Charles Nessler's PRO-KER treatment is based not on the old theory of "Stop falling hair". That has been proved impossible. PRO-KER is based on Mr. Nessler's vital discovery: "The important thing is to replace hair that falls with new hair—in short to complete the hair growing cycle."

RELIEVE DANDRUFF—ITCHING—OILINESS

No matter what your age—no matter how great your hair loss—whether you suffer from dandruff, itching or oiliness—Pro-Ker will help your scalp back to normal. The Pro-Ker Treatment will encourage your scalp to replace falling hair with new, healthy hair—promptly relieve such secondary conditions as dandruff, itching and oiliness.

Keep young. Complete your hair cycle with PRO-KER. Easy and pleasant to use—and amazing in results for both men and women. For sale at all drug counters.

Good Morning!

Movie fans are certainly getting a lot of laughs for their money in the loop houses this week!

Making the rounds I discovered them in stitches over—1: "Petticoat Fever." 2: "The Moon's Our Home." 3: "The Widow From Monte Carlo." Tell you about the first two this morning.

"Petticoat Fever" is lively farce adapted from the Mark Reed stage play in which Dennis King, Doris Dalton, Ona Munson, and Leo G. Carrol had the leading rôles.

As Dascom Dinsmore Robert Montgomery enters the scene. He's a radio operator at a lonely Labrador station and when the picture opens he's discovered having the wallowing willies induced by solitude.

Then —out of the skies comes first aid! A plane, bound for Montreal, carrying a pompous Sir James Felton and his lovely fiancée, Irene Campion, makes a forced landing. . . . The two seek shelter in Dinsmore's desolate shack.

Mr. Dinsmore goes [apparently] completely nerts over the opportunity of playing host to the first woman [and such a gorgeous one!], white, whom he's seen in years. He buzzes around her like a fly in sticky weather and makes himself completely obnoxious to Sir James—who regards him as utterly mad. . . .

In the two proverbial shakes of a lamb's tail, Dascom falls in love with Irene. . . .

Amusing complications follow that result in Irene's discovery that she's far from indifferent to her polar Romeo. Things are being just the way the audience has hoped they would be when—ZAM!—the door opens and who do you think walks in?

I'll never tell you—but it wears skirts! . . .

Just take it from me that "Petticoat Fever" is a lot of fun! The piece is brightly written, smartly acted, effectively staged, and moves along at a lively clip.

The fact that in its coldest Labrador-ish-est moments you can't see anybody's breath on the air detracts some from stark realism. But I told you, didn't I, that the film's a farce comedy?

Then don't be so fussy!

"THE MOON'S OUR HOME."
Produced by Paramount.
Directed by William A. Seiter.
From story by Faith Baldwin.
Presented at the Garrick theater.

THE CAST.

Cherry Chester [Sarah Brown]	Margaret Sullavan
Anthony Amberton [John Smith]	Henry Fonda
Horace Van Steedan	Charles Butterworth
Mrs. Boyce Medford	Beulah Bondi
Mitty Simpson	Margaret Hamilton
Lucy Van Sttedan	Henrietta Crosman

Ogden Holbrook	Lucien Littlefield
Lem	Walter Brennan
Babson	Brandon Hurst
Abner Simpson	Spencer Charters
Chauffeur	John C. Spacey
Miss Manning	Margaret Fielding

This is nutty—but O, so nice! If you're in the mood to just let down and enjoy yourselves over nuttin' [Pardon, please!]

The action revolves around two temperamental plus young people—Cherry Chester, a movie star pursued by men, and Anthony Amberton, an author explorer, chased by women—who want to live life their own way.

Cherry, a cross between a complete darling and a psychopathic case, is scheduled by her grandmother to marry a certain innocuous Horace Van Steedan. [Charles Butterworth.] But she doesn't want to do it! SHE DOESN'T WANT TO DO IT—!

Anthony, driven frantic by persistent female admirers, pants to get away from it all . . .

The two of them have heard about one another and, from WHAT they've heard have conceived an intense mutual dislike. They meet, in remarkable fashion—as Sarah Brown and John Smith!

At a snow blanketed New Hampshire resort, whither both have fled—for various reasons—they become better acquainted, under the same names. A bet results in a marriage. Cherry's perfume, which makes Anthony just plain sick at his stomach, brings about a speedy separation, and then the problem is—to find each other again.

They solve it.

Margaret Sullavan and Henry Fonda do one grand job of comedy-romantic team work. Didn't know they had it in 'em! Neither player has ever been cast in such a rôle before, and they hand you the surprise of your lives by their unsuspected flair for sparkle and drollery.

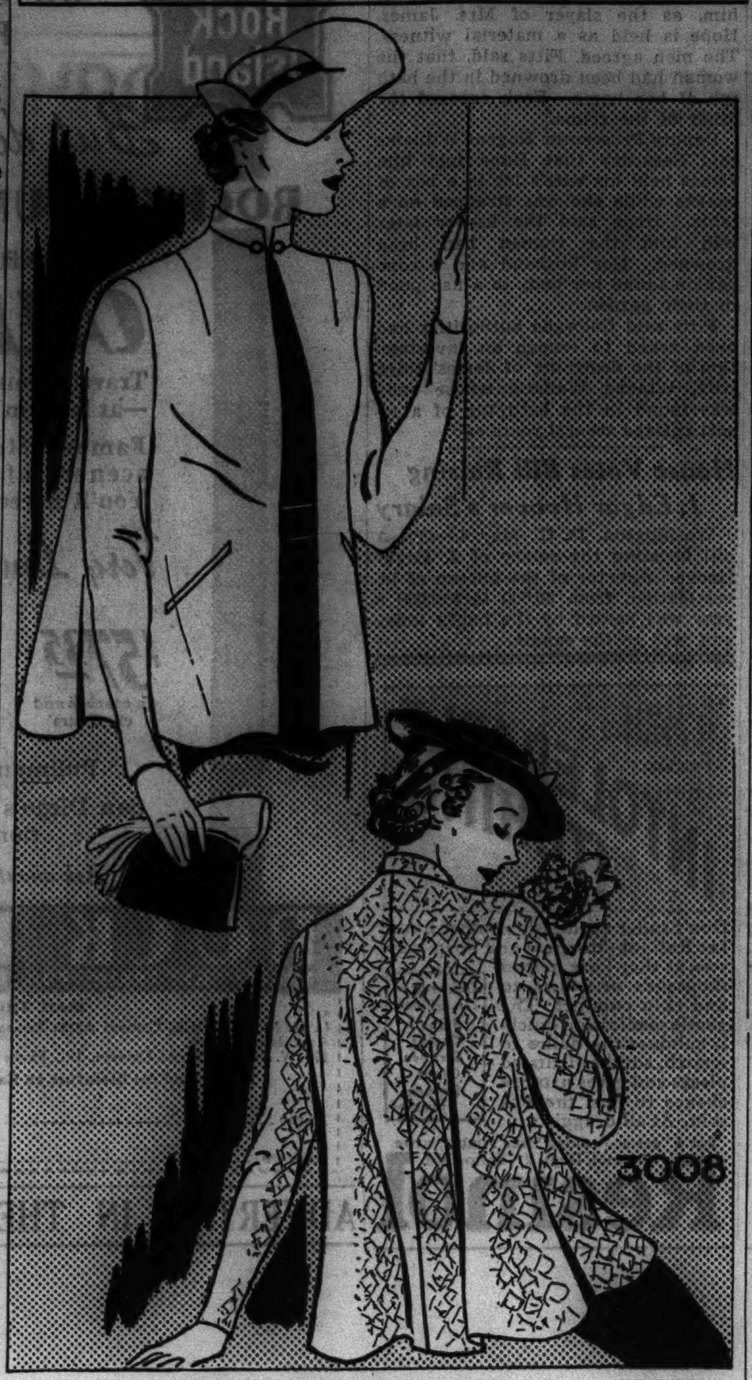
Beulah Bondi is awfully funny as Cherry's companion. Henrietta Crosman is an old peach as her grandmother. Charles Butterworth does a characteristic bit and you never saw minor rôles better taken care of than they are in this movie!

Direction—swell! And the dialog's a delight.

The audience laughs right straight through "The Moon Is Our Home"—and if that isn't a recommendation for a comedy, I don't know what is.

See you tomorrow.

Short Coat with Many Uses



WOMAN'S AND MISS' COOLIE COAT.

This short coat, in the Chinese coolie manner, is a smart accessory for your late spring frocks and an indispensable wrap for cool summer evenings. It also is the ideal finish to formal evening attire in warm weather. Its flared lines make it flattering to any type of figure, since its fullness conceals overweight in bust and hipline and lends breadth and softness to the silhouette which could do with a few extra pounds.

The smooth fit of the shoulders and the brief but tremendously chic collar are among the style points of this coat which are worthy of praise.

The original of this little coat is both springlike and summery in lightweight wool of a plain, wheat colored shade. In this plain color, or any other solid shade, this brief wrap is attractive with print frocks now that the season for them really is here. You are, of course, doing some earnest planning now in regard to your hot weather wardrobe. You will want this coat in summery colors and fabrics.

Style No. 3008 is designed for sizes 14, 16, and 18 years, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 2⅛ yards of 54 inch material, with two yards of 39 inch lining.

Actress Routs Annoyers with Trick Doorbell

"Go 'Way, Let Me Sleep," It Tells Early Callers.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., May 4.—[Special.]—Steffi Duna, who has starred in two all color films, the first one being the short novel "La Cucaracha" and the second being "Dancing Pirate," which as yet is unreleased, has a passion for evading casual acquaintances and those persistent tradesmen who make life annoying to solvent people in Hollywood.

The dark haired Hungarian beauty recently took a new retreat on the edge of the traveled portion of Hollywood, a colonial type mansion well up the side of Lookout mountain. There is no street number and when Miss Duna wants someone to visit her, she provides a map.

If somebody else chances upon her hideout, she has a trick doorbell which is attached to chimes that sound the melody of "Please Go 'Way and Let Me Sleep" up to and including the noon hour. That's the hour when Miss Duna arises when she's not working on a film.

Virginia Sale and her husband, Sam Wren, are others who have been driven to a yerning for privacy. Their troubles began soon after the birth of the bouncing Wren twins, a boy and girl, now 2½ months old, when advertising men seeking indorsements began to become pressing. The Wrens have had their private phone number changed a couple of times to balk the baby soap hounds. Virginia is Chic Sale's sister.

Preston Foster has a new sport which requires only a yacht to play it. As he owns a 58 foot power cruiser Goa III, it's all right in his case. The sport is water skeet shooting. All required is a lot of old electric light or flashlight bulbs. He ties them on a string, gets out his rifle and sees how many he can hit as they zigzag by on choppy seas.

Four thousand persons stormed Pickfair last Saturday afternoon when Mary Pickford threw open her estate for a Parent-Teacher association benefit seeking funds to send underprivileged city schoolgirls to summer camps. Approximately $1,500 was raised for the girls' fund.

For the first third of the year, 1936 Hollywood's standing on marriage as versus divorce, is as follows:

	April	Year to date.
Engagements announced	2	19
Marriages performed	10	42
Separations announced	2	9
Divorce suits filed	5	36
Divorces granted	8	40
Babies born	1	15

Warner Oland [Charlie Chan] on returning yesterday from his trip to the orient, said his characterization of the Chinese detective seemed, somewhat surprisingly to him, to be even more popular in Japan than in China. He visited big cities in both countries.

"But in China they kept me so busy signing autographs that I actually lamed my right hand and couldn't eat, shave, or scratch with it," he said.

Oland hurried back in response to a cable from the studio to start another thriller of his series, titled "Charlie Chan at the Race Track," at Twentieth Century.

Martha Ray, singing comedienne from New York, almost stole the show from the guest of honor, Bing Crosby, when friends of the crooner gathered for a hurriedly assembled birthday luncheon in his honor at Paramount studio café Saturday.

Miss Ray climbed up on a grand piano and sang a ballad which related the story of Crosby's life, words specially written but tune consisting of a succession of melody themes from the countless songs Crosby has crooned.

CAPITALIZING OPPORTUNITY.

A bridge acquaintance recently poured a typical tale of woe into my weary and defenseless ears.

"Did you ever see such a lucky player as So-and-So?" [He named one of the country's outstanding experts.] "It is simply fantastic the things he gets away with! His opponents seem to get acute cases of brain fever when he becomes the declarer. They actually pour points into his lap. All he has to do is sit still and receive them!"

Having just watched the expert named play a few hands I was well prepared for rebuttal.

"Has it ever occurred to you," I asked, "that So-and-So is one of the most astute inducers and capitalizers of mistakes in the world of bridge? Let me show you a hand I just saw him play."

This was the hand. He sat South.

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

The bidding:

SOUTH	WEST	NORTH	EAST
1 spade	2 hearts	3 clubs	4 hearts
5 diamonds	Pass	Pass	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

Undoubtedly South's bidding was highly aggressive throughout, but both of his bids were predicated largely by his freakish distribution. Moreover, he knew that the opponents were not capable of perfect defensive play.

West opened the heart king. Dummy's ace won and South discarded a spade. Dummy now led a spade. East hopped up with the king and next proceeded to make a play that resulted in his own downfall; he cashed the spade ace. Obviously he should have shifted to a trump after the first spade to prevent ruffs in dummy.

But even though East helped out with this miserable defense declarer still had a thorny path to follow, and it is highly improbable that many players would have reaped full benefits from the error. East, after winning two spade tricks, followed with the ten of hearts; South ruffed and led a low spade. West split his trump honors to force dummy's queen. A trump to the ace put declarer back into his hand, and now a difficult problem had to be solved. Declarer still had the queen and 10 of spades and East had the guarded jack. Only one trump, the jack, was outstanding. If East had this vital card South's low spade could be ruffed with dummy's remaining trump, and the contract claimed. But if West had it he would overruff dummy on the spade lead.

South decided that West's void in spades strongly indicated that the trumps had not originally been divided 2-2, and proceeded to play according to that decision. He ran off every trump, which forced East to blank his club king in order to guard the spade jack. Now the spade queen squeezed West; he could not guard both the club suit and dummy's heart.

Thus South, taking brilliant advantage of East's poor defense, fulfilled his double contract.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Popular Girl Usually Has Strict Morals

Wrong of Rivals to Cast Aspersions Her Way.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Girls, girls, do stop that business of underrating the moral values of young women who have men running after them. We wouldn't mind the attacks so much, perhaps, if you weren't so painfully smug about your own virtues. You're good, you write. You won't bring yourselves to do what these other girls do to get attention. You won't be cheap. Et cetera.

The poorest argument you young women can present, for the good of your own defense, is to assume that a more popular young woman must be gay and free and careless with her favors. Suppose you are light, even, in one or two cases within your social set. It still does not bear the stamp of justice in assuming or in broadcasting what lies on the tip of your tongues about your more successful rivals. It isn't reasonable to assume that a girl must be the things you mean when you raise a mean eyebrow and whisper the rival's not all she should be, just because she is popular. It is not grownup thinking.

Anyway, it is a wrong state of mind to entertain. As long as you keep thinking it, your own chances of becoming popular are weakened. Certainly it makes no hit with a young man to have you voice a suspicion against the character of a girl of whom he has no reason to believe anything but right. You're simply raising a prejudice against yourself, not against the other girl.

It isn't bright thinking, we repeat. You know yourselves how you are prejudiced against any person whose conversation shows a mean, critical, jealous mind. You hate, as do we all, the one who licks her lips and admits: "Yes, she's this and that BUT." Don't be one of those BUT thinkers.

If you girls, who do so well at your studies or jobs, but aren't successful about attracting men, would set yourselves to mastering the technique that gets them by watching, studying, and copying the girls who do know the game, you'd soon find out that you do not have to sacrifice any of your moral principles. You'd discover quickly that many of the girls you're so quick to judge are better women than you for the simple reason that they go around looking for the best in people.

Miss Ranney Will Be Bride of W. Hasler

Announcement Is Made at Parents' Tea.

BY JUDITH CASS.

It may be imagined that May 4 always will be a red letter day to the Ranney sisters, for just a year ago yesterday the George A. Ranneys' elder daughter, Dorothy, was married to Gaylord Donnelley, and yesterday afternoon the engagement of her younger sister, Cornelia, to Wyndham Hasler was announced.

Just a few intimate friends were invited to tea and cocktails at the Ranneys' Astor street apartment yesterday to hear the romantic news, which is not altogether unexpected, since Miss Ranney and Mr. Hasler have known each other for years. Young Mr. and Mrs. Donnelley were there, of course, to congratulate Mr. Hasler and to receive congratulations on their own anniversary. They decided to forgo any other celebration of the occasion for fear of its being anticlimactic.

Miss Ranney is the second debutante of the season to become engaged, excepting Miss Mary Elizabeth Armstrong, whose wedding to Arthur Clayson Swallow Jr. took place last winter. It is a coincidence that Miss Ranney was presented at a ball given during the Christmas holidays for her and for Miss Barbara Hutchins, since Miss Hutchins was the first debutante to become engaged. Her engagement to John Borland was announced in January.

Mr. Hasler is the son of Mrs. Edward L. Hasler, and is the brother of Mrs. John McLaren Simpson. He attended St. Paul's school and was a member of the Fly club at Harvard, where he was graduated in 934. He is in business in Chicago.

Miss Ranney went to school at Dobbs Ferry and since her debut has been studying painting. She is planning to spend the summer in Lake Forest with her parents. The Ranneys have taken Mrs. Thomas Marton's house for the summer and are moving there the first of June. No date for the wedding has been set.

Russell Tyson to Lecture at Goodman on Collecting.

Russell Tyson, chairman of the Orientals, will lecture on "The Amenities of Collecting" at 3:30 p. m. today in the little theater of the Goodman theater. The Friends of China, as well as the Orientals, have been invited to hear Mr. Tyson and to see a number of fine Chinese porcelains which he purchased recently in London, where he went to see the noted Chinese exhibit. Charles Fabens Kelley, who saw the exhibition with Mr. Tyson, will give an illustrated talk about the British visit. Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, and Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland, all of whom attended the exhibit in London, will pour at tea following the meeting.

Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Barrett Wendell have just returned from Lenox, Mass., where they went for the funeral last Friday of George Higginson Jr. Countess Gianguilio Rucellai of Florence, Italy, is arriving in about two weeks for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Higginson. Count Rucellai is in the Italian army and will not accompany her.

Postponed Hutchinson Party for Orphans Is Today.

The party that will be given this afternoon for the children of the Chicago Orphan asylum really is the annual Hutchinson day party, although today is not the birthday of the late Charles L. Hutchinson, who left a bequest providing an annual party for the orphans. Usually the party is given on March 7, but this year the weather was bad so the party was postponed.

Members of the board of the asylum have planned a party for this afternoon that they are sure will delight the children. Mrs. Laura C. Boulton is to talk on "African Animals, Birds, and People." She will illustrate her lecture with records of African music and with primitive instruments which she brought from Africa. The party will be at the asylum headquarters, 4911 Lake Park avenue.

Mrs. Otto G. Schmidt is president of the board and among the members are Mrs. Howard Shaw, Mrs. Stanley Filley, Mrs. Ernst Freund, Mrs. Caryl Young, Mrs. Neil B. Dawes, Mrs. Roger Q. White, and Mrs. Botsford Young.

Three jars of creams that could proudly stand in a row on any wise woman's dressing table. One is for cleansing, one for softening and one is a smooth foundation. All three come in a smart new box that is a beauty bargain.

Here and there about town this week and for a few to come you'll find a smart special package of three creams. One big jar and two little ones—and as pretty jars as you've ever seen. Not fancy, understand, but with the enduring beauty of good design.

Not that we think packaging should sway you. It's what's inside that counts. In this case what's inside is just about one hundred per cent perfect—and the fact that the jars are so delightful simply tops perfection.

In the large white jar is a cleansing cream, with the faint, clean scent of lavender. This cream is a pure, rich one—recently changed a little bit in formula and therefore more gooey than it once was. We like it this way—it's smooth and, while it isn't a liquefying cream, it's fairly light in texture. It is a good all around complexion cream, primarily a cleanser, that can be used as a softening cream, too.

But in the special package you'll find a small, beautifully modeled jar of night cream that you'll like immensely if you're one of the dry skinned women. This is superlatively rich and its sole purpose in life is to oil the skin well. Use it faithfully for just a short time and watch the flakiness disappear!

The third jar, this time pink and pretty as the other two, contains a swell foundation cream that acts as a protective and that keeps the make-up intact for hours on end. It's satiny in texture, but won't turn shiny after an hour's wear. Your skin will look smooth and suave if you use it as a base.

This package of three creams is a tremendous bargain.

Game—

NONSENSE game players. Reginald Gardiner, who imitates wallpaper and trains and arm chairs unforgettably in "At Home Abroad," dashed out of the Ambassador with Beatrice Lillie and Eddie Dowling, on their way to the Grand for the evening performance, and stopped long enough to demand, holding up his cigaret for attention: "What's this—if I have a cigaret in the other hand, too?" I shook my head in ignorance.

"Two cigarets in the dark," replied Mr. Gardiner, grinning fiendishly, and got into the taxicab for the dash to the theater.

Margot Grahame, English star of "The Informer," played the same game with paper and pencil, before she took train for New York Saturday.

"What's this?" she queried, drawing a straight horizontal line, a straight vertical line, and a little jagged line part way up the vertical line. Then, seeing complete mystification at the result of her drawing, explained: "Soldier going around a corner."

* *

BURGESS MEREDITH, who made audiences weep with the beauty of his characterization in "Winterset," waved his right hand toward his left arm and his left hand toward his right arm simultaneously, in a definitly idiotic sequence of gestures. "What's this?" he demanded. And added, no answer being forthcoming, "Farewell to Arms."

A gentleman in our party came back from the bar after intermission during the Russian ballet at the Auditorium. Passing his hand over his head, he looked up questioningly. "What's this?" he queried, repeating the gesture. Then explained triumphantly: "Over the week-end."

A fellow worker approached this desk and hastily drew a horizonlike straight line, a curved arc, and a featherlike projection from the top of the arc.

"Well?" I asked.

"Indian behind a rock," he smirked, and walked off.

SIGNORA GHIONE came to America with her distinguished husband, who will wield the baton for the Detroit Civic Opera company's performance of "The Dybbuk" Thursday evening at the Auditorium. Before leaving Milan she was commissioned by friends to make several typically American purchases while she is in this country. Signora Ghione has been here less than a week, but she complained to Grace Denton that she walked almost the length of 5th and Madison avenues in New York and found most of the store windows inscribed "New York, London, and Paris." Now the wife of the first conductor at La Scala wants to find a typically American store in Chicago, in which to buy typically American merchandise. It is too bad that Signora Ghione cannot take back a hot-dog or a malted milk, or a double chocolate ice cream soda, or what the fountain lunches call a toastwich, and be sure of having something unmistakably American.

THE "Ho-Hum" column in the Loyola News, the Loyola university student's weekly, has come to attention, filled with sprightly japes. One story says Father Shiel asked in history class: "What modern business method was used in ancient times?" To which Tom Buckley replied: "The loose-leaf system, in the Garden of Eden."

Boosts Texas Centennial.

Mrs. Charles Clinton Jones of Dallas, Tex., visited Chicago yesterday in the interest of the Texas centennial exposition in Dallas, which will open June 6 and continue through Nov. 29. Mrs. Jones extended an invitation to Chicagoans to attend the exposition through John Babb, newly elected president of the Chicago Texas society. Mrs. Jones is president of the Dallas Foundation of Music Clubs.

Art Institute Court Gay for Antiquarian Society's "At Home"

The McKinlock court of the Art institute was never gayer than yesterday afternoon for the Antiquarian society's "at home," with lovely Triton fountain in play and pots of vari-colorded hydrangeas and striped umbellas set about it.

The weather was so chilly, however, that the members and their guests contended themselves with admiring the effect from indoors.

Mrs. Joseph M. Patterson received informally after a scholarly talk by Carl Greenleaf Beede of Boston on such aspects of antiques as collectors' clubs, the Paris flea market, and chairs from pre-historic days down to the present. Mrs. Patterson wore a broad brimmed hat of black straw with a silver fox cape over a flowered print dress.

Mrs. Potter Palmer III., lovely in a black straw hat trimmed with wheat ears of different colors, alternated at the tea urns with Mrs. A. Thomas Taylor, Mrs. Errett Van Nice and Mrs. Conway H. Olmsted. There were at least three mothers there with their daughters, Mrs. Charles Deering and Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, Mrs. Secor Cunningham and Mrs. Aldis J. Browne, and Mrs. Thomas W. Hinde and Miss Sarah Hinde.

Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland, Mrs. Bartholomay Osborne, Mrs. Arthur Meeker, Mrs. Potter Palmer, Miss Harriet Stuart, Mrs. Frank B. Mulford, Miss Sarah Walker, Mrs. Silas H. Strawn and Mrs. Edward D. Shumway were among others there.

Play by Odets Is Honest View of Bronx Life

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

The Group Theater, which has confined its activities to New York for the last five years, made its Chicago début in the Selwyn theater last night with "Awake and Sing," a drama by a writer from its own ranks—the much discussed, young and somewhat radical Clifford Odets, white hope and eager messiah of modernist tendencies on the American stage. The "Waiting for Lefty" lad—that will serve as a hasty identification. The piece whose local première was observed with interest by the first-nighters of the American Theater society's subscription list, is a later, more ambitious, and more normal opus.

The impression that the group gives on making its bow is excellent. It presents Odets' picture of a lower middle class family of Bronxians [Jewish, of course] with close fidelity to type, skill in genre character acting, and admirable balance of ensemble. The interpretation is, in general, better than that of the average Theater Guild company, as seen in Chicago, with the glamour of the Guild's stars omitted from the equation. These Groupers appear to be close students of their material and expert practitioners of theories of realism.

Their production does not prove that Odets is the greatest dramatist in the world, as much of the propaganda on his behalf asserts; but neither does it betray him as the worst. In "Awake and Sing" he has accomplished his purpose—a close study of the emotional and economic life of a family of typical inhabitants of the Bronx.

To come into close sympathy with this piece, one must get a hint of the author's motive. He has tried to present a picture of life among the minor flat dwellers of the Bronx which would bear comparison with the work of the Russian, Tchekhov, particularly in the latter's classic, "The Cherry Orchard." As the latter portrayed the decay of a family of Russian aristocrats and landholders of the old régime, so Odets would write a play about the decadence of petty white-collar Americans—from a New York Jewish point of view—in the depression.

Odets has a spokesman in "Awake and Sing," a mild, philosophic old barber, who blames all the troubles of the Berger family on capitalism. Once he breaks out with the fanatic remark: "Marx said, 'Abolish such families.'" He fails to add, however, the formula of the Socialist prophet, if any, for their replacement.

The story of the play deals with the clash between the younger and the older generations. Mamma Berger is a matriarch who oppresses her tribe severely for the sake of their social and financial advancement. She chiefly bears down upon the adolescent son and his idealistic love affair with a girl of no prospects. An old relative—the aged Marxian mentioned above—jumps off the roof in order to solve the youth's problems with his life insurance, but Mamma Berger plots to grab that pot of money for the general benefit of the family.

Then there is the pretty daughter, Hennie, whose sex life is complex. She has been seduced by a gangster friend of the family; she is "in trouble" because of another casual experience, and Mamma Berger promptly marries her off to a simpleton, whom she finally deserts in favor of her first lover. Her problems run in a melodramatic vein, but she is acted neatly and quietly by a good looking girl named Phoebe Brand.

Morris Carnovsky, a member of the Theater Guild's acting companies a few years back, is excellent as the Marxian relative and roomer. Luther Adler as the ominous gangster and Stella Adler as the garrulous mother—both members of a famous theatrical family of Yiddish background—are also in the foreground of Odets' picture.

Graduation exercises of the St. Luke's hospital unit of the Gray Lady Hospital and Recreation Service featured the program of the annual meeting of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross yesterday afternoon at the Stevens hotel. There were 31 in the class, which was the second Gray Lady class to be graduated in Chicago. The first class consisted of 15. It is a volunteer service and includes a ten weeks' training course and a four months' probationary service in a hospital.

Mrs. Irene Sidley, chairman of the Chicago Gray Ladies, presented the coifs and pins to the graduates, and James B. Forgan, reëlected chairman of the Chicago chapter, presented the certificates.

In the class were Miss Elizabeth Armstrong, Miss Jean Armstrong, Mrs. Orville Babcock Jr. [Betty Alexender], Mrs. Charles Barnard [Rosemary Sidley], Miss Betty Bills, Miss Caryl Bloomingston, Mrs. R. G. Burr, Miss Nancy Doering, Miss Louise Forgan, Miss Betty Forgan, Miss Frances Gethro, Miss Isabel Gordon, who was appointed chairman of the group yesterday; Miss Marion Gordon, Miss Peggy Hixon, Miss Barbara Hutchins, Mrs. Robbins L. Ibsen, Miss Frances Jeffery, Mrs. James T. Jones, Miss Betty Kellogg, Mrs. Anna Lightbecker, Mrs. Earl Little, Mrs. Christine Lonergan, Miss Durie Malcolm, Miss Eleanor McNally, Miss Fanny McPherson, appointed vice chairman of the class; Mrs. Howard C. Richardson Jr. [Nadine Nellis], Mrs. J. Russell Scott [Jere Richards], Miss Barbara Stanley, Miss Margaret Wiley, Miss Virginia Winston, and Mrs. Harold W. Zimmerman.

All other officers of the Chicago chapter were reëlected.

New Slickers Make You Wish for More Rain

They're Brightly Colored, Featherweight, Neat.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Just when you think everything has has been done to keep the shopping population dry and decorative during rainy weather, along come some new ideas to keep you out in the showers. Slickers that are the last word in featherweight, flattering colors, and neatness.

If you like capes that slide over your coat or suit like magic look for the featherweight numbers to be found on the notion counters, the thinnest capes to date, capes made with hoods that are big enough to cover the hat, capes weighing a fraction over a couple of ounces that fold compactly into a small enevelope and keep you cool even on the muggiest trip to town. It is also unusually long, so that the tallest shopper is fully protected. The price mark is surprisingly small for such high colored and practical covering.

Pastel raincoats are in—swagger styles in dusty pink, powder blue, sunny yellow, a stunning Dubonnet red, and shimmering white. These have umbrellas to match with the ribs in white or colored to match the fabric. These pastel colored beauties are positively good enough to wear anywhere. The colors are exceptionally appealing after the wave of bright greens and reds and blues. They are of course ideal summertime rainy day accessories, taking the place of the high colored affairs you needed during a cold, dreary rainy spring season.

A good invention for the inveterate golfers, either male or female: Transparent slickers of thin, supple oiled silk fabric, in a pale beige tone. These are short hipline numbers, raglan sleeves and a snug fitted high collar and a belt. They are made to be worn over sweaters and jackets and with plenty of freedom in the arms and sleeves.

Still another new arrival is the same sort of short slicker in a cape style for beach wear. All the newest waterproofs are being unpacked these days, and they are as surprising as they are comfortable and practical, without losing a bit of slim and tailored smartness.

Her Husband's Past

By Elizabeth York Miller

SYNOPSIS.

Nell Martin elopes to London with Eric Cameron, an older divorced man, who had been visiting in her home town, Wellsport, ignoring her parents' pleas to marry Dick Holmes, her childhood sweetheart. On their honeymoon Nell learns Eric has two children, Meg, 17, and Robin, 15; that she must make her home with them and with Mrs. Beaumont, the mother of Hilda, his first wife. Hilda has married again. Her children believe her dead. From the first a feud develops between Nell and granny. Nell is tortured with constant reminders of Hilda. When they are about to move to Wellsport for Eric's new engineering job, Eric suggests that granny go to live with a cousin in Streatham. She cleverly gains her way and stays with them.

INSTALMENT XIV.

THEIR HAPPINESS SHADOWED.

It seemed to Nell that Eric and she could not be together five minutes before Hilda was mystically summoned to cast a shadow over the happiness they had hoped to share together.

No, there wasn't any way of getting rid of Hilda. She was going to be a permanent fixture in their home.

"I wish I could tell you how sorry I am," Nell said.

"My sweet, I know. You never meant it. I'm not blaming you one little bit. But we must find out how much granny's been meddling. Do you know where she is?"

Nell said she thought granny was in her room.

"Wouldn't you rather speak to her alone?" she asked.

"No, it would be better if you were present. Then I can check up on her better. She's a pretty good liar, you know."

Nell did know, but she hadn't been sure that Eric did.

Yes, granny was in her room, going through her accumulated possessions again.

"I'm not prepared for company," she said, with a descriptive gesture. "But come in and sit down if you can find any place to sit."

"We're only going to stay a minute," said Eric, trying to be brisk and businesslike. "It's about Meggie. Nell's just told me that she may have overheard you and her say something about Hilda which would lead the poor child to the conclusion that her mother was still alive."

Granny pulled a long face and unfolded her handkerchief in case it should be needed.

"I'm glad Nellie told you," she said with a dramatic quaver. "It's been worrying me a lot. You mustn't blame Nellie too much, Eric, because, of course, she wouldn't understand how dear Hilda was to all of us."

"What did you say to Meg when she questioned you? Or did she ask you?"

"O yes, she asked me. She said she had a right to know——"

"What I want to know is what you told her."

"I told her a leetle mite of the truth—how Hilda had the offer of that South American tour and you said if she accepted it, you were finished with her."

Eric's face was white.

"So that's the way you put it!" he exclaimed. "You call that the truth!"

"It was near enough for a child. She knew about the tour already—and until dear Nell's indiscretion she thought her mother died out there."

"Did you tell her about Dellapanna?" Eric demanded with restrained fury.

He seemed to have forgotten Nell's presence, and as for her, she scarcely knew how she managed to stay there.

Mrs. Beaumont drew in a long breath.

"Meg's so young. There was no necessity to go into all the legal details. I told her that her mother married a man named Juan Dellapanna and lives now on a ranch in the Argentine. I couldn't give her the address because I haven't got it. You know Hilda never writes to us. I suppose she's too unhappy about the children."

Eric's face had a drawn, sad expression.

"I would have given everything I possess—although heaven knows it doesn't amount to much—to have kept that news from Meg. You could have lied and told her she had mistaken what was said between you and Nell. She wasn't actually in the room. You could have managed it. But you didn't want to. That's about the size of it."

Nell could bear no more and rushed from the room.

In blaming granny, Eric was blaming her, too.

Of course he found her and tried to comfort her, but some of the things he had said would ring in her ears forever.

He had said he would give everything he possessed to have kept that knowledge from Meg.

To the distressed young wife it meant that Eric would even have sacrificed her for the sake of his daughter's peace of mind.

He was so tenderly remorseful about Meg. It seemed as though without putting it into words, he would be forever asking his daughter's pardon.

The girl was due to celebrate her eighteenth birthday in about a month and granny, in advance of the anniversary, gave her the ruby and diamond ring, and doubtless told her its history.

Meg wore the ring on the third finger of her right hand, and there it was flashing its mocking red eye at mealtimes, or turning up at odd moments on the ledge of the kitchen sink or bathroom washbasin, when Meg would have taken it off and temporarily forgotten it.

Twice Nell found and returned it to the girl. But after that she left it alone and let Meg find it for herself.

. . . .

We will glide lightly over the period of exodus.

As arranged, they were going to stay at the Wellsport hotel for a week, or until the new home would be more or less ready for them.

Mrs. Beaumont had a fearsome amount of personal luggage. There was very little she had thrown away when she sorted over her possessions and she added a parrot and a large cage to her paraphernalia. She had always wanted a parrot, she said, and she had bought this one at a bird and animal shop in the neighborhood the day before they moved.

Nell shuddered when she thought of the impression granny was going to make on Wellsport. Never had such a sight been seen in the quiet little estuary town.

Granny, in her trailing red dress and black velvet cape trimmed with moulting marabou; her white kid gloves and picture hat of the Merry Widow period wreathed with faded pink roses; with her bursting brown paper parcels, her so-called jewel case, and the parrot in his cage to crown the spectacle, was calculated to stun Wellsport out of its senses.

Incidentally during the excitement of the journey the parrot laid an egg, and this phenomenon was accepted as an omen of good fortune.

Meg and Robin didn't seem to mind their eccentric grandmother. They were probably too well used to her. Eric couldn't meet them at the station because they arrived at a time when he had to be in his office at Tewbury, so he was spared the sensation created by his mother-in-law.

For Nell—who did not like to think of herself as being a snob—this entrance into the Wellsport hotel was sheer agony.

Mabel Weston, the reception clerk and a friend of Nell's, took one look at the vision of granny and made little effort to conceal the fact that she was overcome.

She straightened her face, however, when Mrs. Beaumont, elbowing Nell aside, approached the desk and said in her commanding voice: "I believe my son-in-law has reserved rooms for us. The name would be Cameron."

Eric had said nothing about his being the son-in-law of anybody. He had merely reserved two rooms, one double for granny and Meg, and a single for Robin. Nell of course would share his.

"I expect that's all right," said Mabel, with a delighted gurgle. "How d'ye, Nell. So you've come. Mr. Cameron said he was expecting you today. Excuse me for asking, but I didn't exactly know there were to be four in your party."

WRINKLES and HAIR ON LIPS Now "Faded Away"

Wrinkles — Blackheads Go

BLACKHEADS AND OILY SKIN CURBED

Thousands of women who formerly were miserable over a skin beladen with wrinkles, prominent hair on face, blackheads or oily skin, now rave about a new beautifier, DIOXOGEN CREAM.

This remarkable preparation contains live oxygen that has an unusual four-fold effect:

First, it penetrates into the mouths of the pores, loosens fatty blackheads and curbs their further formation.

Second, the oxygen tends to normalize greasy, oily skin, without drying.

Third, it helps to fade out wrinkles so that, in many cases, no one ever sees them. A little face powder then makes the skin look lovely and smooth.

Fourth, hair on lips and face is lightened naturally . . . with oxygen.

DIOXOGEN CREAM has been tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau. It is the only beautifier in the world containing live OXYGEN. Circular with every jar gives 24-hour daily oxygen treatment. Dept. and drug stores supply 50¢ and $1 jars.

Sweetbreads and Vegetables a Spring Union

BY MARY MEADE.

The delicate flavor of sweetbreads and the fresh appeal of spring vegetables suggest all manner of pleasing combinations for the May luncheon. Come now—is it a combination you've given a turn lately? If a regretful no-o-o-o is all you can muster, then do cast an eye over some of the delightful dishes we've been enjoying these last few days.

Perhaps we'd better review first a few generalities. Sweetbreads remain one of the least generally known sundry meats, and for that reason many cooks are unfamiliar with their method of preparation.

As soon as the sweetbreads arrive from the market the initial cooking should be begun, for they deteriorate in flavor rapidly. No matter what their final goal—be it broiling, creaming, frying, baking, braising—they first demand a soaking and poaching treatment. Plunge them immediately into cold water for an hour's soaking. Then cook them gently in boiling water for 20 minutes, adding 1 teaspoon of salt and 1 tablespoon of vinegar to each quart of water. Drain and plunge again into cold water to make them firm, and then remove any threads or membranes.

Thus cooked, the sweetbreads may be kept in the refrigerator until the time of serving, when they go into the final stages of cooking and combination with other foods. A pair of sweetbreads serves four.

BROILED SWEETBREADS WITH FRESH ASPARAGUS

Split the cooked sweetbreads in halves lengthwise. Brush them with softened butter and broil for two minutes on either side, turning once and basting with additional butter several times during the broiling. Serve as a main luncheon dish with a lemon parsley butter sauce and steamed fresh asparagus laved with the same sauce.

SWEETBREADS AND NEW PEAS IN TOAST CASES

Cut parboiled sweetbreads into small cubes. Reheat in a rich cream sauce, and season to taste with lemon juice and a few drops of onion juice. Separately cook new peas [one quart of unshelled peas to a pair of sweetbreads] and add to the creamed mixture. Serve hot in small, crisp, toast cases, garnished with a sprig of cress.

Sautéed Sweetbreads, Luncheon Style

1 pair sweetbreads
Salt, pepper
½ cup fine dry crums
2 eggs, beaten
4 slices bacon
4 large mushroom caps
1 cup rich cream sauce
½ cup toasted slivered almonds

Split parboiled sweetbreads and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Dip in crums, in beaten eggs, and again in crums. Sauté until lightly browned in butter. Serve with a topping of well seasoned cream sauce, sprinkled with the toasted almonds, and garnish with a broiled or sautéed mushroom cap and a crisp bacon curl. Accompany with a chilled fresh vegetable salad and tiny hard rolls for a spring luncheon.

Miss Ranney Will Be Bride of W. Hasler

Announcement Is Made at Parents' Tea.

Laughlin, with her mother, Mrs. George D. McLaughlin, had gone to California to visit Miss Harvey earlier in the winter, but Mrs. McLaughlin had returned home some weeks ago so that she could pay a visit to her friend, Mrs. C. Morse Ely, in Thomasville, Ga. Mrs. McLaughlin returned about a week ago from there and her erstwhile Georgia hostess will return to Chicago the end of this week.

Mrs. Charles S. Williamson and her granddaughter, Miss Josephine Zeiss, are landing in New York today after a six months' trip around the world. They will spend a few days with Mrs. Williamson's daughter, Mrs. Andrew Day, in West Orange, N. J. Miss Zeiss may go to Williams college to a dance before they return to Winnetka.

Henry W. Slaughters Parents of Daughter.

From Dartmouth, Mass., where they are living now, comes news of the birth of a daughter on April 28 to Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Slaughter, formerly of Evanston. The baby has been named Abigail Elizabeth.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Woods Jr. [Louise Brewer] will return tomorrow morning from a trip to New York with his mother and father. Mr. and Mrs. Woods Sr. have moved back to Lincoln, Neb., after spending a year in Chicago.

While Mrs. Fortunato Jerace is busy opening her handsome home in Lake Shore drive her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Fellowes [Jean McVoy], are occupied with spring planting out at their farm near Libertyville, where they have been living since Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. Jerace returned last week from a southern cruise and a visit in Bermuda. They are going to Pentwater, Mich., July 1 to remain for the rest of the summer in Mrs. Jerace's home there.

The christening of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kohler Jr.'s infant daughter has been postponed until next month, for Mr. Kohler had to go to California on business and will not return to their Wisconsin home until then. At that time Mrs. Jerace and other members of her family will go north to attend the ceremony. Mrs. Kohler is the former Celeste McVoy Holden.

Miss Luella Irvin Leaves for Canada and England.

Miss Luella Irvin of Ottawa, Canada, who has been spending the winter with her aunt, Mrs. Charles A. Irvin, left Sunday for Ottawa. She plans to sail shortly for England, where she will compete in a golf tournament. Miss Irvin is one of the dominion's best amateur golfers. Miss Dolly Corbin of Washington was a guest of Mrs. Irvin over the last week-end.

The earl of Chichester, who visited Mrs. Irvin last year, has postponed a trip to Chicago because of unsettled conditions abroad. He is a new member of the house of lords. Sir Michael Seymour, who was in the diplomatic service at Ottawa and who visited Chicago, expects to return here from England as soon as he has finished a period of naval service.

Mrs. Charles R. Robinson and her daughter, Miss Frances Robinson, have returned from Phoenix, where they spent the winter, and are at home in their Lake Shore drive apartment.

Miss Eliza Campbell has left for Brewster, N. Y., where she has taken a house for the summer.

Mrs. Robert M. Jeffries and her daughter, Miss Virginia Jeffries, have returned to Highland Park after several months in England. Another daughter, Miss Helen Jeffries, remained in London where she will receive a diploma from the Royal Academy in June.

Junior Board of Convalescent Home to Gather Sale Articles.

Members of the junior board of the Chicago Home for Convalescent Women and Children will attend a tea at 4950 Chicago Beach drive this afternoon between 3 and 5 o'clock, bearing bundles under their arms to be used as stock for the board's annual spring rummage sale.

The Kenwood and North Side centers of Infant Welfare will hold their annual joint rummage sale on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at 227 North Michigan avenue. Mrs. Eugene S. Talbot Jr., president of the North Side center, and Mrs. Herbert Mayer, president of the Kenwood center, are in charge of the sale.

Golf and tennis enthusiasts will find Evanston a hotbed of excitement during the week beginning June 22 when the national intercollegiate golf and tennis championships will be held at Northwestern university. This is the first time that both of these major tournaments have been awarded to the university, although the tennis championships were held there last summer. The golf tournament will be played over the North Shore course, scene of the 1933 national open championships.

Visiting athletes will be housed in Northwestern dormitories and fraternity houses, and a variety of entertainment is being planned for the guests' leisure hours.

Miss Helen Fulton, who recently won the White Sulphur Springs tennis tournament, is chairman of a committee in charge of the entertaining. On the committee are Mrs. Mark W. Cresap, Mrs. John Dern, Mrs. Paul C. Loeber Jr., Miss Virginia Dawes, Miss Ethel Dixon, Miss Peggy Knight, Mrs. Howard V. O'Brien, Mrs. George B. Massey, and Miss Barbara Shaffer.

New Evanston Group to Handle Concessions.

Just as most other organizations are on the point of calling it a season and are closing down for the summer, an energetic group of young Evanston matrons is about to embark on a strenuous round of activities that will begin with handling programs and concessions during the intercollegiate championships.

The young women organized about two months ago as an offshoot of the North Shore auxiliary of the Chicago Maternity league, and just the other day received official recognition from the parent organization. They are calling themselves the Junior Service League of the Chicago Maternity Center and are limiting their membership to 50 young women between the ages of 20 and 30.

Mrs. Joseph W. Sharp has headed the organization so far, but she is abdicating at a luncheon the league is giving on May 18 at Old Heidelberg, taking over the entire balcony for the occasion. New officers will be elected and installed then. The league intends to meet every third Monday, keeping to this schedule through the summer.

Mrs. John S. Nagel Jr. and Mrs. Robert L. Woodcock Jr. are other temporary officers of the group. Charter members, besides the officers, are Mrs. John Allen Stewart, Mrs. Ralph L. Acklin, Mrs. R. Douglass Cooper, Mrs. Abner Adams Webster, Mrs. Jack C. Griffin, Mrs. Norval Richardson, and Mrs. John C. Trussel.

Templeton to Give Concert for Faulkner School Fund.

The Harry Carrs, Mr. and Mrs. Marx E. Oberndorfer, the Ralph Nortons, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Havens, the Ariel Meinraths, and the Fred W. Gethros are among those interested in a concert to be given by Alec Templeton next Sunday at Mandel hall as a benefit for the Faulkner school scholarship fund. The concert is sponsored by the school's alumnæ association.

The final meeting of the season of the American Opera society will be held on next Monday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Woodruff, 1500 Lake Shore drive. A musical program will be given by Edward Eigenshenk, organist, and Lucia Diano, operatic soprano and the Woodruffs' protégée.

A group of Episcopalian women will take complete charge of the program at the annual meeting of the Church Club of Chicago, an organization exclusively for men, next Monday evening. Mrs. Angus Hibbard will preside; Mrs. Robert B. Gregory will talk, and so will Miss Margot Atkin, Mrs. John N. Van der Vries, and Mrs. Albert Cotsworth.

The Oak Park junior board of the Northwestern university settlement will give a bridge luncheon at the Oak Park Country club on May 20. Mrs. Russell Gambill and Miss Bertram Bates are co-chairmen.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Kribbs Cochran, daughter of the Harold W. Cochrans of Hillside road, Hinsdale, to Ralph Melbourne Thayer Jr., will take place at 5:30 o'clock next Saturday at Grace Episcopal church, in Hinsdale. A reception will follow in the Cochran home. Miss Marie and Miss Annabel Cochran will be their sister's attendants. Charles Thayer will serve his brother as best man, and ushering will be two other brothers, Wilson Thayer of Rockford, and David Thayer of Hinsdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold John Gordon of 1242 Madison Park, announce the marriage of their daughter, Ethel Ann Gordon, to Jerome Milton Jontry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jontry of Galesburg, Ill., on May 2. The bride attended the University of Chicago, where she was a member of Mortar Board. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Chicago. Mr. Jontry and his bride will make their home in Michigan City, Ind.

Red Cross Aquatic School Will Be Held at Culver

A Red Cross national aquatic school will be conducted at Culver Military academy, Culver, Ind., June 11 to 21, under sponsorship of the Chicago chapter, it was announced yesterday by James B. Forgan, chairman. The school, open to swimmers of 18 years and over, at a cost of $30 covering board, registration, lodging, textbooks, materials and insignia earned, will be conducted by members of the Red Cross first aid and life saving service.

Artists Show Rare Ability in 2 Exhibits

Peyrauds and F. V. Smith Display Work.

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Two unusually brilliant art exhibitions marked the opening of this week—paintings by Frank C. Peyraud and Mrs. Peyraud at the Edgewater Beach hotel and marines by Frank Vining Smith in the Anderson galleries, 536 South Michigan avenue. Mr. Peyraud's landscapes are almost too noted and too deeply appreciated by Chicago art lovers to need extensive comment. The reputation he has made is well sustained in the current exhibit.

Mrs. Peyraud is showing figure sketches, portraits and still life which are decorative and sympathetic. The informal portrait of Mr. John Beatty, which she entitles "Entre-Act," is one of her finest efforts. A little interior scene of a woman seated by a window, one of a series of paintings looking out on a lawn and trees, has been used as the motif of a group of intimate sketches. The most delightful of these shows broad yellow drapes at the windows, a green scarf on the table and an exterior autumnal view.

The recent marines by Frank Vining Smith make a gorgeous exhibition in the Anderson galleries. There is no American painter living who can approach him in power and beauty in this type of painting. They are decorative and vital. The superb accuracy of detail which goes into the rendering of the boats is not immediately apparent in the entire picture but the knowledge that it is there means a great deal. The clipper ships which once were the pride of the sea live again graphically in these paintings.

Nor is the ship always the whole story. The sea plays its part and so does the sky. Two superb canvases are "Lonely Sea and Sky" and "Thresh of the Sea Foam." Both are shipless and both focus the attention on rolling, foam-caparisoned water. They are stunning. The little "Old Boston" is a quiet picture of boats at the dock and possesses the charm of variegated color. "Across the Western Ocean" is like nothing so much as a symphony of sail. "Stun'sail Weather" is notable for its opalescent sheen and "Heading for the South" for its silvery sea and the purple shadowed sails of the boat.

The exhibition will continue through May. No one should miss it.

San Diego Fair Sets Day for Homes of Aged in U. S.

The San Diego, Cal., exposition has set a day devoted to all homes for the aged in the United States, and all who are connected with such institutions have been invited to attend. Mrs. Emma R. Saylor, managing director of the Fredericka Home for the Aged in San Diego, which is sponsoring the day at the fair, declares it is "to bring about the recognition of the needs for declining years, and to find the means of providing for such needs, without the penalty of loss of self respect and social status."

A FRIEND IN NEED

Roller Skates Requested.

Mrs. H. E. is the widowed mother of two children. The family is on relief, since Mrs. E. is unable to work. Both of her youngsters have been begging for roller skates. Has any reader some discarded ones which could be passed on to these children?

Mother Asks for High Chair.

"Dear Miss Brown: My baby is almost six months old and sitting up. I have no high chair for her and it is impossible for me to hold her all of the time. I would appreciate it immensely if you could find a discarded high chair and crib for her."
—Mrs. M. B.

This needy mother lives on the south side of the city.

Garbo "Lost" Again After Granting First Interview of Career

New York, May 4.—[Special.]—Greta Garbo, who came into New York and out of her silence yesterday, went back into retreat today. She returned yesterday on the Swedish-American liner Gripsholm, after a year's visit to her native Sweden, and received reporters and photographers in her first formal mass interview of her career, as the ship came up the bay. But today she was gone again.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film executives were insisting that they have no idea where Miss Garbo is staying. In fact, they added, quite gratuitously, they are telephoning all over town in an effort to find her. Leading hotels denied that she is registered. Hotel press agents, who customarily approach newspaper offices hat in hand, were using the broad A over time answering questions about the elusive screen actress.

Daily Massage Helps Prevent Eye Area Lines

Adviser Describes Proper Technique.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Perhaps it is all the advertising talk about eye creams. Anyway, something is making women conscious about that eye skin area, and it is a good thing, too. For crow's feet so often appear around young eyes. One expects them on older faces but not on the young. The reason must be the way the average person avoids creaming around this area. I know that any number of women avoid it for fear cream will get in the eyes. Basically, of course, the trouble is dry skin that wrinkles easily. And young folks suffer just as much as older ones from the dry skin plague, due to the present living conditions.

Then, too, there is another reason right now that influences the interest in smoother skin around the area referred to. It is the way the hair is worn, and the hats. When hair was jerked forward on the temples, it shadowed into semi-concealment the eye lines. Now the open faced way of wearing hair and hats offers no protection, so the skin must be clear and unlined.

I don't want you to become all excited about "laugh" lines around the eyes. Personally, I would rather see a few lines indicating a gay, lively, fun loving personality than the sober face or expressionless one, wouldn't you? But you don't want to start in on a collection of lines, however. And as you get on in years, this is a point along with underchin and throatline that bids your special attention.

I think about the best trick known to combat eye lines is to grease the palms of your hands with a good nourishing cream. Start your hands together in the middle of the brow with the fleshy part near the wrist covering the eye territory, and work hands outward and upward in opposite directions. You can take in eyelids, too, along with this easy massage movement. You can be smoothing out those perpendicular lines directly over the bridge of the nose; likewise all the other brow lines.

I learned this trick from a famous beauty whose brow was exceedingly smooth and free of line, and whose eye area was completely young in texture. The beauty of this motion is that you can sit at a table and read a book or paper and keep on working away with the "ironing" movement. Indeed, it is good practice to do it when your palms aren't greased and whenever you think of it as you just sit around doing nothing, or reading, as said. And when you're in the mood for massaging, you can drop the palms further down on the face and work the mouth corner lines up and out in the same way.

Parent Often Too Critical of Small Child

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Haven't you often heard a schoolgirl or boy exclaims, when corrected examination papers were returned, "Why, I knew that answer!"

Sometimes a mother "knows the answer" deep down inside, but it doesn't always appear when most needed. A book, an article, a happening she witnesses may bring it to the surface.

One mother, who is a regular reader of this column, and with whom I have had an interesting correspondence, writes:

"Sometimes a mother is too close to her children to have the correct perspective, and through your daily articles you help me to remember homely facts that I have always known, but sometimes overlook in the press of other activities.

"I realized, for instance, that I'd been watching the children too closely and too critically, and had lost much of the pleasure of our association through fussing. Now that I have checked this tendency, I find we are all enjoying each other."

This is a tendency that we all are inclined to—all of us who are busy and who have standards that we want our children to reach. But children don't respond happily to being watched, criticized, and corrected too much. They, quite naturally, get so that disapproval is the only feeling of which they are conscious.

There's a lot that we fuss about with our boys and girls that really isn't important. Try just one week of overlooking every possible unessential thing that you can—and see how you'll enjoy the children.

A good antidote for the wrong kind of attention to children is found in our leaflet "Wholesome Neglect," which will be sent out on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in The Sunday Tribune.

Mrs. D. C. Cottrell Will Address North Shore Garden Clubs

The Lake Forest Garden club has arranged programs for the month of May for the North Shore Garden center, an organization comprising garden clubs along the north shore. Meetings are being held every Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Winnetka Community house. Mrs. Donald C. Cottrell will be this morning's speaker. She and her sister, Mrs. Ruthven A. Waddell, of Short Hills, N. J., are prominent landscape architects.

Mrs. Cottrell's subject today will be "Designs for Suburban Gardens." On May 19 she will speak again, this time on "Planting the Small Garden." Mrs. Charles S. De Long will speak before the center next Tuesday on "Virginia Gardens," with accompanying illustrations.

Those women in this morning's audience who belong to the Winnetka Weeders will meet again this afternoon in the home of Mrs. Benjamin F. Harris III., in Tower road, to hear W. T. Christman, an officer of the American Peony association, speak on "Iris and Peonies." The Weeders meet the first Tuesday of every month in a member's house.

I'M SO SKINNY—NOTHING LOOKS GOOD ON ME!

Posed by professional model

...THEN SHE GAINED 11 LBS. THIS EASY WAY

Read what one girl says:—

"I KNOW just what it is to be skinny, pale, dull-eyed and sickly-looking. The fellows hardly look at you, you never have a date, and just feel as though the whole world is blue and hopeless. You try to eat, but it doesn't put on a pound. Your skin is a fright and your clothes just hang on you. Besides you suffer with headaches, indigestion and nerves that other girls never seem to have.

"I tried everything to build me up, but nothing did any good until at last I got hold of these wonderful little Ironized Yeast tablets. In a few days I felt a lot peppier and stronger. I could see my skin getting smooth and pink, and then in just 4 weeks I gained eleven pounds. What a change it made for me. Everybody says how pretty I've gotten and I have all the dates I want and have a grand time."

Ella Craig, Lancaster, S. C.

Thousands of other thin, rundown people, both men and women, have had the same happy experience with this new easy treatment. Even though they never could gain before, they've put on 10 to 25 pounds of solid, normally attractive flesh. They've cleared their skin to natural smoothness and beauty. They've gained glorious new health and pep—all in just a few weeks.

Body-building discovery

Scientists recently discovered that thousands of people are thin and rundown for the single reason that they do not get enough digestion-strengthening Vitamin B and blood-enriching iron in their daily food. Now the richest known source of body-building Vitamin B is cultured ale yeast. By a new process the finest imported cultured ale yeast is now concentrated 7 times, making it 7 times more powerful. Then it is combined with 3 kinds of blood-building iron in pleasant little tablets known as Ironized Yeast tablets.

If you, too, need these vital elements to build you up, get these new Ironized Yeast tablets from your druggist today. Then, day after day as you take them, watch flat chest develop and skinny limbs round out to natural attractiveness. Constipation and indigestion from the same cause vanish, skin clears to normal beauty, new health comes—you're a new person.

Money-back guarantee

No matter how skinny and rundown you may be from lack of sufficient Vitamin B and iron, these new Ironized Yeast tablets should build you up in just a few weeks, as they have thousands of others. If you are not delighted with the benefits of the very first package, your money will be instantly refunded.

Special FREE offer!

To start you building up your health right away, we make this absolutely FREE offer. Purchase a package of Ironized Yeast tablets at once, cut out the seal on the box and mail it to us with a clipping of this offer. We will send you a fascinating new book on health, "New Facts About Your Body." Remember, results with the very first package—or money refunded. At all druggists. Ironized Yeast Co., Inc., Dept. RAH! RAH! RAH! FOR NEW HERO; IT'S CHOJNACKI

Cicero Lad Rides 4 Winners.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Right away now you're going to begin to hear the roar at the Aurora race course: "Come on Chojnacki." It's pronounced "Shonacki" with great emphasis on the "K." If you are a racegoer you might as well start giving nine rahs and a tiger for him during your daily pep talk to yourself.

This 18 year old Polish youth from Cicero, who was born almost within the shadows of the long stands along the home stretch at Hawthorne, appears to be the jocky sensation which develops each spring during the Aurora meeting.

He Boots 'Em In.

Among those knights of the pigskin who have blossomed out into full bloom as stars at Aurora in other years were Eddie Arcaro, Paul Keester, and Daniel Boone Brammer.

Frank Chojnacki got going in the final race last Saturday and scored his first victory of the Aurora meeting. Following a very restful weekend he was full of ginger and riding skill when he reported to the jockies' room yesterday.

After getting himself dressed up, he went out and whooped and whipped his way to victory in three of the first four races. He got Fanale, a mud running daughter of Leo O. Cotner, up in time to score an easy victory in the first race. He didn't ride in the second, but he staged a genuine Garrison finish to drive Ivy Maxwell through deep mud to a head triumph over the favorite Empress Yvonne in the third.

Just Give Him a Horse.

He came right back on a horse called Wax in the six furlong fourth event, drove that fellow up from behind a furlong out, shot him into the lead and went on to trim the stoutly backed Stimulator by three lengths.

Still his day's work wasn't ended. He didn't ride in the fifth race, but he climbed into the saddle on Flower Day in the mile and a sixteenth sixth. In this race he staged another thrilling finish. He brought Flower Day up from behind, conquered the front runner, Baboo, in the final strides, then outrode Jocky F. Polk on the latter to win in another spectacular neck and neck battle.

Before he decided to turn horseman, Chojnacki was a telegraph messenger boy. His performance was one of the most spectacular of the spring racing season in America. The lad is under contract to B. B. Johnson, a California turfman.

New Derby Nominations.

About 6,500 watched the program run off over an extremely heavy track. Many of Chicago's race track regulars were back from the Derby and they helped swell attendance.

Heading these returning Derby pilgrims was William [Palmer House] Ryan, who said the horses ran right to his figures during most of the afternoon. Tom Nash also appeared to be doing very well.

Two additional entries for the Illinois Derby to be run at Aurora on May 22 were received during the afternoon. The colts Songmaker and Captain Cal, both at Churchill Downs, were made eligible for the $12,000 three year old special. This brought the total nominations to 32.

These colts are both owned by H. H. Cross of Chicago, whose horses race under the nom de course of Tranquility farm stable. They will be sent to Chicago to finish their Derby preps within a few days.

SOX GET CAIN OF BROWNS FOR PITCHER TIETJE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., May 4.—The White Sox tonight traded Les Tietje, right handed pitcher, to the St. Louis Browns for Pitcher Merritt [Sugar] Cain, also a right hander. No cash was involved. Cain will report to the White Sox here tomorrow. Tietje left tonight to join the Browns in New York.

Cain, who is known as a terrific hitter for a pitcher, was traded to the Browns by the Philadelphia Athletics early last season, appearing in six games for the Macks and 31 for St. Louis. He finished the season with a record of 9 victories and 13 defeats. He ranked 53d among American league pitchers in earned runs and 46th in percentage.

Tietje appeared in 30 games for the White Sox and won nine while losing 15. His rating was 36th in earned runs and 53d in percentage.

ONLY EXCELLENT PUTTERS BECOME GREAT GOLFERS

Revolta Details Principles of Good Form for Beginners

[This is the second of a series of articles by Johnny Revolta, national professional and western open golf champion, and leading money winner of the 1935 season].

BY JOHNNY REVOLTA.

Of all the clubs in the golf bag, one in my mind always stands out above the others as the greatest leveler of them all—the putter. That one tool is the common denominator for all golfers. You drive well? Go ahead and smack one 250 yards down the lane. You're pretty good at hitting the green? Grab yourself a mashie and plant the ball on the carpet. Then what? Your ball is still not in that cup, and getting it in the cup is what counts.

The tournament star is no different from the duffer when it comes to putting. Tales of epic rages have been written on many a green. Tommy Armour, one of the game's all time greats, tells the story of himself in a round played on the other side in which he three putted one green after another, although playing well otherwise. He finally four putted one. He walked over to a trap, buried his putter neatly and completely in the sand, and then pronounced its funeral sermon, "And you'll rot there!" As far as Tom knows or cares, that putter is still there.

Vardon Makes Bet and Wins by a Foot.

Then there's the story of Harry Vardon, England's greatest. He missed a curling three foot putt to win an important tourney, and as he walked off the green he heard a wealthy fan remark he would bet a good round sum that he could have made the putt himself. Vardon took him up, stipulating only that the confident one should wait two weeks before making the atempt. By the time the appointed day arrived the boaster was in such a dither that he missed the putt by a foot.

During an important tournament this winter I saw what a missed putt can do to a star. On the first nine he missed eight putts for birdies ranging from 8 to 12 feet. He three putted the 14th, and on the 15th, laid his approach putt 6 feet from the cup.

Still somewhat riled by the memory of all the other blown putts, he missed the 6 foot try for the par by six inches. He slammed his club against the toe of his shoe, breaking the head at the neck. By this time, he was so aroused that he walked across to the ball and almost putted at it with the headless club. Finally he borrowed a midiron from our other partner and knocked it into the cup.

That Fellow Smith Is Tops.

So much for some of the tragic comedies of putting. How about the great putters of the game today who never allow a two foot failure to bother them? My nomination for the greatest putter in golf [and he'll probably deny this, for he does not like to be rated thus] is Horton Smith. I think, first of all, that he is great because he can adjust himself to fast or slow greens. To me he is undoubtedly the finest in the game on swift greens.

It is not only a question of Horton's putting system, which calls for a perfectly balanced stance, erect at the ball, with a smooth stroke. The mechanics are important, of course, but there is also the matter of putting psychology, which to me is paramount. Smith and Paul Runyan, his physical opposite, are the outstanding exponents of this. Neither shows any sign of fear, regardles of the pressure attending a certain putt, for they have the gift of concentrating on the fundamentals of the stroke, rather than on the result.

Good Now, but Better as Youngster.

When I broke into the game I believe I was three times a better putter than I am today. One explanation of this was given by Tom Armour after I had played with him one day on the south course of his winter club at Boca Raton, Fla. Tom had played well while I was very bad, but my

PICK STAR PUPILS IN TRIBUNE GOLF SCHOOL TONIGHT

Women and Girls Take Final Lesson.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Final examinations in the fourth annual free golf school of THE TRIBUNE begin tonight when the best woman and girl students are named at each of the courses of the Chicago park district and the Chicago daily fee golf association. Prize students in the men's and boys' divisions will be named on the same courses tomorrow night, the final lesson for masculine pupils having been moved up because of the opening of the National Golden Gloves tournament on Thursday night.

The lessons by the P. G. A. professionals who have been conducting the classes through their first two weeks, both tonight and tomorrow night, will be concerned with the finish of the swing, the short irons and putting. Every pupil is requested to bring a mashie and a putter to each of these final lessons.

Finalists Meet Next Week.

Each of the lessons tonight and tomorrow will begin promptly at 7:15 o'clock. Each student is asked to appear 15 minutes before that time to facilitate the opening of the classes. The professionals in charge, or an invited pro, will choose the best golfers in each division at his course during the two nights. All of the final representatives from each of the park and daily fee courses will then come together on one night next week in the graduating exercises of this plan which already has given instruction in the fundamentals of the game to more than 25,000 men, women and children each week. The first two weeks saw a total of 55,200 lessons given.

The jury at the graduating exercises which will name the four final winners will be composed of leading tournament players, including Lawson Little, Jimmy Thomson, Horton Smith, Johnny Revolta, Tommy Armour, Harry Cooper, Frank Walsh, Ky Laffoon, Dick Metz, Orville White, and Tony Penna. Among the prizes to be awarded to the final quartet of winners are two playing memberships at Olympia Fields, the world's largest golf club, and bags, clubs, and balls to be given by THE TRIBUNE.

Armour Will Appear Tonight.

Tommy Armour of Medinah will head the list of tournament players who will appear tonight to aid the instructors in charge. Tom will help Lew Waldron of Mohawk when the latter calls the class at Columbus park to order. Eleanor Dudley of Ridge, western junior champion, will be the guest of Tom Walsh of Westgate Valley when the final winners in the women's and girls' classes are named at Jackson park. Eddie Williams of River Forest and Harry Adams will help Jack Norton at Big Oaks.

The complete list of courses where the final lessons will be given and winners picked tonight and tomorrow, together with the professionals who will be in charge, follows:

JACKSON [63d street and Stony Island avenue]—Tom Walsh, Westgate Valley.

COLUMBUS [Jackson boulevard and Central avenue]—Lew Waldron, Mohawk.

DIVERSEY [Lincoln park, Diversey boulevard and the lake]—Jock Anderson, Techny Fields.

MARQUETTE [67th street and Kedzie avenue]—Joe Jemsek, Cog-Hill.

EVERGREEN [91st street and Western avenue]—Abe Espinosa, Evergreen.

MID-CITY [Grace street and Western avenue]—Mel Thompson, Mid-City.

BIG OAKS [6600 Lawrence avenue]—Jack Norton, Big Oaks.

WESTGATE VALLEY [131st street and Ridgeland road]—Charles Blasgen, Westgate Valley.

ELMGATE [Shermer and Glenview roads, Glenview]—Jim Dwyer, Elmgate.

VERNON [Deerfield and Sanders roads, Deerfield]—Julian Strud, Vernon.

Jock Anderson of Techny Fields, who has been in charge of classes at the Diversey course in Lincoln park and who has been conducting classes at his own course located at Willow and Waukegan roads, will name the Techny Fields winners on Thursday and Friday nights.

Iowa Beats Minnesota Tennis Team, 6 to 0

Minneapolis, Minn., May 4.—(AP)—Iowa handed the Minnesota tennis team its second successive setback in three days by defeating the Gophers, 6 to 0, today.

Hubbell Yields Only 4 Hits, but Reds Win, 1-0

Cincinnati, O., May 4.—(AP)—Carl Hubbell, pitched four hit ball today but the New York Giants lost their fourth game in five western starts as the Cincinnati Reds put over the only run of the game in the ninth for a 1 to 0 victory.

The only extra base hit off the Giants' southpaw was Kiki Cuyler's triple to open the ninth, and it spelled Hubbell's downfall. He disposed of the next batter and purposely passed Babe Herman and Ernie Lombardi to load the bases.

With the Giants' outfield pulled in, Sammy Byrd sent a fly to Ott and Cuyler slid into the plate under Gus Mancuso with the deciding run. The other three Cincinnati hits were spread over as many innings. The Giants collected eight hits off Lee Stine, 23 year old rookie, but could not bunch them. Score:

St. Louis, Mo., May 4.—(AP)—The winning streak of the St. Louis Cardinals was snapped at six today as the Boston Bees, with a four run seventh inning, evened the series with a 7 to 6 victory.

Leroy Parmelee, hero of the Cards' 17 inning victory over the Giants last week, was a victim of that rally which started after two were out. Joe Coscarart's double against the right field wall drove in three of the runs.

Ray Benge was credited with his fourth victory in as many starts although he was removed in the Cardinal half of the seventh after two consecutive walks and a single by Leo Durocher filled the bases. Only one run came in, however, as Frankie Frisch hit into a double play. Score:

THREE ASSISTANT COACHES PICKED BY STUHLDREHER

Madison, Wis., May 4.—[Special.]—Assurance that Harry Stuhldreher, newly appointed athletic director and head football coach at the University of Wisconsin, will have a complete staf versed in the Notre Dame system came tonight with announcement that Robert P. Reagan, Frank Jordan, and Fred Twomey, have accepted appointments to the Badger grid staf.

Reagan has been Stuhldreher's assistant and line coach at Villa Nova for seven years and Jordan and Twomey learned their football under Stuhldreher as players at Villa Nova.

Iowa Coach's Homer Beats Hawkeyes, 1 to 0

Iowa City, Ia., May 4.—[Special.]—Dutch Schmidt, Hawkeye freshman baseball coach, hit a home run in the seventh inning to give the Cedar Rapids Western league team a 1 to 0 victory over the University of Iowa here today. Schmidt entered the game in the third inning as a courtesy catcher for Cedar Rapids after Shipley, regular catcher, was injured by a foul tip. Schmidt's circuit drive was one of three hits allowed by Charles Blackman, Hawkeye lefthander. Iowa defeated Cedar Rapids at Cedar Rapids last week, 6 to 3.

Declare Rough Riding Did Not Affect Derby

Louisville, Ky., May 4.—(AP)—The stewards who let the result of the race stand when they set down the three jockies for rough riding in the Kentucky Derby Saturday explained today that in their opinion none of the offenses affected the outcome of the race.

The stewards issued a statement "to correct the numerous misapprehensions" which followed the 15 day suspensions of Jocky Ira [Babe] Hanford, who rode the winner, Bold Venture; Jocky George Burns, who brought Indian Broom home third, and Jocky Nick Wall, who rode Coldstream into fourth money.

The stewards quoted starter William Hamilton as saying Brevity, which finished second, was not bumped to his knees at the start as was reported by many observers. The statement said Brevity suffered no interference except that for which Sangreal was blamed. Mack Garner, who rode Sangreal, was not suspended.

OPEN FIGHT ON THURSDAY FOR OLYMPIC TEAM

Army Team Shines in Drill.

Hurry, Mister!

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 4.— —Gerard de Clerco, a San Francisco longshoreman, was en route today to Chicago, where he hopes to win a trip to Berlin. He will enter the national Golden Gloves tournament conducted by the Chicago Tribune, from which the United States Olympic team will be selected.

De Clerco raised money for his expenses after receiving special dispensation from the A. A. U. He is the Pacific coast diamond belt champion, and California State and Pacific association heavyweight title holder. After making the trip to Cleveland for the recent National A. A. U. meet he was unable to compete because of a leg infection.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Three Golden Gloves champions, Ted Kara, Jackie Wilson, and Carl Vinciquerra, and the featherweight champion of the National A. A. U., Joey Church of Batavia, N. Y., led the parade of amateur boxers into Chicago yesterday preparatory to the start of the National Golden Gloves tournament, final Olympic test, Thursday night at the International amphitheater.

William Joyce of Gary, Ind., National A. A. U. 118 pound champion, was another of the early arrivals and he joined with Johnny Brown and Chester Rutecki, C. Y. O. Golden Gloves champions, in a brisk workout at the Catholic Youth gymnasium.

Gloves were flying in all rings as the boys set the pace for the final push toward perfect condition. Physical fitness may tell the story in many matches Thursday night, for all bouts will be fought at three rounds of three minutes each, the Olympic distance.

Eastern Puncher Arrives.

George Morrow, Philadelphia welterweight, reached town late yesterday and went to the gymnasium last night for a brief drill. Morrow was chosen for one of the vacancies in the tournament by the United States Olympic committee, which set ninety as the maximum number of boys who will be permitted to compete. George is employed in a radio manufacturing plant and the employés made up a purse to defray his expenses to the national tournament.

The boys who qualified in the National A. A. U. and national collegiate tournaments have their railroad fares and incidental expenses defrayed. Charlie Kane, coach at the Germantown Y. M. C. A., accompanied Morrow to Chicago. He believes he is capable of winning an Olympic berth on the United States team which will fight in the Olympic games at Berlin next summer. Morrow's record shows he has won more than half of his bouts by knockouts.

Collegians Due Today.

This is valuable information for Danny Farrar of Duke university, national collegiate welterweight champion, and Chester Rutecki of the C. Y. O., who won the 147 pound title in the Golden Gloves tournament last winter. Farrar arrived yesterday with his teammates, Ray Matulewicz, national collegiate 175 pound champion, and Al Mann, middleweight.

Max Novich and Jule Medinsky of the University of North Carolina registered in the loop yesterday. While neither won national collegiate championships, they made excellent showings and fully expect to whip all opposition in their respective weight classes.

Along with Joey Church came Paul Columbo, 112 pounds, and Sammy Devine, 126 pounds. Both live in Batavia and represent the Niagara association of the Amateur Athletic association.

The army boxers, champions of the 20,000 soldiers stationed in Hawaii,

YOUTH PAGEANT OPENS TONIGHT AT STOCKYARDS

Williams, NYA Head, Will Speak at Exposition.

Basketball, volley ball, archery, and badminton will be included on the athletic program which features the opening of the Exposition of Youth at the International amphitheater, 43d and Halsted streets, where Aubrey Williams, executive director of the National Youth administration, will deliver the opening address.

The exposition will last through next Sunday and each evening's program will consist of a pageant, "Youth Through the Ages," with a cast of 1,200 boys and girls, athletic events, dramatic contests, and educational, recreational, and handicraft exhibits.

The exposition will be presented by 20,000 boys and girls engaged in youth projects, and 100,000 spectators are expected, according to Harry Berz, recreational director. It is sponsored by the National Youth administration, of which William J. Campbell is the Illinois director.

Concert Opens Exposition.

The main program in the amphitheater arena tonight will start at 7:45 o'clock with a concert by the Farragut High school band.

Williams will also speak to 4,000 young people who are engaged in NYA projects in Chicago and its suburbs at 1 p. m. today at the amphitheater. This will be his first public message to participating youths since the 50 million dollar NYA program was started by President Roosevelt last summer, according to officials of the project.

Besides the presentation by the Central District Sokol group, in the main arena under the direction of Joseph Regner, the program will include exhibitions by star athletes from settlements.

Pageant Program.

The Association house, University of Chicago Settlement, Abraham Lincoln center, and the Jewish People's institute will provide most of the program, with a number of basketball and volley ball games. Badminton will be demonstrated by a group from the Midwest Badminton club, archery by the Ridge Park Archers and carpet bowling by a group from Palmer park.

The program in the main arena, following the presentation of a pageant, "Youth Through the Ages," also will include tumbling by a championship group from the B'nai B'rith Youth Organization, a mass drill with wands by the Wabash Y. M. C. A., and a fencing exhibition by members of the Northwestern university team.

Putting Makes Great Golfers, Says Revolta

putting enabled me to tie him at 72. Grantland Rice, in our foursome, asked Armour why a young fellow like myself could be such a good putter.

"I've seen a lot of them come into the game," said Tommy, "and they were all hot putters. Put them in a few tournaments and then watch them. The more they feel the pressure, the more quickly their putters will cool off."

Here Is How.

The best putting job I ever turned in was during my first big tournament victory, the Miami open of 1933. I won first prize of $600 with a 278, six under par. I missed six greens on the first nine, but chipping and putting like I'd never done before enabled me to shoot it in 33.

My first putting stance was modeled after Bobby Jones', with feet close together, but in 1934 I shifted most of my weight to the left side to gain a shorter and better controled stroke. Except on fast greens I have done as well with this as with my old stance, but am now gradually working back to the old one, which guarantees more relaxation, and consequently the most important part of the stroke for fast greens—touch.

For a beginner who wishes to be a successful putter, I offer the following tips:

Keep the weight evenly distributed on both feet, fairly close together, with the ball centered between them.

Keep the grip relaxed and comfortable, with each thumb straight down the shaft, whereby the backs of the hands are parallel with the shaft.

In stroking a putt the club head should never travel ahead of the hands, but always with them, until after the impact.

HALPER CLAIMS INJURY; ARON WINS IN SIXTH

Milt Aron, Dubuque, Ia., welterweight, scored a six round technical knockout over Lou Halper in the scheduled ten round main bout at Marigold Gardens last night when the Newark, N. J., fighter told Referee Tommy Gilmore he was unable to continue because he had injured his left shoulder.

According to the referee Aron won the first three rounds and Halper the fourth. The fifth was even. Still the rugged Newark battler said in his dressing room after the match that he had wrenched his shoulder in the third session.

After examining the shoulder Dr. J. J. McCarthy, Illinois boxing commission physician, said no break was apparent, but he advised Halper to have an X-ray picture made. The doctor believed that a ligament had been torn. Other results:

Harold Brown beat Tommy Howell [6].
Ossie Jefferson beat Castone Piccini [4].
George Dungey beat Henry Hamburg [4].
Duke Davis knocked out Jimmy Mitchell [1].

4 Pro Golf Teams Tie at Olympia Fields

The working members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association journeyed out to Olympia Fields yesterday with a double purpose. First, there was the matter of the first pro-pro tournament of their own 1936 season in the Chicago district. More important, there was the opportunity of testing the agriculture which on next Monday will be the scene of the local district qualifying rounds for the National open tournament.

After the shooting was over the boys could reach nothing more amicable in the way of an agreement than a four way tie for first place over the No. 4 course at the big south side course with best ball scores of 71, one stroke over par.

Four Teams Tie.

The leaders included Johnny Revolta of Evanston, National professional and Western open title holder, who has just joined the Chicago district, and Harold Beer of Oak Park, a Chicago prodigal returned from California to help Ren Smith, Tommy Armour of Medinah, and Victor Soitz of Southmoor; Jim Foulis of Ruth Lake and Teri Johnson of Decatur; Harry Adams, the manufacturer's representative, competing unattached, and Matt Matteson of Ridge.

Back of these foursomes came Lew Waldron of Mohawk and Orville White of Olympia Fields, and Frank Walsh of Bryn Mawr and Don Gardner of Flossmoor, each team posting a 72. White, recently signed as assistant pro at Olympia by Jerry Glynn, was making his first appearance as a home pro in Chicago, his home town. Orville and Jerry will be among the featured guests at the Illinois Athletic club tonight when Olympia Fields holds its annual membership drive party.

Revolta Shoots 73.

The best medal score of the day was turned in by Johnny Revolta, who came home with a 73. Revolta, along with Armour, White, and Tony Penna of Itasca, is among the pros who will have to qualify in the sectional trials at Olympia Fields on the No. 1 and No. 4 courses next Monday. Armour and Frank Walsh came through with the next best individual cards of the day, each turning in a 74.

Revolta's card:

Par—Out	544	443	434—35
Par—In	444	345	344—35—70
Revolta—Out	544	443	623—37
Revolta—In	553	245	354—36—73

The best scores follow:

Johnny Revolta, Evanston, and Harold Beer, Oak Park	36	35	71
Tommy Armour, Medinah, and Vic Soitz, Southmoor	35	36	71
Jim Foulis, Ruth Lake, and Teri Johnson, Decatur	36	35	71
Harry Adams, Chicago, and Matt Mattison, Ridge	37	34	71
Frank Walsh, Brymawr, and Don Gardner, Flossmoor	35	37	72
Lew Waldron, Mohawk and Orville White, Olympia Fields	36	36	72

JANNAZZO TAKES EARLY LEAD TO BEAT CELEBRON

New York, May 4.—[Special.]—Izzy Jannazzo, New York welterweight, sidetracked the titular aspirations of Billy Celebron of Rockford, Ill., tonight when he scored a decisive triumph in ten rounds.

Celebron, who was named by the New York state athletic commission as the No. 1 challenger for the 147 pound title now held by Barney Ross after his 10 round knockout triumph over Cleo Locatello two weeks ago, lost that status before he climbed into the ring because of his refusal to go 15 rounds with Jannazzo. He further lost standing by ineffective fighting against the east side boxer.

Jannazzo found his rival easy to hit in the early rounds and piled up a wide lead with a two-fisted attack to the head. Celebron withstood these punches well and finished stronger than his rival. Celebron clearly took the last two rounds, but this did not overcome Jannazzo's early advantage.

LEWIS THROWS STEINKE; EARNS CHANCE AT TITLE

New York, May 4.—(AP)—Ed [Strangler] Lewis returned to the wrestling spotlight tonight by defeating Hans Steinke of Germany with a series of headlocks in 18:08.

The victory may give the 45 year old Californian another shot at the world championship, as the New York state athletic commission is expected to order him to meet the winner of tomorrow night's contest between Dick Shikat and Ali Baba, who meet in Madison Square Garden with the title at stake.

PURPLE GOLFERS RALLY TO BEAT ILLINI, 14½-12½

Northwestern's golf team rallied to defeat Illinois, 14½ to 12½, at Kildeer yesterday. The Illini held a 5½ to 3½ lead at the close of the morning doubles matches, but the Wildcats piled up 11 points to 7 in the singles in the afternoon.

Today Northwestern will meet Louisiana State's golfers at North Shore. Among the Louisiana players are Paul Leslie, Southern intercollegiate champion, and Freddie Haas, finalist in the National intercollegiate last year and semi-finalist in the national amateur.

Four par rounds were shot in yesterday's match. Pete Wagner, Northwestern sophomore, shot a 37—34—71, one under par.

N. C. A. A. Has a New Plan on Eligibility

New York, May 4.—(AP)—Two years of junior college competition will be equivalent to one year in senior college varsity competition the National Collegiate Athletic association has ruled in its latest attempt to standardize eligibility regulations.

"Beginning with the academic year 1936-'37," says the latest N. C. A. A. bulletin, "competition in championship meets shall be limited to contestants who have had not more than three years of varsity competition. This action is taken with due appreciation of the fact that the junior college problem has not yet been solved, but with the idea that, in general, two years of participation in junior college would count as at least one year in a senior college."

This will not affect entries for the N. C. A. A. track and field meet at the University of Chicago June 19 and 20. This meet is a semi-final Olympic tryout.

The executive committee, which acted on the new eligibility code, was presided over by Maj. John L. Griffith of Chicago, president of the N. C. A. A. Others at the session included Romeyn Berry of Cornell, L. W. St. John of Ohio State, William J. Bingham of Harvard, Dean R. L. Sackett of Penn State, Dr. J. E. Raycroft of Princeton, and Prof. Philip O. Badger of New York university.

Also effective in 1936-'37 will be a regulation barring athletes representing any but active N. C. A. A. members from participating in the championship meets.

The report of Frank G. McCormick of Minnesota, chairman of the N. C. A. A. flanance committee, shows a total of $14,546 raised for the 1936 American Olympic fund up to April 13. This compares with a total of $31,701 raised for the same purpose in 1932. The net proceeds of the forthcoming N. C. A. A. track championships will go to the Olympic fund.

SCORE OF 98 WINS FIRST TRIBUNE CASTING EVENT

Charles Stuart Victor at Boat, Sports Show.

Charlie Stuart last night scored 98 to win the bait casting competition among members of the Lincoln Park Casting club in the opening event of THE TRIBUNE tournament, being held in conjunction with the National Boat and Sports show at Navy pier.

In winning the Lincoln park title, Stuart made perfect casts in eight of his 10 attempts, but was one foot outside the ring in two casts. His closest competition came from Walter Brewer, last years' Lincoln park winner, who had 97 points.

Two Tie for Third.

Joseph Nystrom Jr. and Clare Bryan tied for third with 94, but Bryan won the right to compete in the finals Saturday night by defeating Nystrom in the castoff. He scored a 95 against Nystrom.

More than 500 persons watched the contest.

Tonight the Illinois Casting club will occupy the casting platform with an intra-club event. The competition will start at 7:45.

Two Chicagoans watched the sky yesterday hoping for favorable conditions. They are Andy Gantner, young motor boat speed racer and Art Chester, aviator, who will unite in a motor boat refueling dash over Lake Michigan today, as a feature of the show.

Tomorrow Minnesota Day.

Tomorrow will be Minnesota day at the show. An exhibit arranged by S. V. Saxby, executive secretary of the Minnesota Arrowhead association, aided by several secretaries of commercial clubs in the region, including Dr. F. V. Williams of Deer River and Walter Stickler of Marcell, and which includes live beavers at work building their dams, two bear cubs, a tame deer, and other live and mounted wildlife in natural outdoor settings, will be shown.

Jocky Meade Is Back in Employ of Col. Bradley

Lexington, Ky., May 4.—[Special.]—Despite the fact that Jocky Don Meade was ruled off the turf some weeks ago, he is back in the employ of Col. E. R. Bradley, and is exercising his horses at the Idle Hour farm. Furthermore, he has been exercising Bradley's horses almost since the action of the Florida stewards in revoking his license.

The charge against Meade is that he accepted mounts and bet on other horses in the same race. The Florida stewards set a dictaphone trap for him and got a record of his betting transactions by phone with a Jersey City bookmaker.

Bradley has decided to fight for Meade's reinstatement in Florida, which, if obtained, would automatically restore him to good standing on all the tracks in the country.

"I have implicit faith in the honesty of Meade," Bradley said. "He has been guilty of foolish indiscretions, no sharp practices of any kind, and I intend to reopen the case and demand his reinstatement. Certainly he is working horses on my farm. Why shouldn't he?"

JURGES AND RAIN WORRY CUBS; PHIL GAME CALLED OFF

Grimm Takes Up Davis Matter Again.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

On the plea that the weather might be bad during the afternoon, the Cubs excused themselves from yesterday's scheduled game with the Phillies. A few harmless drops of rain pattered down on Wrigley Field around noon, so club officials, after weighing the probabilities of a slim gate against a double header crowd later in the season, decided they'd take the double header.

Besides the financial slant, there was the physical state of Bill Jurges to consider. The shortstop, who is invaluable as a defensive unit, is out with a bruised right arm. Every game that can be staved off during his convalescence is to the club's advantage. Jurges won't play in the final contest of the Phils series today. Neither will he appear in the two games with Boston, but Manager Charley Grimm has hopes of having the young man available for the St. Louis Cardinals Friday.

Davis Matter Up Again.

Among those who rode to the park in anticipation of seeing the scheduled show was Jerry P. Nugent, president of the Phillies. Upon seeing him, Manager Grimm remembered he had a little matter to discuss. The pair went into a huddle, and while there were no announcements, it was reported the Cub boss endeavored to talk the Philly executive into transferring one of his few choice chattels, Pitcher Curt Davis, to Chicago.

It is known that Nugent has no objection to disposing of Davis or any other of his employés. There's a hitch in the fact that he wants to deal for money and the Cubs prefer players as the consideration. Nugent will take a player or players—he doesn't care much about the number or quality—but there must be some cash included. He is reported to have an idea that $75,000 would be about right and that's double what the Cubs want to pay.

They Would Take Klein.

Just who could be offered to the Phils without weakening the Cubs is Manager Grimm's problem. They'd gladly take Chuck Klein along with the cash, but if Grimm dispenses with this fellow he may find himself in difficulties later on. Then again he isn't at all sure that Klein won't slip back to the sort of a feeble hitter he was last season. Grimm probably would prefer to let the Phillies pick a pair from Infielder Gene Lillard, Outfielders Tuck Stainback and Johnny Gill and Pitcher Clay Bryant.

If there are no discouraging rain drops today, the Cubs will employ Bill Lee in hopes of gaining an even break in two meetings with the Phillies. Gabby Hartnett, who rested Sunday except for a futile pinch hitting effort during the 12 inning defeat, will resume business at his old stand. Grimm did have an idea he might drop Augie Galan to sixth place in the batting order until the young man revives as a hitter, but the shift will be delayed. Orville Jorgens or Joe Bowman will pitch for the Phillies.

RedsMayPlace Derringer on Inactive List

Cincinnati, O., May 4.—(AP)—General Manager Larry S. MacPhail, of the Reds inferred today that "unless Paul Derringer gets in there and pitches like he's supposed to" the star pitcher would be dropped from the active list.

"We've got to get rid of two men by May 15,'" MacPhail said, "and one of them likely will be a pitcher."

MacPhail accused Derringer, who won 22 games last season, of insubordination. He said the "failure to slide home" incident that caused Manager Charles Dressen to order an indefinite suspension without pay on the pitcher Sunday was but one instance of Derringer's "disregard of Dressen's orders."

Saying "the entire matter is up to Dressen," MacPhail declined to discuss the possibility that Derringer would be traded. He said he had made no efforts to effect a trade and denied that a lengthy conference he held with Manager Bill Terry before today's Giant-Red game was for the purpose of discussing a possible deal involving the hurler.

Derringer avoided Crosley field this afternoon during the playing of the second game of the Giant series. He explained the "failure to slide" incident by saying he believed he had a better chance to score by coming in standing up than by trying to slide.

Dixie Walker Will Start in Center for Sox

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., May 4.—One of those Philadelphia deluges—rain in the night and sunshine at noon—kept the White Sox and the Athletics from playing a baseball game in private here this afternoon. So the teams will play the final here tomorrow, with Vernon Kennedy performing for the sixth place Chicagoans and Harry Kelley, surprising 30 year old rookie, presiding for the seventh place Athletics.

Despite Manager Jimmy Dykes' reluctance about changing a lineup that has accomplished two straight victories, Outfielder Dixie Walker, acquired from the New York Yankees, will start in center field tomorrow, with able little Mike Kreevich switching to left.

Pleased with Deal.

Walker is pleased with the deal which brought him from the contending Yankees to the indefinite White Sox. He wants to play every day, and will as long as he is physically able, whereas on the Yankees he had to sit around and wait for some misfortune to befall Ben Chapman, Myril Hoag, George Selkirk, Roy Johnson, or the rookie sensation, Joe Di Maggio.

The White Sox are in singularly high spirits considering the fact they recently endured an eight game losing streak which dumped them from first place to seventh in one week. Their ambition now is to return to Chicago a .500 ball club. To do this they have to take up a slack of three games in six games—tomorrow's, two in Washington, and three against the thoroughly collapsed St. Louis Browns.

At least half of the nine games the Sox have lost have been dropped through plain cases of jitters—on such items as a juggled double play possibility, a slightly wide toss, or similar upsetting misfortune.

There have been a few mental lapses in the matter of throwing to wrong bases or stupid base running, but all of us optimists feel that such matters have been ironed out and everything is going to be something dandy from now on.

Stick Around, Lou!

Manager Dykes, who lives here, visited Owner Comiskey and the team all afternoon and predicted a fine revival and completely ignored the fact that May 6 is the anniversary of last year's sensational White Sox ascendancy to first place in the American league.

Owner Comiskey has talked some of returning to Chicago tomorrow, but there has been a great clamor against the departure, many arguing that he is even a better mascot than the President.

Mr. Comiskey joined the team in the south after the Pirates had been kicking the boys around and they promptly won three from the Pirates and two from the Cubs to round out the exhibition season. And he watched them win four out of the first five games. Then he became careless and the losing streak got rolling. He rejoined and now the Sox have won two games. So they don't want him to go home.

UMPIRE MEETING TONIGHT.

The Chicago Park district will hold the first of a series of umpire meetings this evening at the Administration building in Burnham park.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BOLD VENTURE TALKS.

"NO the best cold didn't win the Derby," mocked Bold Venture early Sunday morning while the Wake still was in Louisville and before the racy looking chestnut had been shipped east from the scene of his Saturday triumph.

"Well, they paid off on Bold Venture, Harv, 43 smakers for 2, if you happened to follow my suggestion when you were around last week. That's actual money. You can't collect on 'ifs,' you know."

Bold Venture was in that same quizzical, quipping mood in which we had found him before the race. His equine chuckles emerged from the depths of a brown and white lounging robe, symbolizing the Schwartz stable colors. He was resting and sunning before the stable door, waiting for his valet to pack his luggage, then dress him for his hurried return trip.

◆

"Didn't I tell you what a good joke on these other wealthy owners it would be if the colt for which no one would make a satisfactory bid at Mr. Schwartz's dispersal sale last year captured the Derby? Here you see him."

With that, Bold Venture arched his neck, then bowed in pseudo seriousness. Immediately thereafter, playful again, he rose, clasped both forehoofs together, and waved them aloft to an imaginary audience after the manner of a prize fighter who has just received the referee's decision.

"Pretty tough race, wasn't it?" we suggested.

"Pretty tough for Brevity and those twelve others behind. From where I stood, it looked as if Bold Venture was doing very well," the colt continued, in the same vein.

◆

"Now, about this best colt business," said Bold Venture, returning to a subject which apparently irritated him somewhat, although he did not admit it. "Nothing is to be said about Granville. He lost his rider and, of course, had no chance. I think he's a great colt and I hope to meet him later.

"But aren't too many excuses being offered for Brevity? I admit he had mishaps. Yet after going a half mile I was only a notch ahead of him, although in better position to make a run. Hanford sent me on and to the front. Brevity either couldn't get through or waited too long. But I had to travel just as far as he did, either sooner or later.

"At the finish Brevity closed fast. He was on practically even terms for the last 50 yards. Most spectators thought he would reach me. But this old nozzle stayed in front. He wasn't going away at the end and I wasn't quitting. Now, isn't it just possible that the best colt did win, after all? I'll welcome the return engagement.

"Don't think I'm belittling Brevity. He ran a better, although different, race from what I'd expected. He's been a front runner in other races. This time he was forced by circumstances to come from behind and he did. He was a good sport and congratulated me. I said I hoped we'd meet again during the season.

"By the way, Harv, leaving Granville out of consideration because of his mishap, it didn't look as if there was much to be afraid of in the future except Brevity and me, did it? Of course, another day, another track, it might be different. That's what makes racing. But anyway, just don't be too sure the best colt didn't win the 1936 Derby. Here comes the valet now to pretty me up. I'll hope to return to Arlington this summer. Good wishes, old topper, from the best colt in the Derby."

What d'ya mean all tires are alike?...

PUT SOME TIRES ON MY CAR. ANY KIND WILL DO... THEY'RE ALL ALIKE

MANY MOTORISTS THINK SO, BUT LET ME TELL YOU WHY GOODRICH SILVERTOWNS ARE DIFFERENT

SILVERTOWNS ARE THE ONLY TIRES WITH THE LIFE-SAVER GOLDEN PLY—A SPECIAL HEAT-RESISTING COMPOUND THAT PROTECTS YOU FROM DANGEROUS HIGH-SPEED BLOW-OUTS

WELL I CERTAINLY DON'T WANT TO TAKE CHANCES. PUT ON A SET OF SILVERTOWNS

This tire may save your life

Today's high speeds generate terrific heat inside the tire. Rubber and fabric separate. A blister forms—and sooner or later—BANG! A blow-out! The Life-Saver Golden Ply built into every new Goodrich Silvertown resists heat. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Blisters don't form. And when you prevent the blister you prevent the high-speed blow-out. Why gamble? Silvertowns cost no more than other standard tires.

LindblomWins Fifth in Row; Austin Loses

Austin of the west section suffered its first loss and Lindblom won its fifth consecutive victory in the central section as play was resumed in the Chicago Public High School Baseball league yesterday.

Crane Tech went into a triple tie for second place with Kelvyn Park and Farragut by scoring a 7 to 4 victory over Austin. The three teams tied for second have won three and lost two games. Farragut defeated Kelvyn Park, 2 to 1, when Pitcher Tony Durrazin singled to drive in Pelc and Mosqwa.

Valentino and Kordles stood out for Crane. The former singled in the fourth and then doubled in the fifth inning to drive in two runs. Kordles also singled in the fifth, and hit a single in the sixth inning to score two of his teammates.

Senn, defending champion, won its second game in five starts in the north section by defeating Amundsen, 3 to 2. Two other north section games and one south section contest were postponed indefinitly.

Deerfield scored its first victory in the Suburban league by defeating Evanston, 4 to 2, on the Evanston diamond. Scores:

Appleton Is Handed First Defeat.

Washington, D. C., May 4.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians whipped Washington 6 to 3 today for their second straight victory over the Senators. The Indians pounded Pete Appleton for 13 hits.

Appleton, formerly a Cleveland hurler, held the Indians scoreless for five innings, but when they started hitting his offerings, they scored in every inning. It was Appleton's first defeat of the year.

Earl Averill, Cleveland center fielder, pulled a muscle in his right leg while going into second base after doubling in the sixth. The injury was not serious and he likely will not be out for more than a day or two.

YOU CAN'T SMOKE CLAIMS

Consider these facts about America's largest-selling cigar

When you read claims about cigars . . . of this and that kind of tobacco—just ask yourself these questions.

Why don't these cigars give me some real pleasure in smoking? Why all the rawness and harshness—the bitter, bitey taste—the waste of cigars thrown away half smoked? The answer is this—

GOOD TOBACCOS ARE NOT ENOUGH

All raw tobaccos—even the finest—contain bitter oils and other harsh elements. If these are not removed, they cause harshness, bitterness and bitey taste in cigars.

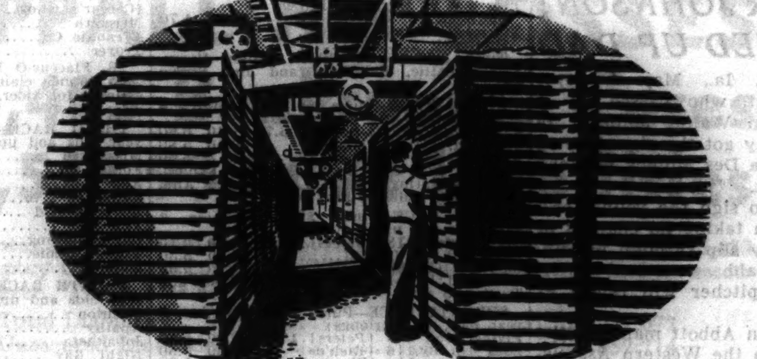
Ordinary methods either fail to take them out—or in doing so, destroy the pure, fine taste of the tobacco. In one case you get bitter, bitey cigars . . . in the other, you get cigars that are flat and insipid.

Bayuk solved this problem. It invented a process that not only removes the harsh, bitter elements from the tobacco, but improves the pure, real tobacco flavor. No other cigar manufacturer uses this process. It is exclusive to Bayuk.

DON'T LET CLAIMS FOOL YOU

Mere claims for a cigar are easy to make—but you can't smoke claims. The real test of a cigar is the pleasure it gives you. Does it please and satisfy your taste?

When you stop to think that PHILLIES pleases the tastes of more men than any other cigar in America—isn't it only reasonable to assume that PHILLIES will please you?



BAYUK'S EXCLUSIVE PROCESS

This picture shows an important unit in the exclusive Bayuk Process for extracting the bitter oils and other harsh elements from the fine tobaccos used in PHILLIES. This Process—covered by patent protection—enables you to enjoy the full flavor of fine tobacco without any bitter, bitey, harsh taste. Bayuk invites you to visit the factory and see this process in operation.

ROSS WILL SEE M'LARNIN FIGHT IN EAST FRIDAY

Title Bout Depends on the Way Victor Wins.

Barney Ross, welterweight boxing champion of the world, and co-Manager Sam Pian are making preparations to leave for New York Thursday to see the ten round elimination between Jimmy McLarnin and Tony Canzoneri at Madison Square Garden on the following day. Pian's partner, Art Winch, will not make the trip east. He intends to head for Hot Springs, Ark., before the week ends to undergo a series of bath treatments.

Ross may, and then again may not, defend his title against the winner of the McLarnin-Canzoneri encounter, in New York this summer.

Fight Depends on Bout Friday.

"Whether Ross appears in a title match in New York during the outdoor season depends on the outcome of the McLarnin-Canzoneri bout," a spokesman for the champion said. "If the victor wins in convincing manner then Barney likely will defend the crown against him. Otherwise he won't engage in a championship battle until November."

The November date is tentative and concerns an international match between Ross and Jack Carroll at Sydney or Melbourne, Australia.

Charley Lucas, Australian promoter, is in New York awaiting arrival of the champion's representative to continue negotiations.

Australia Guarantees $50,000.

Asked whether the New York commission wouldn't demand that Ross engage in a title bout before November the spokesman stated:

"Surely, the New York body wouldn't attempt to force Ross to fight in New York when he may be able to get a larger purse for boxing in Australia."

Barney has been guaranteed $50,000 to meet Carroll.

On the recommendation of George Getz, senior member of the Illinois athletic commission, his co-workers, Chairman Joe Triner and Commissioner Packey McFarland passed a rule refusing to allow any wrestler to perform unless he appears for a medical examination at the commission on the afternoon of his scheduled bout. The action was taken following the tardy appearance of Ed [Strangler] Lewis for an encounter at the Coliseum last Thursday. Lewis arrived at the arena shortly before 11 p. m.

◆

Sam Clapham yesterday forwarded $25 to the commission for renewal of his wrestling referee's license. . . . The California boxing board yesterday informed Illinois that it has concurred in the one year suspension recently levied on Art Sykes for "behavior unbecoming a boxer" before and after a contest here. . . . Zack Malkov, north side 180 pound wrestler, inactive for some time, will return to action at Arcadia gardens tomorrow against Mike Kilonis. F. M.

AWARD N. A. A. U. TRACK PROGRAM TO PRINCETON

New York, May 4.—(AP)—The 48th annual junior and senior National A. A. U. track and field meet will be held in Princeton's Palmer stadium July 3-4, a week before the final Olympic tryouts, Patrick J. Walsh, chairman of the A. A. U. track committee, announced today.

The announcement was the result of a mail vote conducted among the members of the national committee to decide between Princeton and Milwaukee, scene of the 1934 meet. Princeton was preferred, said Walsh, because of proximity to the site for the final Olympic trials as well as the fact the United States team sails July 15 from New York.

The last five National A. A. U. meets have been held in the west.

SIGNS SON OF WALTER JOHNSON; PASSED UP DAD

Des Moines, Ia., May 4.—(AP)—Spencer Abbott, who passed up a chance to sign Walter Johnson 29 years ago, today got the signature of Walter Jr. on a Des Moines Western league contract.

"I refused to sign the youngster's father, but I'm taking no chances of letting the boy slip through my fingers," Abbott said.

The young pitcher will report at once.

In 1907, when Abbott managed the Topeka club in the Western Association, he refused to sign a youngster who was burning up Idaho semi-pro baseball circles. The Idaho "marvel" turned out to be Walter Johnson, who became one of baseball's all-time pitching greats.

Young Johnson, a big right hander like his father, made the spring training trip with the Philadelphia Athletics.

U. S. CURTIS GOLF TEAM WORKS IN CHILLY WEATHER

GLENEAGLES, Scotland, May 4.—(AP)—Playing in a chilled temperature which they found not to their liking, America's golfers engaged in intra-squad foursome competition today for the Curtis cup matches which start Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, Tex., and Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., defeated Mrs. Maureen Orcutt Crews of Coral Gables, Fla., and Mrs. Leona Cheney of Santa Monica, Cal., one up in 18 holes.

Charlotte Glutting of South Orange, N. J., and Mrs. Opal Hill of Kansas City trimmed Mrs. Vare and Patty Berg, two and one.

Doris Chambers, captain of the British squad, and Mrs. Vare tomorrow will announce the pairings for the three foursome and six singles matches.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Ivy Maxwell, $13.20 straight, $4.60 place, $4.00 show; Empress Yvonne, $4.00 place, $3.20 show; Imelda, $4.40 show. Trained by E. Seremba. Went to post at 3:21. At post 6 minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving; place same.

IVY MAXWELL worked her way up steadily on the outside, responded well to hard urging and wore down EMPRESS YVONNE. The latter, well up from the start, overhauled the leaders in the last furlong, but was unable to withstand the winner. IMELDA improved her position steadily.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $600. Net value to winner, $435; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $15.

Start good from gate. Won easily; place driving.

WAX, cleverly ridden and always close up, responded quickly to urging in the final quarter and won with something in reserve. STIMULATOR, always prominent, weakened when challenged. HAGGERSON improved his position steadily and finished fast and gamely.

FIFTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $600. Net value to winner, $435; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $15.

At post 1 minute. Start good from gate. Won easily; place driving.

RENAISSANCE gained rapidly after a half mile, lost considerable ground racing wide into the stretch, but drew away to win with something to spare. ALWINTOUR, close up from the start, got to the front in the last furlong, but weakened. IRISH WAKE showed good speed for five furlongs, then tired.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse $600. Net value to winner, $435; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $15.

were most impressive in their drills yesterday afternoon at the C. Y. O. Lieut. Jack Lovell, who has been singing the praises of the boys who last year whipped the British, French, Japanese, and Russians stationed in China without losing a bout, was encouraged by the speed with which his charges stepped through their work. Lieut. Russell Emery is the team coach, and like most coaches, preferred not to make any predictions.

Observers yesterday, however, were freely predicting that Sergt. Louis Angelucci and Sergt. John Maguire would win places on the United States Olympic squad.

Most of the boxers will arrive today in time to take a final workout, although a few will not get here until tomorrow. From all sections of the country the boys are headed for Chicago with the idea that they are the ones who should go to Berlin.

Golden Glovers Bear Down.

No tournament in the history of amateur boxing ever has taken in as cosmopolitan group as this tournament. From college and university, from factory, playground, and from the ranks of unemployed, these boys have been selected because they already have established themselves as qualified to compete in a National Golden Gloves tournament.

The eight Golden Gloves champions are concerned with beating all rivals in order to prove that Golden Gloves is the most difficult road to ring success. Jackie Wilson, A. A. U. champion as well as king of the Golden Gloves flyweights, is supremely confident he will triumph again, his seventh tournament victory in nine months. Johnny Brown, for two years a Golden Gloves champion; Ted Kara of Cleveland, Milton Shivers of Detroit, Pete Lello of South Bend, Art Oliver, an intercity Golden Gloves winner; Chester Rutecki, a fighting fool, and Carl Vinciquerra of Creighton university are ready to follow Jackie's lead.

Shivers Faces Test.

Shivers has perhaps the most difficult path, if any route to a championship can be said to be more difficult than another. Shivers, 160 pound champion, some time or other will meet Jimmy Clark of Jamestown, N. Y., National A. A. U. champion. It was Clark who won five successive bouts in Cleveland by one round knockouts.

Shivers saw that tournament, although he did not compete. He believes he can lick Clark, and confidence, all coaches will tell you, is half of the battle.

Because of the caliber of the competitors, some of the best bouts will be held Thursday and Friday nights. In fact, all of the bouts will be far above the average. Prices are 55 cents, $1.10, and $1.65 and all seats at the International Amphitheater are reserved.

Tickets also are now being sold for the eight United States championships, which will be held May 20 at the Chicago Stadium. This tournament replaces the annual international Golden Gloves show. Prices are 55 cents, $1.10, $1.65, $2.20, and $3.30. Tickets may be purchased at The Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and in the lobby of Tribune Tower.

WISCONSIN TELLS BIG 10 FACULTY CONTROLS SPORT

Madison, Wis., May 4.—[Special.]—By unanimous vote, the University of Wisconsin faculty today adopted a resolution designed to satisfy a demand by the Western conference faculty committee that it declare itself in control of athletics.

The resolution, presented to the faculty by Dean George C. Sellery of the college of letters and science was approved without discussion at a meeting which lasted less than ten minutes.

Ultimatum Brings Action.

Behind today's action was the Big Ten's ultimatum to Wisconsin to provide assurance that its faculty was in control of athletic affairs or be suspended on July 1. The conference threat came as a climax to weeks of turmoil in the athletic department and the subsequent ouster of Dr. Clarence W. Spears and Dr. Walter E. Meanwell, head football coach and athletic director, respectively, by the board of regents. The faculty athletic board, which had recommended Meanwell's retention, immediately resigned when it was overridden.

Since that housecleaning in February a new faculty board has been selected and it has brought to Wisconsin a new athletic director and football coach, Harry Stuhldreher.

Text of Resolution.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas the faculty of the University of Wisconsin, acting under the authority conferred upon it by the regents, has reconstituted the athletic board of this institution and established its powers to the unanimous satisfaction of the faculty.

"Therefore, be it resolved by the faculty of the university, regularly assembled, this fourth day of May, 1936, that the faculty of the University of Wisconsin considers itself in control of the athletic affairs of this institution."

GENL. MOTORS, STANDARD OIL VOTE EXTRAS

Other Firms Report Higher Profits.

STOCK ADVANCES

San Francisco, Cal., May 4.—[Special.]—Stock of General Motors advanced $1.37 a share above the New York close on the San Francisco Stock exchange today, following announcement of an extra dividend of 75 cents a share.

Extra dividends were declared yesterday by the directors of the General Motors corporation and Standard Oil Company of Indiana, reflecting the improvement in earnings which occurred in the first quarter of this year.

General Motors voted an extra of 75 cents a share on common stock as well as the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share. Both dividends are payable June 12 to stock of record May 14. The motor company paid extras of 50 cents a share on Dec. 12 and 25 cents a share Sept. 12.

Standard of Indiana will pay an extra dividend of 15 cents a share in addition to the regular quarterly dividends of 25 cents a share, both of which are payable June 15 to stockholders of record May 15.

Earnings Best Since 1929.

For the first quarter of this year General Motors earnings, the highest for the period since 1929, were equal to $1.17 a share on common stock. Edward G. Seubert, president of Standard, said that the extra payment seemed justified in view of first quarter results.

Directors of Coca Cola company ordered the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on common stock and the usual semi-annual dividend of $1.50 a share on class A shares. Both dividends are payable July 1, to stock holders of record June 12.

The company reported first quarter earnings before reserve for taxes were $3,825,337, compared with $3,144,076 in the corresponding period of 1935. Net earnings after taxes and class A dividends applicable to the 4,000,000 shares of common stock totaled $2,660,067, compared with $2,106,332 for the first quarter of 1935.

International Nickel Pays More.

International Nickel Company of Canada declared a dividend of 30 cents a share on common stock, an increase of 5 cents over the 25 cents paid in the two preceding quarters. The dividend is the highest to be paid by International since its merger with Mond Nickel company and the organization of the present company in 1928.

Sterling Products company reported a net income of $2,706,646 for the first quarter, equal to $1.57 a share, compared with $2,529,383 or $1.46 a share in the same quarter of 1935.

Net income of $726,270 for the quarter was reported by the trustee of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company against $51,490 for the corresponding 1935 quarter. A reorganization plan for the company was approved by the federal court last March.

Addressograph-Multigraph corporation reported first quarter profit of $337,949, equal to 45 cents a share, compared with $241,432 on 32 cents a share for the corresponding 1935 quarter.

DIXIE-VORTEX PROFITS, SALES ABOVE LAST YEAR

Sales and profits of the Dixie-Vortex company increased during the first quarter of 1936 over 1935, R. C. Fenner, president, announced yesterday.

At the first official directors' meeting since the merger was effected between Vortex company of Chicago and the Individual Drinking Cup company of Easton, Pa., the following officers were elected:

Chairman, Hugh Moore, who was head of the Individual Cup; president, Fenner, who was president of Vortex Cup; vice presidents, W. J. Hamlin, S. J. Graham, who is also secretary; C. F. Dawson, J. E. McGiffert, and F. C. Smith, and treasurer, A. R. Lillierapp.

Shares of Dixie-Vortex were approved for listing on the Chicago Stock exchange several weeks ago. Directors yesterday decided to make application to list both the class A and common stocks on the New York Stock exchange. Economies resulting from the merger are not expected before next year, Fenner said.

Jewel Tea Reports Rise of 4.18 Per Cent in Sales

The Jewel Tea company yesterday reported sales for the four weeks ended April 18 totaled $1,497,018, compared with $1,436,962 in the corresponding period of 1935, a gain of 4.18 per cent. Sales for the first 16 weeks of 1936 aggregated $6,023,982, against $5,722,240 in the same 1935 period.

County Takes Final Step in Big Refunding

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

The last step in refunding and clearing up 352 millions in debts of political subdivisions in Chicago and Cook county was taken yesterday when commissioners of the forest preserve district of Cook county declared a refunding plan operative and sold an issue of $3,838,750 series B 4 percent refunding bonds to Stifel, Nicolaus & Co., and A. C. Allyn & Co. for a premium of $138,578.

This action clears up all default situations which developed as a result of the Cook county tax muddle, shrinking tax collections and the inroads of the depression.

Pay Off Defaulted Bonds.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to pay defaulted bonds. After payment of the $38,000 commission of the refunding agents, Stifel, Nicolaus & Co., and A. C. Allyn & Co., and other costs, the forest preserve district will have a profit of approximately $80,000 from the sale of the bonds, it was said.

The forest preserve district plan involved $12,515,750 of bonds of various maturities, including obligations in default and future maturities. Defaulted bonds will be taken care of with the proceeds from the bonds sold yesterday. Then $7,877,000 of series A refunding bonds were issued for exchange for future maturities. They bear 4 and 4½ per cent interest and mature Jan. 1, 1956. A legal technicality prevents the refunding of $800,000 of series J bonds before maturity. It is understood the legislature will be requested to alter the ordinance under which the bonds were issued to permit refunding of the entire amount.

Plan Well Supported.

The refunding agents reported that assents to the plan have been received from 90.5 per cent of holders of all bonds involved and that 98 per cent of holders of future maturities have given their assents.

The Stifel, Nicolaus-A. C. Allyn group is reoffering the $3,838,750 of series B 4 per cent bonds to pay off the defaulted bonds at 104.90 and accrued interest to yield 3.40 per cent. The bonds are dated Jan. 1, 1936, and are due Jan. 1, 1951, with redemption optionable in 1946.

Joseph Murphy, resident vice president of Stifel-Nicolaus, stated yesterday that completion of its refinancing plan puts the forest preserve district in excellent financial position. He said it will have about $200,000 in its treasury with which to meet early maturities of $7,877,000 of the series A bonds.

SCHOOL BOARD TO REDEEM LAST OF 1934 WARANTS

The Chicago board of education yesterday called for payment the last of its 1934 educational fund tax anticipation warants, according to an announcement by James B. McCahey, president. The total of the issue was $24,300,000, or 56 per cent of the levy of $43,000,000 set up in the 1934 budget. Those called for payment yesterday totaled $200,000 and were numbered E-12938 to E-13137.

The total amount of warants and principal in yesterday's call was $305,434 and included the following numbers: 1931 building fund, B-90368 to B-90650; 1933 building fund, B-13757 to B-13915; 1933 playground, P-2066 to P-2069; 1934 building fund, B-6409 to B-6485, and 1934 playground fund, P-304 to P-333.

EASTERN ROADS FILE CUT FARE SCHEDULES; PROMISE COURT FIGHT

Washington, D. C., May 4.—(AP)—A group of large eastern railroads late today filed sharply reduced passenger fares with the interstate commerce commission in conformity with a recent commission order, but reserved the right to challenge the legality of the new rates in the courts.

All major eastern carriers except the Baltimore and Ohio joined in the filing today. The B. & O. previously had filed the new charges in conformity with the commission ruling, and it will not be a party to any court test. The new rates, fixing fares of 3 cents a mile in Pullmans, and 2 cents a mile in coaches, are effective June 2.

In a letter accompanying the new schedules, the roads said that by their action in conforming to the I. C. C. ruling they did not "thereby admit, but on the contrary, deny, the validity of said order." It is the intention of the carriers, the letter continued, "to institute legal proceedings to test the validity" of the order.

BUSINESS PAPER PUBLISHERS RAP PENDING TAX BILL

Hot Springs, Va., May 4.—(AP)—Members of Associated Business Papers, Inc., criticized today the pending corporation tax bill as a handicap to recovery of the durable goods industries.

Publishers of 140 business papers urged immediate institution of an accurate and continuing census of unemployment by the government, urged administration and senate committees to investigate government expenditures, recommended a nonpartisan survey of federal revenue, and asked the "greatest possible efforts" to balance the national budget through "rigid economy."

New York Stocks Decline Nearly 4 Billion in April

New York, May 4.—(AP)—The New York Stock exchange today reported the value of all listed stocks declined to $47,774,402,524 as of May 1 from $51,667,867,515 on April 1. Total member net borrowings on collateral of $1,063,950,736 as of May 1, representing a ratio of 2.23 per cent of the market value of all listed stocks, compared with a ratio of 1.93 per cent as of April 1.

Senate Passes Bill to Broaden Trade Control

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Without a dissenting vote, the senate passed today the Wheeler bill to amend the federal trade commission act to give that body power to prevent "unfair or deceptive acts and practices in commerce," in addition to the authority over "unfair methods of competition" which it already possessed. The measure was sent to the house.

Senator Wheeler [Dem., Mont.] explained that the bill embodied recommendations of the commission based on twenty years of enforcement of the existing statute. He said the proposals would not add to the powers of the commission, but were intended to aid it in carrying out its existing powers.

Complaint Not Required.

Questioned by Senator Copeland [Dem., N. Y.] the Montana senator explained that the prime purpose of the pending measure was to recognize the commission's responsibility to safeguard the public interest by enabling it to initiate proceedings against a firm guilty of deception without waiting for a complaint from a competitor alleging that he had suffered monetary damages.

Senator Robinson [Dem., Ark.] said the commission has thus far been regarded as a court to regulate disputes between competitors, and that the new measure would establish it as a guardian of the public interest in matters of deceptive advertising or other trade practices.

Senator Austin [Rep., Vt.] questioned the language appearing several times in the bill to the effect that the commission's findings of fact would be, if supported by evidence, conclusive. He asked whether this was intended in any way to restrict the power of the courts in upholding citizens' constitutional rights.

Confers Broad Powers.

Upon Wheeler's assurance that these phrases or any other provisions of the bill were not intended and could not nullify constitutional rights, Austin said he had no objection to the measure.

The bill would confer on the commission broad powers of investigation into "the organization, business conduct, business practice, and business management of any person, partnership or corporation engaged in commerce, excepting banks, and common carriers subject to the act to regulate commerce."

SEC URGES LAW TO CONTROL CITY BOND DEFAULTS

Calls for Regulation of Committees.

Washington, D. C., May 4. — (AP) — Peering into what is called a "dark corner of finance," the Securities and Exchange commission today urged regulation of protective committees formed when municipalities default on their bonds.

W. O. DOUGLAS.
A. P. photo.]

The SEC made the first of several reports to congress on committees which organize holders of defaulted bonds to obtain payments from the issuer. Commissioner William O. Douglas, who directed the study, characterized the situation as "extremely chaotic and uncontroled."

From one to two billion dollars of the approximately 20 billions dollars outstanding municipal indebtedness is in default, the report said, and the holders of defaulted issues "for practical purposes have lost all control" of their bonds.

Charges Bankers in Control.

"The banking houses which sold the municipal securities have a virtual monopoly over protective committees and their control over the lists of names and addresses of the scattered bondholders," the report said.

The commission recommended extension of the provisions of the bankrupty acts which make it easier for municipalities to go into bankruptcy, with amendments to make such action speedier. In addition "regulation of the personnel and practices of protective committees in connection with municipal debt readjustments is absolutely essential," it said.

"Control of the municipal protective committees by these banking houses means not only that they have control over the profitable business patronage which committees dispense but also that they are in an effective position to protect themselves against any fraud claims which the bondholders may have against them," it declared.

Raps Fees and Expenses.

Such "patronage" consists of lawyers' fees, fees to banks with which bonds are deposited, and other expenses. The report said the need for regulation is "amply" supported by: "The many instances cited of committees whose members have interests adverse to those of the investors whom they purport to represent; of committees whose mode of organization and subsequent activities are calculated to discourage the investigation and prosecution of possible cause of action, of committees which have profited extensively from their trusts by voting themselves payments for expenses, compensation, and otherwise; of committees which have distributed patronage to attorneys, depositaries, secretaries, and others with a liberal hand; and of committees which, if not actively injuring investors, have found it possible, thanks to the useful iron clad deposit agreement to do nothing for bondholders while milking their securities."

The commission approved the recent extension of the Sumner-Willcox act until Jan. 1, 1940. This act is known as sections 78-80 of the federal bankruptcy law, the constitutionality of which is being tested.

Bankers Believe SEC Seeks to Rule Public Financing

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Yesterday's action of the Securities and Exchange commission in urging congress to place under SEC supervision the activities of protective committees representing holders of defaulted municipal bonds deepened La Salle street's conviction that the New Dealers in Washington are deliberately scheming to jump state lines and get tighter control of the purse strings of states, cities, counties and other local governments.

Suspicion that the burocrats in Washington were itching to get their fingers on the finances of local political bodies was voiced quietly in La Salle street last month when the senate passed senate bill 4023 extending SEC's supervision over unlisted securities. This bill is pending before the house interstate commerce committee. It consists of amendments to the original securities and exchange act passed in 1934.

Landis Avoids Explanation.

Chicago municipal bond experts who had spotted the implications of the peculiarly worded senate bill sought to obtain an explanation of the administration's purpose from Chairman James M. Landis of the SEC when he was here last week to address the Economic club of Chicago. Landis is reported to have been noncommittal, explaining that the new powers sought from congress by the SEC were merely to strengthen its ability to deal with actual fraud in municipal finance.

The wording of senate bill 4023, however, is so comprehensive that it presumably would put the SEC's broad thumb squarely on any financing operation by a state, city, county, village, or other political subdivision.

See Politics in Measure.

The provision which La Salle street believes contains the most political dynamite is that which denies the privilege of using the mails to any person effecting a transaction in any unlisted security [except commercial paper and bankers' acceptances] in contravention of "such rules or legislation as the commission may describe as necessary or appropriate to public interest to prevent fraud, concealment, unfair discrimination and manipulation or deceptive practices or otherwise to insure to investors protection comparable to that provided by and under authority of this title in the case of national securities exchanges."

The phrase "or otherwise" has fostered the growing suspicion that the SEC wants to regulate the financing of local governments for purposes other than the mere elimination of fraud.

May Control Municipal Bonds.

That this provision of the bill includes municipal bonds is deduced from the fact that although previous securities legislation always specifically exempted state and municipal securities, the bill now pending exempts only commercial paper and bankers' acceptances, and says nothing whatever about exempting municipal securities.

Yesterday's move by the SEC in urging congress to put committees representing the holders of defaulted state and municipal bonds under the supervision of the SEC, if successful, would expand the authority of the federal agency even further.

In asking for these enlarged powers over the financing of local governments Commissioner William O. Douglas argued that they were necessary for the better protection of investors, but in the same report he urged congress to make it easier for municipalities to go into bankruptcy.

Fear Burocratic Powers.

La Salle street municipal bond experts point out that the political potentialities of these moves to place the financing of local governments in the hands of a Washington bureau are tremendous. To the extent that cities, villages, and states would have to get Washington approval for their financing operations the party in power in Washington would be able to apply pressure to local politicians.

When the original New Deal securities laws were passed in 1933 and 1934 the bonds of local governments were exempted from the provisions of the legislation, largely because of the belief that inclusion of such securities would be an invasion by the federal government of rights guaranteed to the states by the constitution. The New Deal, however, already has a finger on the finances of many local governments through loans granted to them by the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

STEEL OUTPUT ESTIMATE FOR WEEK REDUCED

The American Iron and Steel Institute yesterday estimated that operations in the steel industry this week will be about 70.1 per cent of plant capacity. This is a decline of 1.1 points from a week ago, and compares with 64.5 per cent a month ago and 42.2 per cent a year ago.

The recession from the preceding week will be the first dip in the operating rate since the week ended March 23 when production receded 6.3 points to 53.7 per cent, because of floods in the east.

This will be the third interruption in the upward trend of operations since the beginning of the year.

Glidden Firm Will Acquire Certain-Teed Paint Business

New York, May 4.—[Special.]—The Glidden company will acquire on May 9 the paint and varnish business of Certain-Teed Products corporation, it was announced today. The latter company is discontinuing that division of its business. No plants or accounts receivable were purchased. The transaction involved merely the paint and varnish inventories and some movable equipment of nominal value. Production and sales of Certain-Teed paint will be carried on by several divisions of the Glidden plants.

COAL INDUSTRY IDLES AWAITING DECISION ON GUFFEY 'NRA' ACT

Uncertainty about the fate of the Guffey "little NRA" coal act, which was placed in the hands of the United States Supreme court on March 11, is holding back the customary spring reductions in coal prices, causing the industry to stagnate, according to reports.

"Both the producers and retailers are just sitting back, waiting for that opinion," said Andrew T. Murphy, editor of the trade magazine Black Diamond. "Apparently the only possible change in prices will come about if the court says the act is unconstitutional, and in that event the change would be downward.

"In the meantime neither retailers nor the large steam coal users are buying, and, consequently, the mine operators are not producing more than a minimum."

Anthracite Conference on Wages Still Deadlocked

New York, May 4.—(AP)—The joint conference of anthracite operators and representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, seeking to write a new contract for the industry, adjourned at 11:15 o'clock tonight until 11 a. m. tomorrow morning still deadlocked.

GOLD POURS OUT OF FRANCE WITH 'LEFT' ELECTION

Big Shipments Sent to U. S. and Britain.

New York, May 4.—[Special.]—The victory of the parties of the "left" in Sunday's French election lent fresh speed to the flight from the franc today and a total of $19,540,000 gold was engaged in Paris for shipment here, making $59,655,000 gold lost by France to the United States in the last ten days.

In the local foreign exchange market dealings in French exchange continued relatively small and the rate remained pegged so that it fell no lower than 6.58⅜ cents, the gold shipping price, and closed unchanged at 6.58½ cents. The pressure of funds to escape France was revealed, however, in a rise of 2 cents in the pound sterling to $4.96. This jump in sterling reflected the flow of funds from Paris to London and the lowering by the British exchange equalization fund of the price at which it was supporting the franc.

France Loses Billion Francs.

Estimates from abroad placed the French gold loss today at about 1,000,000,000 francs, roughly $66,300,000, of which less than a third came to this country, the remainder going chiefly to London. The London gold price was calculated to represent a premium over the Paris price of about 11 pence an ounce, one of the largest premiums ever shown, and reports from Paris said that foreign currency and gold coins were in demand at rising premiums, American eagles being sought at a rate equal to 26.10 francs to the gold dollar against the old parity of less than 25 francs.

In the face of the rush of funds from Paris to London the British equalization fund, which has steadfastly supported the franc at about 75 francs to the pound sterling, allowed the franc to drop and then repegged it at about 75⅜ francs to the pound.

Pound Rises Against Dollar.

With the operation of gold shipments supporting the franc here at 6.58⅜ cents, the pound sterling was forced up in terms of the dollar, reaching the highest price since April 1 at $4.96⅜. The pound closed at $4.95⅞ for a net gain of 1⅞ cents.

A further sign of the growing distrust of the franc was provided by the lengthening of forward discounts on that and other gold bloc currencies. The discount on 90 day franc futures rose to 36½ points, an increase of 9¼ points over the discount last Saturday. This development was expected in view of the tension of the current situation.

Gold Coming from India.

In addition to the gold engaged today in France the New York Federal Reserve bank announced the engagement of $1,000,000 gold in India and $562,000 gold in England, making a total of $21,102,000 gold engaged in the day. The gold reported as engaged in England was thought to be Indian gold reshipped in London because the London gold price, after giving effect to the rise in sterling was too high today to permit the profitable purchase of gold there for shipment here.

So urgent was the demand for the pound sterling in London that the gold price in London declined from 140 shillings 10 pence Saturday to 140 shillings 4 pence yesterday, equivalent to about $34.83 an ounce.

STOCKS SURVIVE EARLY SETBACK; FINISH HIGHER

List Advances Steadily in Quiet Trading.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 4.—After suffering a relapse at the opening that threatened to have serious consequences on prices, the stock market recovered slowly, but steadily, today and the final bell not only found most losses wiped out, but in many cases replaced by gains.

A week-end accumulation of selling orders was poured into the list immediately after the signal was given to start operations. Breaks of 2 points and more were registered in a number of leading issues with the heavy selling on the Paris bourse frightening many traders into liquidating.

With the start of the second hour the list steadied, and although trading slowed down considerably prices improved with no setbacks for the remainder of the session.

Trading Unusually Dull.

Trading was duller than it has been in a month with total sales for the session coming to approximately 1,070,000 shares.

Confidence mounted as the session progressed, but the failure of the Supreme court to hand down a decision in the Guffey coal case had a dampening effect on speculators. The speculative fraternity believes the longer the court takes to hand down a ruling the brighter the chances become of the New Deal avoiding another slap at its meddling with private business.

Other restraining influences were developments in the foreign situation, particularly the victory of the radicals in France and its threat to the franc, and the news of Ethiopia's collapse. In the latter case financial circles believed it might result in a new European armament race.

Rubber Shares Lead.

Rubber shares were the strong feature of the session, the about face of the market being attributed in some quarters to the action of some companies in boosting the price of tires. U. S. Rubber common was especially active and 1⅝ higher at the close. The preference shares of the company gained almost 4 points. Goodyear and Goodrich each climbed a point or more.

Farm implement shares rallied easily, recording gains of 1 to 3 points. J. I. Case, Deere, International Harvester, and Caterpillar joined in the advance. Sugar shares were also good, with Holly, Fajardo and American Sugar picking up at least a point.

Steel Group Is Irregular.

U. S. Steel showed little strength, losing a major fraction. Bethlehem went up slightly, but Continental dipped to a new low on a few transactions.

Chrysler and General Motors wiped out early losses to close fractionally higher. Copper shares lacked luster, with Anaconda and Kennecott finding the rough start too much of a handicap to make any headway.

American Telephone, Westinghouse, du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Johns Manville, International Telephone, and Douglas Aircraft finished fractions to 2 points and more higher after being down 1 to 3 points at the opening.

FEDERAL DEFICIT MAY FALL BELOW EARLY ESTIMATE

Accuracy of Morgenthau Figure Questioned.

Washington, D. C., May 4.—(AP)—Washington today indulged in speculation upon the eventual accuracy of the treasury's budget estimates, with Secretary Morgenthau's recent prediction of a $5,966,000,000 deficit for the current fiscal year the center of study.

Ten months of the current fiscal year have elapsed and the totals of receipts and expenditures for that period show a monthly rate of income and outgo, which, if continued until July 1 would result in a deficit well below the figure cited by the treasury secretary.

In addition, Morgenthau's statement, made last week before the senate finance committee, presupposed full payment of the bonus by July 1, while latest estimates assert that on a basis of applications received and progress made in preparations for payment 71 to 72 per cent of the expected total would be paid out this fiscal year.

Estimate Made In December.

At the treasury it was revealed that the cabinet officer's figures were based upon estimates of receipts and expenditures made in December. These he revised to allow for loss of revenue from processing taxes and the cost of the bonus.

The following table gives a skeletonized view of the situation:

[Figures in dollars.]

	Dec. Budget estimates.	Morgenthau estimates.	Actual for ten months.
Receipts—	4,410,793,946	3,915,693,946	3,330,624,000
Expenditures—	7,645,301,338	9,882,301,338	5,967,997,515
Deficit—	3,234,507,392	5,966,607,392	2,637,372,665

Deducting from the estimated total to be spent in the full fiscal year the $5,967,997,515 spent in ten months, $3,914,303,823 would remain to be spent in the next two months. Subtracting from the latter the expected cost of the bonus, $2,237,000,000, would leave $1,677,303,823 to be spent in the usual ways in two months.

May Fall 400 Million Short.

For the ten months, however, the average monthly outgo has been $596,799,751 over a four year period. Thus, barring an increased rate of spending—reported at the treasury today to be not in contemplation—the year's total expenditures conceivably might fall $400,000,000 below those on which the secretary's estimate was based.

The first day of May, the last publicly reported by the treasury, saw total expenditures cross the six billion mark, reaching $6,017,524,000.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Mass., May 4.—Buyers for mills and top makers were keeping in close touch with the wool market but they were not inclined to take over any larger quantities of wool than the amount they needed for current operations. Prices quoted on medium grade bright fleece wools offered from the middle west appeared firm despite reports of increased accumulations in the country. Combing and clothing ⅜ and ¼ blood grades packed together were offered mostly 34@35c in the grease delivered east.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, May 4.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw sugar was easier today and the spot price declined 3 points. A sale was confirmed of 10,000 bags of Porto Ricos for May shipment at 3.72c per lb, the first of nearby sugar in over a month. Despite the easiness of the spot market, futures held generally firm on scattered trade and commission house buying which found comparatively little for sale. Trading was extremely light. Final prices were 1 to 2 points net higher with the day's business amounting to only 2,200 tons.

Tire Prices Advance 10 Pct. as Material Costs Increase

Automobile tire prices to dealers in Chicago advanced an average of 10 per cent yesterday, causing in most cases a similar boost in prices to tire consumers. This action was in line with the announcement from Akron, O., that leading tire manufacturers had agreed over the weekend to remove the emergency discounts allowed dealers for more than a year.

On the average the increases will amount to 11 per cent on first line tires, 13 per cent on second line, 5½ per cent on third line and 7½ per cent on fourth line.

Manufacturers at Akron making the announcement included Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, B. F. Goodrich company, Firestone Tire and Rubber company, General Tire and Rubber company, Mohawk Rubber company, Seiberling Rubber company, India Tire and Rubber company, and Falls Rubber company.

Material Costs Higher.

The reasons given for the increase were the higher cost of raw materials, especially crude rubber, and the rising cost of labor.

Firestone and Goodrich companies both announced wage increases yesterday after the price boost was made known. Firestone officials said that 10,000 factory workers would receive from 5 to 10 per cent more pay, and 12,000 employés of Goodrich will participate in the boost, the size of which was not disclosed.

The Goodyear office here said there is no actual increase in prices compared with those existing before the emergency discounts went into effect, except in the second line tires. Formerly this grade sold at 77½ per cent of the first line price, but now is 90 per cent of the first grade.

Price Boost Varies.

Increases on Firestone tires here vary somewhat from the average boosts. The advance on first line tires amounts to 10 per cent, on second line 5 per cent, and third line 2 per cent. The boost on Goodrich tires in Chicago amounts to 10 per cent on the first and second lines and 5 per cent on third, while the advance on the fourth line has not been determined yet.

The Chicago office of Dunlop Tire and Rubber company had received no official notice of a price boost in their lines. Also, neither Montgomery Ward & Co., nor Sears, Roebuck & Co., had taken any action in this direction, although Ward is considering an advance.

SHIP SUBSIDY COMPROMISE BILL INTRODUCED

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—A compromise ship subsidy bill, intended to break the existing deadlock which threatens to prevent any legislative action on that subject at the present session of congress, was introduced in the senate today by Senator Guffey.

The proposal was offered as a substitute for the bill which passed the house last summer. It would set up a maritime commission to supervise the American merchant marine and would terminate existing ocean mail contracts by March 31, 1937.

By that time arrangements would be concluded with shipping companies whereby government aid would be extended to them in the form of construction differential subsidies to enable them to build new vessels in American shipyards, and operating differential subsidies to enable them to operate their vessels in foreign trade in competition with foreign lines.

SOCONY, TEXAS COMPLETE BARCO CONCESSION DEAL

New York, May 4.—[Special.]—Formal announcement was made today that Socony-Vacuum Oil company, Inc., and Texas corporation have completed arrangements for purchase of the stock of the South American Gulf Oil company. The South American company holds 79 per cent of the stock of the Colombian Petroleum company, which owns the so-called "Barco concession," representing the oil rights in about 500,000 acres in northeastern Colombia.

The following today were elected directors of South American Gulf Oil: From Socony-Vacuum, J. A. Brown, A. F. Corwin, H. F. Sheets, and G. V. Holton; from Texas corporation, T. Rieber, W. S. S. Rodgers, H. T. Klein, and R. Ogarrio.

RECORD STEEL SHIPMENT SENT BY BARGE LINE

Rock Island, Ill., May 4.—[Special.]—Using the Hennepin canal to clip 475 miles off the ordinary water route, the towboat Harold Grant arrived at the International Harvester company's dock this morning with 243 tons of steel which left Chicago Tuesday morning.

The trip was made from Chicago to Rock Island via the Illinois waterway and Hennepin canal. The ordinary route is down Illinois waterway to Grafton, and thence up the Mississippi river.

This was the largest shipment of steel for manufacturing purposes to pass through the canal. Speed of the tow through the canal was four miles an hour.

UTILITY'S TAXES EQUAL $8.72 FOR EACH CUSTOMER

United Gas Improvement Head Tells of Burden.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 4.—[Special.]—The tax burden of the United Gas Improvement company and its utility subsidiaries rose to $11,800,000 in 1935, equivalent to $8.72 for each customer served, against $7.51 for each customer in the previous year, John E. Zimmermann, president, told stockholders at the annual meeting of the company today.

"This startling increase in taxes," said Zimmermann, "wiped out half the additional revenues accruing from the largest sale of electricity in the history of the company, and, coupled with a cut in rates that pared revenues $2,400,000, resulted in a decrease in earnings from the 1934 figure.

"If President Roosevelt is reëlected I don't know what will become of us."

Flails Senate Investigation.

Discussing the cost to the company of preparing reports for various governmental agencies, Zimmermann disclosed that the company had been compelled to answer 668 separate questions from the Black senatorial utility investigating committee.

"This Black questionnaire, of an inquisitorial and in fact outrageous character, contained 12,398 words," he said. "It went to unbelievable extremes."

Zimmermann read to the stockholders what he described as "a few samples of the Black questions." One inquiring about the pens, pencils and paper used to write protest letters against the passage of the Wheeler-Rayburn bill amused the meeting. Zimmermann outlined the company's part in the legal fight to have constitutionality of the act passed upon by the Supreme court.

Explains Effect of Act.

If the act is declared constitutional, Zimmermann said, the company would have to get rid of some of its subsidiaries. He mentioned in particular the Connecticut Light and Power company.

For the first quarter of 1936 the company, Zimmermann told the meeting, showed combined net earnings of $6,886,344, or 28.7 cents a share on the common stock, compared with $6,998,418 in the first three months of 1935, or 29.9 cents a share.

Replying to the question of a stockholder, Zimmermann said he thought the present dividend of 25 cents quarterly on the common stock would be maintained for the remainder of the year. He declined to venture an opinion regarding the more distant future.

DEPOSITS AND LOANS OF RESERVE MEMBER BANKS SHOW GAINS

The federal reserve board reported yesterday that member banks' deposits increased 53 million dollars, and loans and investments expanded 12 million dollars in the week ended April 29.

Banks of the 99 cities outside of Chicago and New York accounted for the expansion of loans and investments with a net gain of 26 millions, due to increases of 13 millions in commercial loans and 15 millions in securities other than government bonds. Total loans and investments increased 10 millions in New York City and decreased 24 millions in Chicago.

Demand deposits decreased 15 millions in the 99 cities, contrasting with increases of 58 and 28 millions in New York and Chicago, respectively. The 99 cities had a jump of 31 millions in time deposits, the same as the New York increase, while no change was reported in Chicago. Interbank deposits declined 81 millions—56 millions in the 99 cities.

Following are comparisons of the principal assets and liabilities of the reporting member banks in 101 leading cities as at the close of business Wednesday:

ROADS INDICATE NEW UPTURN IN FREIGHT TRAFIC

A further gain in railroad freight trafic was recorded last week, judging from reports of car loadings on the Santa Fé, the Milwaukee road, and the Baltimore & Ohio. The three roads showed moderate advances over the previous week and increases of 2,429 to 10,657 cars over a year ago.

This is the sixth consecutive weekly increase in trafic and may bring loadings for the nation to a new peak for the year. The number of cars handled on the three lines follow:

	Wk. Ended May 2.	Prev. Week.	Year Ago.
Santa Fé	25,631	25,468	23,202

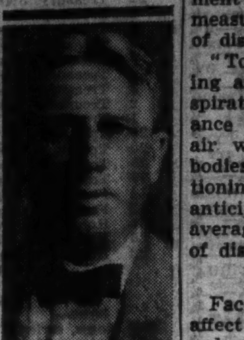
Air Conditioning Conference Opened for Benefit of Public

BY WILLIAM BROMAGE.

Urbana, Ill., May 4.—[Special.]—A two day conference on air-conditioning, called for the purpose of making available to the layman a nontechnical discussion of all phases of this relatively new industry, was opened at the University of Illinois today. More than 200 engineers and interested citizens from various parts of the state are attending the sessions.



DEAN ENGER.

M. L. Enger, dean of the college of engineering, said at the opening of the conference that the meeting is the first nontechnical discussion sponsored by the university. The object of the conference, he explained, was to inform the public as to latest developments in the industry with particular emphasis on the installations in homes and small commercial establishments.

Forecast Longer Life Span.

Improved health and longer life as a result of the broader use of air-conditioning, were forecast by F. C. Houghten, director of the research laboratory of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers at Pittsburgh, Pa.

"During the last fifty years," Houghten said, "the average span of human life has been greatly increased largely through the development and dissemination of knowledge concerning the sanitary control of our food and water supplies. This improvement in health has resulted in great measure from control or elimination of diseases of the digestive tract.

"Today we find that the outstanding ailments are diseases of the respiratory tract. With similar vigilance applied to the control of the air we breathe and in which our bodies are bathed, through air-conditioning, it is not too optimistic to anticipate a similar increase in the average span of life through control of diseases of the respiratory tract."

Lists Seven Factors.

Factors of air-conditioning which affect comfort and health, in the order of importance in which the speaker listed them are: Temperature, moisture content, motion, dust content, freedom from odors, freedom from other harmful vapors, gasses or bacteria.

Rebreathing of carbon dioxide generated by persons in a closed room, Houghton said, is not now considered so unhealthful as it once was. Old ideas that thirty cubic feet of air per person must be brought every minute from out of doors into a school or other place housing people have changed, he said, for today ten to fifteen cubic feet is considered sufficient.

Dr. William H. Welker of the university's staf declared that research work carried on by the university in the last five years proves that pollen grains, the source of hay fever and pollen asthma, can be effectively removed from the air by filtration. He said that by using two sets of filters it is possible to remove more than 99 per cent of the pollen.

1,000 FURNITURE BUYERS ATTEND SPRING MARKET

Approximately 1,000 buyers registered yesterday for the first day of the midseason furniture market and officials predicted that both attendance and sales volume would far exceed that of the same market period last year. Although considered more of a commercial market and less of a style market than the two major markets in January and July, manufacturers have put new lines of merchandise on display and have broached a few new styles.

The market will continue through Saturday at the American Furniture Mart and at the Merchandise Mart and is open to buyers and dealers only.

Most of the new styles follow the trend toward 18th century and other period furniture. Several manufacturers have introduced modern occasional pieces of wood with steel supports. The steel carries a deep wood veneer applied by a hotpressing process, having the desired appearance of wood and the trimness of design made possible by steel.

New York Telephone Co. Shows Gain in Stations

New York, May 4.—(AP)—The New York Telephone company today reported a station gain in April of 10,817, compared with a gain of 4,386 in the same month last year. In April, 1934, the gain was 4,474, against a loss of 14,575 in April, 1933. For the first four months of 1936 the company reported a gain of 32,871 station, compared with a gain of 6,489 in the comparable period last year.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 4.—(AP)—Flour was unchanged today. Carload lots of family patents were $6.50@6.70 a barrel in 98 pound cotton sacks. Shipments, 21,083 brls. Pure bran was $16.00@16.50, and standard middlings, $18.00@18.50 per ton.

PREMIUM EXHIBITION IS OPENED; $800,000 BUSINESS FIRST DAY

The sixth annual exposition of the National Premium Buyers and of the Premium Advertising Association of America opened yesterday in the Palmer house. Secretary Howard W. Dunk of the advertising association said the premium business last year amounted to more than $400,000,000 and this year will be close to $600,000,000.

Even undertakers and automobile finance companies are now giving premiums, said Secretary Dunk, in describing the expansion of the business of using premiums to promote business. During the first day of the show, he said, orders for $800,000 worth of premiums were taken. One order was placed for $100,000 teakettles.

Under the NRA the practice of giving premiums with certain kinds of merchandise was forbidden, but the premium dealers have since staged a recovery, according to the secretary. Giving an article of some kind to the purchaser of another article stimulates business, he asserted, and the practice moves mass products.

The 138 exhibitors in the Palmer house are to close their display Friday evening. The public is not admitted, officials explained, because the premium dealers deal only with mechants. Today the premium dealers will conduct a round table conference.

PAYMENT RATE ON 13,000 HOLC LOANS BOOSTED

Deadline Ends June 12 on 'Moratorium' Accounts.

BY AL CHASE.

Approximately 13 per cent, or 13,000 of the 100,000 borrowers of Home Owners Loan corporation mortgage money in Illinois and Wisconsin, will be called on next month to double their payments on loans, according to Charles Collins, regional director.

These are what are known as "moratorium accounts" and represent families who borrowed through the HOLC prior to April 27, 1934, and were able to take advantage of a provision which allowed them to pay only interest payments for two years.

Only Interest Paid.

This "moratorium ruling" gave them the privilege of making no payments on the principal up to June 12, 1936. Yesterday the advance notice that on that date the home owner must pay both interest and an instalment on the principal was mailed out to the 13,000 borrowers.

For the loans on which principal payments have not been paid a twelve year amortization period is provided, Collins said. As a result of the two year moratorium the monthly principal payments will be stepped up to take care of the total, he said.

The political difficulty into which the first Illinois HOLC régime became involved, and which delayed the HOLC getting into production, resulted in this state and Wisconsin getting fewer of the "moratorium accounts" than other parts of the country.

Illinois Total Small.

"Illinois has only 13 per cent of its total in 'moratorium accounts', compared with 17½ per cent for the whole country," said Collins. "Approximately 175,000 borrowers of the 1,000,000 HOLC loans made throughout the nation are 'moratorium accounts'."

Collins said the HOLC would continue to be lenient with "moratorium accounts" when it was found that the borrowers still unemployed but have paid interest on their loans. On the other hand, he intimated that if it was found that borowers had taken advantage of the moratorium when they could have paid both interest and principal payments the HOLC would "crack down."

Season's First Ore Boat Reaches Lake Erie Port

Cleveland, O., May 4.—(AP)—The first ore to reach a Lake Erie port this year arrived here today when the steamer Pam Schneider of the Cleveland-Cliffs fleet tied up with a load of 5,100 tons. The boat was among the advance guard that led an assault on the ice fields of St. Mary's river and Whitefish point late last week.

New York, May 4.—Trading in bonds failed to show much confidence as the market started the new week. While the prices for high grade corporation issues were not materially changed, this apparently was so because offerings were lacking and not on account of any eager demand.

Treasury issues again fell into a trading rut, with prices for the most part under the closing level of last week. Principal activity occurred in the longer term treasury and guaranteed obligations. Prices were 4-32 of a point higher to 7-32ds lower.

Italian Bonds Firmer.

Italian government, city, and corporation bonds were firmer as the army in Ethiopia took the final steps toward the capture of Addis Ababa. French 7s moved to a new low. Great Consolidated Power of Japan 6½s, Oslo Gas 5s, Oriental Development 6s, and Norwegian 4½s dropped through their previous lows for 1936.

Polish bonds continued to stage a small recovery. Argentine liens were steady.

Corporate Issues Narrow.

Only in rare instances did corporate issues break out of the fractional range. Colorado Industrial 5s moved 3 points higher, Alleghany stamped 5s gained a point, Lorillard 7s improved 1⅜ and Pennsylvania-Dixie 6s gained 2¼. International Mercantile Marine 6s dropped 2½ points, Lehigh Valley 4½s were ⅞ lower, Nickel Plate 5½s lost 1, and Baltimore & Ohio first 5s eased ⅝.

Sales of $7,429,000, par value, were the smallest for a five hour session since last Sept. 23, and compared with $7,915,000 last Friday. The turnover in the government list was around $500,000.

A. E. Staley Manufacturing.

Investors' Guide: Will you kindly send me information on A. E. Staley Manufacturing 7 per cent preferred? —B. J.

Answer: A. E. Staley Manufacturing company operates a business originally established in 1897. It manufactures corn products of many types, such as starches, glucose, syrup, gluten, and feeds. The company plants are in Decatur, Ill.

Sales in 1935 aggregated $15,606,000, as compared with $14,796,000 in 1934. The expansion in gross sales, however, was accompanied by higher costs and a sharp decline in gross and net profits. Gross profit was $2,829,000, against $3,883,000 in 1934. Net income was $292,000, equal to $5.84 a share on the preferred or $1.16 short of preferred dividend requirements. Net income for 1934 was $948,000, equal to $14.39 a share on the common stock.

Earnings have varied widely over a period of years. Gross profit and sales figures for 1933 and 1932 are not available. For the seven years prior to 1932 gross revenue ranged from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000. Net income for 1933 was $1,518,000, equal to $55.63 per common share, as compared with $464,000, or $5.37 a share in 1932. In 1931 a loss of $146,000 was reported against a profit of $429,000 in 1930. The 1929 profit was $2,105,000.

Capitalization consists of 50,000 shares of 7 per cent $100 par preferred stock and 42,004 shares [giving effect to 100 per cent stock dividend in February, 1934] of $100 par common stock.

Early in 1936 the company offered through a banking syndicate a $4,000,000 issue of first mortgage 4 per cent bonds, due 1946, and called for redemption its entire $3,629,500 of outstanding 6 per cent first mortgage bonds of 1942. The operation effects an annual savings of $50,000 in interest.

Dividends have occasionally been in arrears on the preferred stock, but are currently up to date. No cash dividends were paid on the common stock after Jan. 1, 1931, until Feb. 28, 1935, when $5 a share was distributed. Nothing has been paid since on the common.

The preferred stock is medium grade. The common is speculative.

RFC MAY FIGHT BANK STOCK TAX FOR TWO YEARS

Relies on Exemption Act Passed by Congress.

Indication that the court may be called upon to decide whether preferred bank stocks held by the Reconstruction Finance corporation in 1934 and 1935 may be taxed was given yesterday when Milton Standish, manager of the Chicago office of the RFC, asserted that exemption for 1934 and 1935 holdings was provided in legislation passed by congress in March. Standish said no formal notification of an assessment has been received.

"The act states specifically that it is retroactive," he said in reference to the legislation especially designed to exempt these holdings after the United States Supreme court early this year unanimously ruled that under existing law states had the right to tax national bank shares owned by the RFC.

Assessor Promises Tax Levy.

Last Sunday Assessor Clark announced his intention of taxing such holdings for 1934 and 1935, acting on an opinion by Assistant State's Attorney Hayden N. Bell that the exemption act, which became law on March 20, was not retroactive, and consequently affects only years following passage of the legislation.

It is estimated that the RFC would be subject to taxes of approximately $2,000,000 on its holdings. The back levy for 1934 amounts to $1,193,655 on the basis of $7.12 per $100 on the amount taxable. The 1935 tax rate has not been determined yet.

Bank Stocks Facing Assessment.

Preferred stocks on which the 1934 assessments may be made are as follows: Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, $50,000,000, of which $334 is not held by the RFC; First National of Chicago, $25,000,000; First National of Evanston, $150,000; Lawndale National, $350,000, and La Grange National, $50,000.

In addition, the 1935 list includes the following: American National, $750,000; National Builders, $250,000; First National of Cicero, $150,000; District National, $100,000; Milwaukee Avenue National, $50,000; Citizens National of Chicago Heights, $50,000; First National of Lemont, $25,000, and First National of Dolton, $25,000.

Pass Bill Continuing 3½% Land, Bank Interest Rate

Washington, D. C., May 4.—(AP)—A bill continuing the 3½ per cent interest rate on federal land banks loans for two more years was passed by the house today and sent to the senate. The 1935 farm credit act provided that after next July 1 the rate be increased from 3½ to 4 per cent.

COTTON UNSETTLED; PRICES ARE IRREGULAR AT CLOSE

Cotton markets were somewhat unsettled yesterday with the old crop months showing fair strength due to trade buying and short covering. The new crop months were easy on southern selling and hedging. Closing trades in Chicago were unchanged to 5 points lower, while other markets were 1 point higher to 8 points lower. [A point is equal to 1-100 cent]. Spot cotton closed unchanged to 5 points lower with New Orleans at 11.35 cents; Houston, 11.40 cents; Galveston, 11.30 cents and New York, 11.60 cents per pound. Prices follow:

2 LITTLE WORDS, 'THE' AND 'A,' WIN RELEASE OF SIX

Quash Charges Against Trustees Officials.

The difference between two little words, "the" and "a," resulted in the dismissal yesterday by Federal Judge William H. Holly of indictments charging six officials of the $30,000,000 Trustees System Service corporation and subsidiaries with using the mails to defraud.

Defendants were John C. Corcoran, Dennis J. Corcoran, his brother; Jacob G. Born, Frank J. Gibbons, Frank P. Nicholson and Leland J. Medinah.

The investigation of the indictment was started in March, 1935, under a grand jury impaneled by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. The March grand jury was unable to complete the investigation and Federal Judge John P. Barnes extended the same grand jury to April and on April 10 the indictments were returned.

Law Proves Point.

Attorney Gerald T. Wiley pointed out to Judge Holly yesterday that the law reads that "the" senior District court judge or "the" impaneling judge may extend a grand jury but not "a" District court judge. He showed that Judge Barnes was neither the senior District court judge nor the judge who originally impaneled the grand jury.

"You are to be congratulated for your astuteness," Judge Holly said to Wiley in dismissing the indictments.

Edmond Sullivan, assistant United States district attorney, announced that he will take the case before the grand jury again to seek similar indictments.

Call Firm Involved.

The government charged that the Trustees System defendants sold obligations of the enterprise to the public and paid preferred stock dividends out of the proceeds when there was no surplus or earnings out of which dividends could legitimately be paid.

It also contended that the defendants called the enterprise, organized to make small loans, a prosperous and going business when it actually was insolvent. The government said that the defendants in statements of conditions described the company as prosperous and desirable when liabilities were greatly in excess of assets.

HIDE FUTURES.

NEW YORK, May 4.—[Special.]—Scattered liquidation developed in hide futures, and prices declined 6 to 10 points, with the June delivery selling within a fraction of the lowest level of the season. Sales were 51 lots or 2,040,000 lbs. Closing bids in cents per pound: June, 10.96c; September, 11.25c; December, 11.58c; March, 11.89c.

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST

The official forecast for today and tomorrow and yesterday's table of records follow:

INDIANA: Generally fair and warmer Tuesday and Wednesday.

ACCOUNTANT'S REPORT

The Committee of The Chicago Community Trust:

We have made a general audit of the accounts of the several funds created, and held by Trustees, for the benefit of The Chicago Community Trust for the year ended December 31, 1935.

In accordance with the established practice of the committee, no consideration has been given to the difference between the book value and present market value of real estate and securities owned. The books are kept on a cash receipts and disbursements basis.

In our opinion, based on the foregoing, the above statements as to principal and income are correct.

WHEAT ERASES EARLY LOSS AND CLOSES HIGHER

Profit Taking Depresses Corn Futures.

Grain markets fluctuated in an erratic manner yesterday as speculative interest dropped to small proportions. Uneasiness over the French elections, report of further rains in southwestern Kansas and easiness in Liverpool caused a recession of a cent a bushel in wheat, and fractional declines in other grains during early trading.

Toward the close short covering developed in wheat and a rally of nearly 2 cents from the low point followed, with final prices representing net gains of ¼ to 1⅛ cents, the latter on September futures.

Buying of wheat futures against sales in other markets provided a substantial part of the day's trading. Rather liberal selling appeared which was attributed to eastern speculators, but the offerings were readily absorbed.

Crop Reports Pessimistic.

Numerous pessimistic comments on the Texas and Oklahoma wheat crops were received during the day. It was intimated that rain came too late to save the grain over a wide area, and a belief was expressed that heavy abandonment has occurred. The effect of the unfavorable reports was partly offset by returns from Illinois and Indiana indicating considerable improvement in prospects during the last ten days.

Winnipeg wheat futures sold at a new low for the season early but rallied to close practically unchanged. Kansas City gained ⅜ to ⅞ cent, while Minneapolis was ⅜ cent lower to 1⅛ cents higher. Liverpool was affected by better weather reports from North America and eased fractionally despite a higher exchange rate.

A decrease of 1,598,000 bushels was reported in the domestic visible supply of wheat which was about in line with expectations. Wheat stocks now total 37,669,000 bushels, the smallest for this season since 1926.

Closing Prices Compared.

Closing prices on the July delivery of leading grains, with comparisons, follow:

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Wk. ago.
Wheat	$0.87⅛	$0.86¼	$0.86⅝
Corn	.60⅝	.60⅝	.60¼
Oats	.25⅞	.26	.26¼
Rye	.50⅝	.50½	.51¼

Little interest was shown in corn and other grains. Profit taking had a depressing effect on the yellow cereal, which closed fractionally lower. Oats, rye, and barley prices were practically unchanged.

Deferred deliveries of rye sold at a new low for the season early but recovered the loss later in sympathy with the rally in wheat.

CASH GRAIN

Official receipts of grain at Chicago Monday: Wheat, 16 cars; corn, 193 cars; oats, 79 cars; rye, 64 cars; barley, 46 cars; soy beans, 16 cars. Range of cash grain prices per bushel in leading markets:

TRADE IN LIVE STOCK DRAGS AS PRICES DECLINE

Hogs Weaken Despite Drop in Receipts.

Trading in live stock was extremely slow yesterday and prices moved lower. Fewer hogs were marketed, the run totaling 16,000 head, compared with 19,517 the previous Monday, but packers were bearish due to the slump in fresh pork the last few days and buying orders were below normal for the opening of the week.

Scattered sales of selected lights and light butchers were made at steady prices at the start of trading, but weakness persisted and a big share of the other classes of hogs finished 5 to 10 cents lower.

Both the top for the day and the average price declined 5 cents to $10.55 and $10.15, respectively.

Wholesale Pork Price Erratic.

Wholesale fresh pork was erratic yesterday, closing $1 lower to $1 higher. In view of this break the cutout value of hogs for packers is not as favorable as it was a week ago, most plants showing cutting losses of 75 cents to $1.50 per hog.

Only a few closely sorted 160 to 210 pound new crop stock reached the $10.55 top, most of the 225 to 300 pound butchers bringing $9.70 to $10.40, and 325 to 400 pound averages $9.40 to $9.65.

The outlet for steers was narrow but prices were steady to 25 cents lower. Total arrivals were smaller at 13,000, against 15,250 a week ago, but the bulk consisted of beef steers and the beef tonnage was heavier than receipt figures indicated.

Top Steers Bring $9.75.

Top steers averaging 1,352 pounds sold at $9.75, the bulk going at $7.50 to $9. Demand favored cheaper grades again and these held steady. The run of cows and hefers was light and prices mostly steady.

Steady to strong prices were paid for canners and cutters. Bulls sold strong to slightly higher and calves mostly steady.

Lambs were steady, top wool stock from the old crop selling up to $12.10, averaging 79 pounds. Freshly shorn stock reached $10.25 and Colorado springers sold at $12.25, the latter averaging 67 pounds. Old ewes without fleece brought $5.75 and 110 pound wool yearling ewes sold at $8.

Partnerships and Investments.

A NEW KIND OF LOAN!

If you have $5,000 to $10,000 available for a properly secured loan investment, and would like to put it into something that is a constant, active money-maker with royalty and profit possibilities far beyond the usual interest return, we offer you something most unusual. It is entirely unlike the ordinary type of investment and the business has had an amazing growth during the last two years. Investor's principal is amortized and returned monthly from inception of investment with financial statements monthly from nationally known accountants. Royalty also payable monthly. No brokers or agents—deal direct with the principals. Will stand the test of the most searching investigation, and you have full opportunity to see the plan operate before making any decision. Address C F 562, Tribune.

OH...ER...PLEASE SUH...THE ELEVATOR'S OUT OF ORDER YOU'LL HAVE TO USE THE STAIRWAY, SUH.
OUT OF ORDER
5-5
THAT'S FUNNY?! THE ELEVATOR'S NEVER BEEN OUT OF ORDER BEFORE.
Y-Y-YES SUH! K-KINDA CHILLY THIS M-M-MAWNIN' SUH—ISN'T IT?
OKAY, PAT, COME ON!
MY GUESS, TRACY, IS THAT MANLIS HAS MOVED SINCE LAST TIME WE WERE HERE.
I DON'T THINK SO, PAT. MANLIS PROBABLY FEELS PRETTY SURE OF HIMSELF, HAVING BEEN RELEASED ONCE BEFORE ON THIS CASE. OVERCONFIDENCE HAS TRAPPED MORE THAN ONE GANGSTER.

Compare These Rates

This bank is one of the few companies in the country which will lend on the same rates and terms regardless of whether you borrow on a new car or a used one, and, so far as insurance is concerned, Fire and Theft is all we require, although we strongly urge that every car owner insure himself against collision hazards. In all cases we want the insurance to be placed with the borrower's own broker or agent. Premiums may be added to the loan account, the broker paid in full, and the borrower settles up with us in monthly installments.
